'52 FAIR OVER, OFFICIALS CALL IT 'OUR BEST'

Success Attributed To Co-operation And Team Work

The 1952 Ouachita Valley Fair is over after one of the most successful seasons in the history of the institution. Tired exhibitors and showmen will start packing their wares today and evacuating from the fairgrounds after one week of activity.

The fair closed last night.

Fair officials, another tired segment of the fair, called this year's operation "one of the smoothest and successful yet."

John Birdsong, manager of the fair, said "We were better organized this year than ever before." He said the precisioned, pre-opening organization, in his opinion, was responsible for the smooth manner in which they operated.

"Of course we had a number of problems, but a few problems are always to be expected in a fair," Birdsong said.

Tom Hicks, chairman of the Fair Association board, commended the "team work and hard work" by fair workers. "We have all worked together and, I would say, made this our best fair ever," Hicks said.

Hicks complimented the "splendid cooperation" of extension service personnel, home demonstration clubs and four-H Club leaders. "These are the people who stir fair interest at the grass roots," Hicks said.

Birdsong also tossed out some bouquets. He commended the "great majority of high-type exhibitors" at the fair this year. He also complimented the press, radio and the many local civic organizations who helped put the fair over.

"As for the judges—we always have a good bunch of judges, and this year was no exception," according to the fair manager.

Birdsong pointed out one sour note of the fair. He said the judges had questioned the authenticity of some of the exhibits. Some exhibits were questioned in that they apparently were not composed of home-produced items. Some exhibitors were suspected of buying commercial items and placing them on exhibit.

Premium payments in such cases are being withheld pending investigation, Birdsong said.

Over half of the home demonstration club booths this year were blue ribbon winners. Clubs whose booths took blue ribbons are: Lamkin, Liberty, Cadeville, Linwil, Colony, Progressive, Woodlawn, Cypress and Cheniere.

NAVY TO PROBE N. O. AIR CRASH

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11 (AP)—A Navy plane crash which killed five Marine air reservists and injured another was headed today for an investigation by a Navy board.

The men died here late yesterday when the twin-engined plane plunged into a concrete drainage canal less than two miles from the New Orleans Naval Air Station, home base of the plane.

The dead were identified by the Navy as:

Lt. Col. George Forbes Bastian, 51, New Orleans, commanding officer of the Marine Air Detachment at the air station.

The injured survivor, PFC Jessie Lee Hebert, 18, Box 12, Lacassine, received a fractured leg. His condition today was described as fair.

Bastian and Veach had flown to Lake Charles to pick up the other four men and bring them here for week end training.

The plane tore down telephone wires, ripped shingles from a nearby residence and then crashed into the canal.

Bastian was survived by his mother, widow and a brother, Royal Bastian Jr., of New Orleans. Veach was survived by his widow and two children, George Wallace Veach, 5, and Alicia Ann Veach, 7.

Corbello was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Corbello. His body was scheduled to be sent to Lake Charles.

Ardoin was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ardus Ardoin of Lacassine. His body will be sent to Welsh.

Long's only survivor was listed as his father, William Cleveland Long Sr. The body will be sent to Thibodaux.

Veach's body will be sent to Natchitoches.

HELD AS DECOY

Margaret McDonald, 17-year-old blonde, is being held in New York in $20,000 bail on assault and robbery charges. Police said she was used as a gun-carrying decoy for young holdup gangsters who terrorized hotels, bars and supermarkets in New York in recent weeks. Members of the gang have been picked up, and the girl was the last taken. (AP Wirephoto)

INTREPID FIGHTER TO BE HONORED

Hobbs Post Will Devote Thursday Meeting To Hunt's Memory

Rodney J. Hobbs Post No. 1809, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will devote their Thursday night meeting held in the post home, Sixth and Oak streets, to a memorial service to their late commander, C. A. Hunt, who also served some years ago as department commander.

A program of excellent nature has been prepared, and members of many posts in the state, that were largely founded through efforts of Mr. Hunt, will be invited to attend.

It is also expected that some department officers from Baton Rouge and elsewhere will be present at the exercises.

Mr. Hunt devoted his lifework the last few years to the aiding of Veterans of Foreign Wars, and he was unflinching and ever self-sacrificing in advancing the interests of men who served their country and for their families.

The address of elegy will be by Will Harvey Todd, one of the many great admirers of Mr. Hunt.

Advance indications are that there will be as many as 200 who will attend and tributes such as are so richly deserved by this gallant fighter, will be paid by many present who were beneficiaries of this unusual soldier.

Woman Hit By Runaway Automobile

A mother, carrying her eight-month-old child in her arms, was struck by a runaway car about noon yesterday in the 200 block of North Second, Monroe police said.

Police reported that Fredessa Shamlin, 31, Negro, driver of the runaway car, parked on the incline apparently without engaging her emergency brake.

The automobile rolled downhill, brushing the arm of Mrs. Emma Steele, Alburquerque, N. Mex. and halting when it hit a motor scooter parked in front of Drouet's Drug Store.

BEATEN BODIES FOUND STUFFED IN AUTO TRUNK

Grocer, Three Children Slain In California Robbery

CHESTER, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP) — The bodies of a grocer and three small children who went with him on his weekly trip to the bank were found today in the trunk of his car—beaten to death by a robber who apparently knew them.

A fourth child, covered with blood, was reported in fair condition but suffering from extreme shock.

Missing was the $7,100 which the grocer had obtained Friday afternoon from the bank at Westwood, 11 miles east of Chester.

The abandoned car and its trunkload of bodies was found in the woods six miles east of this Northeast California mountain community.

The dead were Gard Young, 43, his daughters, Judy, 6, Jean, 7, and a neighbor boy, Michael Faile, 4.

Young, who operated a good-sized super-market, made a regular week-end trip to the Westwood bank to get money to cash loggers' paychecks.

Sheriff M. H. Schooler of Plumas County said this was generally known throughout the region.

On Friday he took the children along for the ride, while his wife stayed home with the Young's 5-months-old son.

Young was last seen buying candy for the children across the street from the bank a little after 3 p.m. Then the happy little party vanished.

Although without a suspect, Sheriff Schooler theorized that whoever committed the crime was known to the children, otherwise there would have been little motive in killing them as well as Young.

When Young failed to return to Chester by 6 p.m., the sheriffs of Plumas and adjoining Lassen County immediately organized a search. One hundred loggers and business men were deputized and spent the night in a ground search in the high mountain forrests along the Plumas-Lassen county line.

Jes' Ramblin'

An example of a fine, upright, well-balanced Christian manhood was well illustrated in the life of J. A. Biedenharn, popularly known as "Uncle Joe," whose substantial career ended here Thursday morning.

From a humble start, actuated by the principles of the Golden Rule, he made progress from the outset. No one could accuse him of anything but upright conduct in all his dealings and the results indicated that a man can be a success without infringing on the rights of others in his own upward progress.

He was ever a stalwart, upstanding citizen and ever championed the cause of right in politics and civic affairs.

63 Per Cent Of Community Chest Quota Is Obtained

A report announcing that 63 per cent of the $75,000 quota of the 1952-53 Twin City Community Chest drive had been accomplished was revealed Saturday by David C. Silverstein, drive chairman.

The campaign closed officially Saturday, but chest headquarters in the Virginia Hotel will remain open until the full quota is reached.

A special committee was formed at a meeting last week to see that the remaining cards and donations, which are still out, are reported and brought to headquarters. Silverstein will head the committee along with C. D. McAdams, co-chairman, and all division chairmen.

Silverstein declared that the work of the chest must be completed in the near future but that the percentage to date was encouraging due to the fact that it far exeeded last year's per cent at the end of the campaign.

A report from Brown Industries late Saturday showed that the drive was progressing rapidly at the large plants and should be completed by the first of the week. The total of these large concerns is expected to lift the percentage close to the final point.

The two leaders issued an urgent appeal to all workers to complete their assignments in the near future so as to write off the $75,000.

"This money is urgently needed by the 11 agencies which receive their funds from the Community Chest," said Silverstein, "and if they are to continue the courageous work which they perform the funds will have to be furnished through the chest.

"Let's all work hard this week; the 11 agencies are depending upon us," stated the chairman.

Eisenhower - Stevenson Duel Slated in Texas

AUSTIN, Texas., Oct. 11 (AP)—Both Adlai Stevenson and Dwight D. Eisenhower are coming to Texas next week to see who can draw the fastest and shoot the straightest to get Texas' 24 doubtful but vital electoral votes.

It's the first time in history that presidential candidates of both major parties have ranged the Lone Star state in an election year.

Almost always before, the Democrats ignored Texas because it was considered in the bag. The Republicans usually shrugged it off as hopelessly welded into the Solid South.

But this year the spectacle of around 1½ million voters teetering uncertainly between the parties gave both the Republican and Democratic high commands the political fidgets. They are gambling that their candidates in person can give those voters just enough shove in the right direction to count them in Nov. 4.

Eisenhower gets here first. Oct. 14 he will be at Houston, Waco, Lubbock, San Antonio; Oct. 15 at Ft. Worth and Dallas. Stevenson begins working on the Texas voters at Ft. Worth Oct. 17, visits Dallas the same day, goes to San Antonio and Houston Oct. 18.

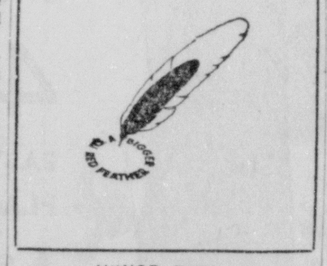

Both vice-presidential candidates will help. Richard Nixon has been to Texas once and is coming back late in October. John Sparkman will speak at Texarkana Oct. 27. Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) will speak for Stevenson at Waco Oct. 14 while Eisenhower is campaigning elsewhere in Texas.

Many political professionals believe what Eisenhower and Stevenson say and do here will be the decisive factor in Texas, and maybe elect a president.

Presidential candidates have campaigned before in Texas, but never those of both major parties. Texas has never gone any way but Democratic except in 1928 when Herbert Hoover edged Al Smith.

This year's bare-knuckled brawling between topflight leaders of two Democratic factions brings to a showdown the conflict between conservative Democrats who started a revolt against Franklin D. Roosevelt as long ago as 1940 and a liberal branch of the party which upheld the New Deal and fair Deal.

This year Gov. Allan Shivers controls the conservative state organization openly allied with the GOP in rebellion against the national party leadership. Shivers, the Democratic nominee for re-election as governor, is working shoulder-to-shoulder for Eisenhower with Jack Porter, the Republican national committeeman. A close sympathizer is Atty. Gen. Price Daniel, the unopposed Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate.

LOYALTY DINNER BEING PLANNED

1st Baptist Church In West Monroe Arranging Drive For Expansion

Fred E. Bennett, general campaign chairman of the First Baptist Church $250,000 Stewardship building fund, has announced that the building fund committee has sent invitations to the 2,500 members for a loyalty dinner to be held in the exhibit building at the Ouachita Valley fair grounds at 7 p.m., Wednesday.

Mr. Bennett said all members will be dinner guests of the committee, and there will be no solicitation of funds on this occasion. In addition to the invitation, containing a return reservation card, the hostess committee of 93 women will call every family to ascertain the number in each family accepting.

It is planned to make this the largest church family dinner gathering ever held in the state.

The members will dine together, sing together, and pray together for the success of the $250,000 campaign.

The building fund committee announced that families attending the loyalty dinner will be presented with a beautiful illustrated brochure, entitled: First Baptist Church Stewardship Building Program, 1952 — "To the Glory of God We Build," and song sheets for the entire gathering to join in the singing.

The guest speaker will be Dr. R. O. Cawker, pastor, Highland Baptist Church, Shreveport, La. Fred E. Bennett, general campaign chairman, will preside, and Rev. Jaroy Weber, present pastor, will speak. The other speakers will be: Carey Holmes, chairman of the canvass committee; Delma Carter, chairman of arrangements committee; Bruce B. Humphries, chairman of teams committee; H. A. Gentry, chairman of the special gifts committee; and Webb Goodlett, chairman of the board of deacons.

Melvin A. Bradley, minister of education, will lead the congregation in the Lord's Prayer. J. R. Jones, minister of music, will lead the congregation in singing, with Miss Doris Brown, pianist.

The First Baptist Church was organized 30 years ago in 1922. Today, the first Baptist Church serves 900 families, consisting of approximately 2,500 members, spread over Monroe and West Monroe.

The new sanctuary will be located between the present sanctuary and the educational building at 500 Pine Street, West Monroe. Campaign headquarters are located in the recreation room of the church, telephone 2-3964.

Those to be present at the speaker's table at the loyalty dinner are: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jones, Rev. and Mrs. Jaroy Weber, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Colvin, Mr. and Mrs. Delma Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bennett, Rev. R. O. Cawker, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Goodlett, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Humble, Miss Lallage Feazel, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mrs. W. C. Feazel, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tucker, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Parker.

Burglar Gives Up On Safe, Takes Register

A burglar who entered Tyner-Petrus Feed and Seed company Friday night with plans to rob the safe, carried away only an empty cash register, West Monroe Police Chief Jeff Caldwell, said last night.

Entrance to the building was gained through a north window, evidence showed.

Apparently an amateur used a hammer to knock off the knob of the safe but was unable to open it, he continued.

After his futile attempt to open the safe, the culprit is believed to have picked up the clash register without knowing it was empty. The money previously in it had been transferred to the safe.

The burglar escaped through the north door. No arrest had been made late last night.

Truman Says Ike New Kind Of Isolationist

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — President Truman brought his whistle - stop campaign to a climax tonight with a charge that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has adopted "a new kind of isolationism."

"The old isolationism as to say that the United States was surrounded by an ocean moat that no enemy could cross," Truman said. "The new approach is to say: Yes, we are part of the world—but not if it costs more money."

Truman also said that Eisenhower — in endorsing Republican is switching from charges of "creeping socialism" to a "me-too" approach on issues at home.

Moreover, said Truman, Eisen-Sens. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Jenner of Indiana for re-election —has fallen too far "to scramble back to a position of decency and honor."

Truman summed up his coast-to-coast campaign by firing all his guns at the Republicans. At the same time he enlarged on what he had said about Eisenhower to date.

He said at a Columbus Day Citiens Committee dinner, that the Republicans are people who, in 1492, would have insisted that the world is flat.

"In fact, Im not altogether certain what their views may be on that subject, even now," the President said.

Accusing Eisenhower of adopting "a new kind of isolationism," the President said the general has begun to catch on to the technique of "me-tooism."

He said the Repubicans always find themselves in hot water in an election year.

"They start the race in these election campaigns under the banner of 'down with socialism.'

"And then, in the home stretch, they switch to the slogan of 'me too,'" Truman said.

"The switch for this year is already under way," he said.

FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

Only Three New Blazes Reported In Hardwood Areas

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 11 (AP) —High forest fire danger continued over Louisiana today, but the total number of blazes was kept down to 70 in the pinelands and only three new outbreaks were reported in the Delta hardwood area.

State Forester James Mixon said that "everything is now under control and we are breathing a little easy for the first time in three weeks."

He said that since the drouth precipitated the present forest fire emergency three weeks ago, about 800 fires have burned over an estimated 50,000 acres in Louisiana.

Fires continued to endanger farm houses last night and today. A 200-acre fire came so close to one house in Richland Parish that the dirt furrow from a fire fighter's plow fell underneath the house. By plowing a fire line close to the house and backfiring from the line, tractor operators were able to have three farm houses in the Richland fire near Rayville.

MORE COMMIES MOVING UP FOR NEW ONSLAUGHT

SEOUL, Sunday, Oct. 12 (AP)—Tenacious South Korean infantrymen clung desperately to a knob 50 yards below the top of White Mountain early today while blazing Allied artillery fire pounded the battle - chewed crest into a seeming no-man's land.

Allied artillery spotters reported no trace of some 1,500 Chinese Communists who stormed the key Western Front peak late Saturday.

The battle for White Horse, which overlooks the Allied bastion of Chorwon and dominates the road hub to Seoul, raged into its sixth day today. The fight is considered far from over.

More Chinese troops were reported grouping to the north where the Reds have massed some 16,000 reinforcements. Valiant South Korean Ninth Division troops have pledged to keep White Horse "at all costs."

By midnight Saturday the peak had changed hands 23 times in 125 hours of non-stop battle.

An Allied officer on the front reported the Chinese might have a few troops remaining on the peak but none could be detected.

The hill top itself was a "mass of ruin," he said. Former entrenchments and bunkers "no longer exist."

Allied big guns opened up with an intense barrage on White Horse and Red springboard positions to the north just after midnight.

"We're really giving them hell now with our artillery," said a U. S. Officer with the South Koreans.

Elsewhere on the Western Front, U. S. Second Infantry Division

COMMUNICATION ARTS EXPOSITOR

PINEVILLE, Oct. 11. (Special)—The Louisiana Council of Teachers of English meets at La. College Saturday, October 18. Guest speaker will be Dr. Lennox Grey of Columbia University and president of the national council. Ruth Chapman, president of the Louisiana council urges all teachers of English in the state, especially those in central Louisiana to be present at the meeting.

Dr. Grey, prinicpal speaker, is head of the department of the teaching of English and foreign languages at Teachers College, Columbia University. He received his undergraduate degree and Ph. D. from the University of Chicago previous to coming to Teachers College in 1936. Dr. Grey taught at Chicago, University of Minnesota and the English Classical School in Clearwater, Fla. He was advanced to the chairmanship of his department in 1941.

The author of numerous writings on methods and problems of teaching English, Dr. Grey is editor of the National Council of Teachers of English series of pamphlets on "Communication". During World War II he was educational consultant for the army and navy college training programs. He served as technical consultant to the New York State Committee on Institute Curriculums and has done extensive surveys on the importance of the junior college in today's educational scene. He is currently president of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Dr. Grey is a specialist in American literature, and is also concerned with the use of all mass media of communication - radio, press, theatre, motion pictures. An extensive course on "Communication Arts in the Modern Community", which discusses these various media, has been developed in his department.

The primary objective of Louisiana Council of Teachers of English is to raise the standard of language arts in Louisiana. Pres. Ruth Chapman said that "The stronger the council, the more benefits will the members be able to enjoy".

Bob Kennon On Eisenhower

A lot of our citizens in this community are criticizing Governor Kennon for his stand on General Eisenhower. They claim that he has forsaken his status and loyal standing in the Democratic party by joining Ike's crusade.

This is nonsense, and we all know it. Here, we have thousands of loyal Democrats who realize that the present day national Democratic party is no more the party of old, that of the principles for which Thomas Jefferson stood, than is the Communist party.

Bob Kennon knows it, James Byrnes knows it, Governor Shivers of Texas knows it, and so do thousands of other loyal southern Democrats who have kept the flame of Jeffersonian Democracy alive, lo these new deal years.

These men, like Bob Kennon, are more Democratic now than ever before because they are standing up for the principles laid down by the founding fathers of the party. They are standing up for the principles that we once knew as those of the Democratic party.

There are literally thousands of folks here in the south who have failed to put a party label above that of their status as Americans, who believe that the corruption in our national administration was not the act of real Democrats, but those committed by people who stole the Democratic label for their own. These people are generally socialists, radicals and sometimes Communists.

Well, the folks are right. Those people are not real Democrats. Unfortunately, their representatives are found here in our state and our community.

Far from condemning Bob Kennon, we in Monroe and West Monroe should be thankful that we have a governor who has courage enough to face tradition, and that is a deep-rooted thing here in the south, and support the man he believes will protect us from the evils of a centralized state and finally, complete collapse of the political system we know now.

There are more of us who should weigh these issues looking at them with a long term viewpoint in mind rather than what will help us today or within the immediate future. The present administration trend is heading straight for a socialized state.

Kennon knows it and so do you if you will look at the present situation.

Mr. Bevan of England, whom you all know to be the arch-spokesman for British socialism, says that we Americans don't know how fast we are heading towards the social state. He said that in less than ten years, America will have a Socialist president if the trend continues.

Men like Bob Kennon know this and are doing everything they can to prevent it. They will sacrifice everything to prevent it.

They have shown us that they are ready to forget what acts the Republicans committed in the South over one hundred years ago and cooperate with them to elect a man they are running for President.

The Republicans know that before General Eisenhower considers himself a Republican, he considers himself an American, dedicated to the principles which our founding fathers laid down as best for us to follow.

Bob Kennon knows this, or he wouldn't be supporting Ike now. He also realizes that he cannot support as an American, principles dreamed up in England by John Maynard Keynes, or principles from Germany by Karl Marx or even principles dreamed up in a wild nightmare by one Harry S. Truman.

Kennon knows that the Republicans are not the carpetbaggers now. He realizes that the Truman administration with controls which affect you and me in every walk of life, with taxes that would make the carpetbaggers of old shudder with horror, with false statements that even the liar's club can't match, is the real carpetbagger now.

The Truman administration, with its war, corruption, F. E. P. C. and communism is the villian now.

We believe you will agree with us when we say that Governor Bob Kennon is the hero in this support of General Eisenhower, not the criminal deserter that the Trumanites are calling him.

We also believe that there are countless other Democrats who will agree with Governor Kennon and us that by voting for Ike on November fourth, you will not be disfranchising yourself, only helping yourself to a happier, more secure future.

Spur To Peace?

Perfection of the atomic cannon is a development that most Americans can be expected to view with mixed emotions. There is satisfaction that the nation's military planners, working in an uncertain world situation, are adding new and more powerful weapons to the nation's arsenal of defense.

But there is also a feeling of trepidation that an advance such as this may harbor the seed of civilization's destruction. This feeling is allayed somewhat by the knowledge that a similar fear has followed introduction of every new and more destructive weapon of war down through the centuries.

On balance, atomic artillery should be a valuable addition to America's strategic plan. The new cannon, described as being capable of firing comparatively small caliber atomic shells accurately a distance of 20 miles, would be most effective as all-weather armament against massed enemy troops and installations.

What this means is that it would make atomic weapons available in inclement weather when A-bomb planes presumably would be grounded. And, equipped with atomic cannon, fewer divisions could deliver more firepower, thus reducing manpower and equipment needs.

The unanswered question, in assessing the contribution of the A-gun to defense, is whether Soviet Russia has it, and if not, how long it will be before the Reds catch up. It is not implausible to conjecture that Russia, having solved the principle of atomic energy, will in time possess all its lethal by-products.

But if Russia does not possess such artillery and does not soon perfect it, the A-gun must be credited with being an argument for peace. Moscow will hesitate to start a war against overwhelming odds.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

CONTAINMENT OR LIBERATION

During the parade of Polish groups in New York in memory of the 173rd anniversary of the death of General Casimir Pulaski, signs were carried which bore the slogan, "Not Containment but Liberation."

The American policy toward Soviet Russia was prepared in secret at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam. No matter how worded, that policy provided that Soviet Russia was entitled to friendly nations on her border. No matter how interpreted, such a policy could only mean that the United States connived with Stalin for the subjugation of such countries as Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria and China. Latvia, Lithuania, Esthonia and part of Finland had already been absorbed in the Russian Empire.

The borders of an empire stretch out to where they encounter resistance. Therefore, the Russians, having subjugated the countries immediately on her borders, insisted that other countries adjacent to those absorbed be friendly. Thus, Eastern Germany, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Austria and Albania were required to become "friendly" by which they meant absorbed in the ever-growing empire.

By March, 1947, the United States woke up to the trend and Harry Truman proclaimed the doctrine of containment. It was, in a sense, an immoral doctrine, for it recognized the enslavements already accomplished.

From a practical standpoint, containment was designed to call a halt to Russian expansion. President Truman, in his incredible whistle-stop campaign, has stated that this so-called Truman Doctrine has been a complete success, that since he has spoken Stalin has not crossed a single border.

This of course, is literally untrue. Since March, 1947, when Truman issued his containment doctrine, the whole of China has been conquered by the Soviet power. Since then, the wars in Indo-China and Malaya have been in process to this day. Since then, Soviet Russia has engaged in a war for the conquest of Korea, a war that has cost us 120,000 casualties, including 21,000 dead.

It is difficult quite to understand the basis for the President's supposition that Soviet Russia made no further progress, unless we assume that his knowledge of and interest in the world is limited to Western Europe. From the standpoint of world peace, however, Iran is not to be overlooked because it is not in Western Europe.

In recent months, the tendency among those who are discussing this problem is to substitute the word, liberation, for the word, con-

OUTMODED IDEAS

Miss Lou had been teaching history in the high school for twenty odd years and nobody has had the temerity to question her on the facts in a history book or the text of other books. Nobody, until one day Bert rose and said, "Miss Lou, I don't believe that is true. I believe that the War between the States was caused not by the ethics of the situation regarding slavery, but because of the economics of the situation."

"You know better than the book? Where did you acquire such wisdom? Sit down. All we ask of you is to learn what your textbook says. That's all."

"I don't agree," said Bert.

"Nobody cares what you think. You'd better learn your lessons and stop being so smart."

It is too bad that in this generation of education that a teacher should take such a stand. Sadly enough, there are still a few left and that few is too many. No modern teacher of history would think of speaking like that to a thoughtful student. The teacher would ask for the boy's authority, suggest more books, invite other students to investigate the matter and report on it and so encourage students to think for themselves, to search for the truth regardless of any text, or of anyone else's opinion.

There are parents, unfortunately, who follow the old pattern—one which should have been discarded fifty years ago—and believe that children, and youths, should accept the word of their elders. Now, it can well be that what the elders were taught has been discovered since to have some inaccuracies, or it may be outmoded. It would be well for all to be more concerned about truth than about cherished beliefs. Certainly we must allow young people to question us, to question established customs and beliefs. Only in that way can we be assured that the young people stand on sound ground.

Nothing so irritates older people whose minds are shut than to have a young person question their convictions, yet they ought to endure it and even welcome it for a faith that cannot be backed up by truth will not stand, will not hold.

For a time young people experiment with old customs, old ways, old theories. If they really search for truth, they come through in good form. Some old ideas will drop by the way and new ones take their places. Is not that the way we progress through the years? Let the young people ask questions and let us answer them as best we can—in truth. That way both generations benefit.

IN HOLLYWOOD

BY LOUIS CALHERN
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, October 11—Rome wasn't built in a day — and proof of the adage is seen on the screen in "Julius Caesar," MGM's picturization of the famous Shakespearean historical drama.

On the well - remembered Ides of March in 44 B. C., the film illustrates ancient Rome was still under construction.

Foundation stones, columns and the scaffolding of a new public building appear along one side of the Forum where Marlon Brando, as Mark Antony, comes "to bury Caesar, not to praise him" before a funeral throng of "friends, Romans, countrymen."

This new building is the Basilica Iulia, which authentic Roman records of 2,000 years ago indicate was under construction at the time.

Julius Caesar, whose robes I wear in the picture, was a builder by nature and an enthusiastic sponsor of public works. But it was a sign of the dictatorial pride and ambition for wich Brutus (James Mason), Cassius (John Gielgud), Casca (Edmond O'Brien) and the other conspirators assassinated him that Caesar had used tax money to erect a personal monument — the Basilica Iulai, in free Latin - to - English translation, was the Temple of Julius.

The sets, like Rome itself, weren't built in a day. They were the product of several months of creative planning and labor by studio art and construction departments. The emphasis, however, was on dramatic effect rather than archaeological detail.

Director Joseph L. Mankiewicz, Producer John Houseman, Art Director Cedric Gibbons and Edward Carfagno, the associate art director assigned to "Julius Caesar," agreed on that point at the outset.

"We're making Shakespeare's play—not 'Plutarch's Lives,'" as Mankiewicz expressed it. "It's a melodrama, still as modern today as when it occurred. We want the audience to believe they're seeing it in ancient Rome — but not to the distracting point where our camera lingers caressingly on the columnar frieze or gingerbread."

The result is a blend of authentic realism in wardrobe and props with undated, stylized architecture in the settings.

At certain points historical accuracy came to the aid of designers and set decorators — particularly in the case of the athletic stadium where Caesar and his entourage come to watch Mark Antony run a foot race, early in the story.

Sharp eyes in the audience may note that this structure is dissimilar to the Colosseum they know on Roman post cards of today. Studio artists made no attempt to duplicate the famous Colosseum. History, in fact, saved them the trouble—for the Colosseum wasn't built until about 135 years after Caesar's death.

History also gave an assist when it came to visual pointing-up of the play's essential modernity.

Caesar and his wife Calpurnia (played by Greer Garson) are shown living in a hilltop villa which is surprisingly "modern" and "functional" by today's architectural standards. They were exponents of "indoor-outdoor" living. Their dining table was set on the open terrace, under a protecting canopy. Calpurnia kept house in a flexible floor plan, which she could rearrange more or less at will through the use of drapes and screens.

Brutus and his wife Portia (Deborah Kerr) lived in even more up-to - date surroundings. Their home, in an outlying residential district, was built along "ranch-

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Behind the Screen: The unheard-of procedure that gives stage producer Paul Gregory the right to present the court-martial scene from "The Caine Mutiny" as a footlights offering has producer Stanley Kramer at the boiling point.

Kramer tied up the movie rights and protected himself against stage competition by stipulating that conventional stage rights couldn't be sold until after the run of the film.

But canny Gregory asked for only the "recital" rights to a few chapters of the novel and, according to literary agent Harold Matson, he's legally entitled to present the court-martial scene. Author Herman Wouk himself will adapt the chapters to the stage.

Assignment of Ruth Hampton to the second lead with Ronald Reagan in U-I's "Law and Order" should delight Miss Italy, who sounded off about the unfairness of the Miss Universe contest and said that Miss New Jersey should have won. Ruth is Miss New Jersey.

Remember the case of the teenage baby-sitter in Boston who found $60,000 while taking care of a prominent doctor's kiddies and scooted to New York with two other girls for a big spree? Well, it's practically the plot of Sidney Harmon's forthcoming independent movie, titled—appropriately—"Baby Sitter."

Imagine the Possibilities

HOLLYWOOD'S latest bid for three-dimensional quality—"Cinerama"—owned by Lowell Thomas and Merian C. Cooper—has fascinating possibilities. The effect on the viewer, it's claimed, is to make him feel he's actually in the scene. The nation's males in the same room with Marilyn Monroe? Wow!

Now it's Glenn Ford who will play the matador in Budd Boetticher's "The Number One," to be made in Spain next spring. . .Happy note for newspaper headline writers: The headlines on all newspaper inserts in producer Alex Gottlieb's murder mystery, "The Blue Gardenia," will be written by Los Angeles newsmen. For once they'll read like headlines.

Prediction: Shirley Booth should cop this year's best-actress Oscar for "Come Back, Little Sheba."

Princess Ghika, once Errol Flynn's beloved, and lately the recipient of a small fortune from Aly Khan, according to the international grapevine, is trying to find entry for herself and her mother into the U. S. to open a dress-designing business.

Chill Gives Warmth

WHAT'S Clark Gable got that Chill (the voice of Francis, the mule) hasn't got? Chill not only makes love to Ella Raines in the forthcoming "Golden Tide," but wins her in the final reel.

David Niven is the only cast member signed, sealed and ready to be delivered for the movie translation of "The Moon Is Blue." Production has been delayed until January to give playwright F. Hugh Herbert, who suffered a heart attack, a chance to finish the screenplay of his stage hit.

Economy note: Dorothea Richmond, the former Follies beauty who sells the used clothing of movie stars at a swank Beverly Hills shop, is getting calls from business managers of top stars asking her to dispose of their clients' fancy wardrobes at the best prices she can get. Couple of years ago, Dorothea was having a tough time persuading stars to sell their duds.

The film version of "The Girl on the Via Flaminia" is due for a new locale and title. As a novel, the story had an Italian background and an Italian heroine. As a film, the locale will be France, the heroine French. Kirk Douglas plays the American soldier, with the girl due to be cast any day.

As any movie starlet knows, says Harry Cimring, a Jane is only as good as her weakest mink.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

By CHARLES O. GRIDLEY
(In Absence of B. N. Timmons)

Dwight D. Eisenhower has missed one bet in his aggressive campaign on his own whistle stop schedule. The idea is here offered to him free gratis that he offer a plan for reorganization of the Department of State, and that he go into some detail as to how it will be done.

The plan will have to be his own or that of some advisor detached from the existing diplomatic routine (American version). It could scarcely be forthcoming from former United States Senator John Foster Dulles, the general's principal foreign policy counselor, who is apparently committed to the routine followed so assiduously by Secretary of State Dean Acheson and other graduates of what has been described as the "laboratory of mystery" where U. S. foreign policy is evolved.

The task of cleaning up the State Department in the popular view is one of tossing out subversives, home-sexuals and other undesirables, but actually that is ancient history. Out of 20,000 State Department and foreign service employees, it's a fairly safe bet that but a fraction of one per cent can now be suspected on any of the grounds cited by some critics of Secretary of State Acheson and his regime.

In the opinion of most of those who criticize Acheson on the ground that he has been an incompetent architect of foreign policy Eisenhower could well begin his promised housecleaning in the State Department, because he will have to devote most of his immediate attention if he becomes president, to the diplomatic labyrinth in the Foggy Bottom section of Washington where much of what goes on is enigmatic, even to the chief executive and other cabinet officers.

It is worth remembering that the secretary of state who served longer than any other—11 years—was Cordell Hull direct but tactful Tennessean who is still respected outside the department for the insight he gave the American public into what went on there. Cordell Hull did not let the foreign service set keep him in a sort of diplomatic vacuum, which is bound to be the fate of any secretary who does not make it plain from the start that henceforth bluntness will be exchanged for suavity where bluntness is necessary.

The State Department has given John Foster Dulles high praise for his direction of the Japanese peace treaty negotiations, which might still be lodged in a diplomatic impasse had it not been for the firm foundation laid by General Douglas MacArthur, who was blunt enough to reject the Russian demands for delay. MacArthur cannot be classed as a diplomat, but in this one instance his method of procedure could have been studied to advantage at the State Department's top level, it is felt by some competent people in the department.

As the real story of the last 20 instances where friction between the military top brass and diplomatic top spats over foreign policy delayed important decisions, with the State Department usually getting the decision.

"Ike" could possibly reconcile that division, though a better course to sell the country on would be the union of bluntness and fairness which has been lacking in our foreign policy during the Truman administration.

The general will presumably have the full cooperation of his right bower, Senator Robert A. Taft, if he takes the stand that the United States should yield less to her closest ally, Great Britain, in matters where the interests of both are at stake, such as the Iranian oil dispute.

What seems to be needed as a guiding principle in any State Department reorganization is that diplomacy does not always consist of concessions by the United States to the other power, whether it be an inimical Russia or a friendly Great Britain. Nor does the guiding policy necessarily need to be in support of British interests, with consequent sacrifice of our own prestige in areas of the world where British influence once reigned supreme.

The Republican party may be united temporarily behind Eisenhower, but some of his principal supporters are convinced that his initial mis - misstep as president could be the appointment of Dulles as his secretary of state. There are other Republicans available in the diplomatic field, but the general seems already to be nodding toward the former senator.

Students of foreign policy agree that its end must be to ake friends for the United States wherever that is possible. To attain that objective is not easy in the present complicated state of world affairs, and nobody seems to know as yet how General Eisenhower, if he becomes president will proceed toward that goal.

IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Synthetic cheese, synthetic milk and synthetic ice cream—made from vegetable oils instead of butter fat—are now providing an increasing threat to the U. S. dairy industry. In the making here is another trade war similar to the oleomargarine-butter battle that went on for so many years.

National Milk Producers' Federation officials from the dairy states have been meeting in Washington to plan their strategy in the new trade war. They are naturally opposed to the substitution of vegetable fats for butter fat in any good product. Their policies to beat down the competition will be formally adopted at the federation's meeting in Atlanta in November.

The Institute of Shortening and Edible Oils, which is the trade association for the vegetable fat industry, will say nothing for the record. But it is known that this industry is trying to promote its products in every way.

The principal arguments advanced in favor of the vegetable oil substitutes, synthetics and imitations of the dairy products is that they are from a third to a half cheaper. Makers of these products now on the market claim that it is almost impossible to tell the difference between the vegetable and animal fat foods. The dairy industry naturally disputes these claims.

Federal Laws Set Cheese Standards

At the present time there are federal laws and regulations setting cheese standards. Any cheese made from vegetable oils—known to the trade as "filled" cheese—comes under Bureau of Internal Revenue regulation and must pay a federal tax.

Filled milk is also under federal law. Filled milk is ordinarily made by the addition of cheaper vegetable fats to skim milk, after the higher priced butter fat is removed for separate sale. There is also a soy milk on the market, but it doesn't have the taste of cow's milk.

There are at present only limited federal standards for ice cream, and this is the opening which may provide the vegetable oil industry with its chance for more active competition to win the market.

There are 48 separate state laws regulating the manufacture of ice cream. Some of these laws aren't very tight and others aren't rigidly enforced.

Twenty-four states ban the use of vegetable oils in ice cream. Texas, Missouri, Illinois and Oklahoma laws provide the most open standards. Texas even has a separate standard for the manufacture of a vegetable oil imitation ice cream known as Mellowrine. That is where this synthetic ice cream industry got its start.

Missouri and Illinois permit the sale of the new products under fancy trade names, but most of them go under the designation of "frozen dessert."

Vigorously upholding the integrity of the original product is the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, which is the trade association of the industry. To this association, it isn't ice cream unless it contains butter fat.

Many Manufacturers Make Both

What has happened in the industry, however, is that many manufacturers have decided to make both products. They don't want to be caught short, with their market taken away from them by a cheaper competitor, as oleo took away about half of the butter market. So there is a war within a war going on here.

In 1940 the federal Food and Drug Administration began hearings to set federal standards for ice cream. The hearings were suspended during the war, but were resumed again in 1950.

In April, 1951, Food and Drug Administration issued a finding in Federal Register that any product moving in interstate commerce as ice cream which was adulterated by the use of fats other than butter fat would be subject to libel and seizure. This finding has been sustained by an Indiana court decision under which the adulterated shipment was destroyed.

Hearings to set still more rigid federal standards for ice cream have been going on intermittently over the past year. The major dispute has been over the use of emulsifiers, or softeners, as in bread. Hearings are now in recess, but will be re-opened in November. It is hoped to close the hearings this year and issue the new standards in 1953.

So far, the vegetable oil industry has made no move to get federal authority in the new standards for the use of their products in synthetic dairy products. Such a move would of course open up a dispute that would take as long to settle as the margarine-butter battle.

But liberation involves many problems. It could mean subsidizing revolutions in all the countries on the periphery of the Russian Empire. It could mean financing and guiding terroristic groups. It could mean weaning away from the Soviet Empire, governments now attached to it.

In the general discussions of the word, liberation, no definitions are provided. This is not unusual, as politicians always prefer generalities to precise ideas.

If we take Poland as an example —and the same applies to all the other countries—liberation by revolution must invite premature uprisings with resultant pogroms. If we foment Titoism among the countries immediately adjacent to Soviet Russia, it could mean an immediate fighting war between the Dnieper and the Rhine.

For such a war, the few NATO divisions planned at Lisbon would be inadequate to meet the approximately 325 divisions which Soviet Russia has in Europe.

From all the evidence available, in spite of great secrecy, it is possible to estimate the Soviet divisions in Europe as follows:

Russian	250
Polish	40
Rumanian	15
Hungarian	10
Bulgarian	8
Albanian	2
Total	325

This does not include any Asiatic divisions available for service in Europe. On this subject, word comes out of China for which I find no confirmation but which may be true, namely, that Kalmuk, Buriat, Mongol and other Asiatic forces are being organized to police the satellite countries against uprisings. Such data often proves correct after a period of time and therefore I state it here with qualifications.

The question of terrorist groups is different. We speak of it perhaps more politely as guerrilla warfare. This can be exceedingly disturbing to an empire and can be especially costly at a period of consolidation. Yet, it is doubtful whether liberation can be achieved by terrorism.

Here then is a problem that requires clear and objective thinking, for it is a dangerous adventure. It ought not to be hurled about in the course of a political campaign, as too many innocent lives are involved.

COMPANY HEADS VISIT LOCAL AGENCY

Scott, Head Of Vacuum Cleaners Of America, Principal Speaker

George H. Scott, president of the Scott and Fetzer Company of Cleveland and also head of the Vacuum Cleaners Manufacturers of America, was the principal speaker at a store meeting held Friday at Mahoney's Inc., local vacuum cleaner distributors. Following the staff meeting, he was entertained at a luncheon.

Scott has been touring the Mid South division with the local divisional supervisor, George W. Bisset, of Memphis, Tenn.

The Scott and Fetzer Company are the manufacturers of the Kirby Sanitation system, which was named after James B. Kirby, the inventor of the vacuum cleaner. This product is the lighter, more portable cleaner, which earlier was termed the real fore-runner of all present-day vacuum cleaners. The latest products include all of the recent inventions and improvements for the equipment.

George Scott is also serving the Cleveland, Ohio area as trustee of the Fairview Park Hospital, trustee of the Crippled Children's Association, director of the Cleveland Hospital Service Association (Blue Cross), past president of the Vacuum Cleaner Manufacturer's Association, and director of the Cleveland Automobile Club.

This surprising modernism of Roman houses—which had been borrowed largely from the still more ancient Greek architects—was not entirely a surface matter, either.

Research by MGM's art department turned up abundant evidence that patrician Roman houses enjoyed a pioneer form of air conditioning. Air circulated to interior rooms was "washed" through sprays of water, carried by bronze or copper pipes, as a precaution against the "vile contagion" of the natural atmosphere (i. e., disease germs) and as a cooling agent in summer.

"They also had radiant heating for winter," Art Director Carfagno reported. "Hot water pipes were buried under the floor slab."

Hot water was no great problem. Slaves, laboring in shifts to stoke the wood fires beneath large boilers, kept it flowing.

about 'What would Walter Winchell say about me giving up my American citizenship?' There it is, what can I tell her?" . . . "Oh, nuts," you told him, "How's Her Act???" . . .And then you raved about it . . . On the air, too! Shortly after, she came to N. Y. (at the Strand at $10,000 a week) where the only billing (on a banner around the marquee) was: "Josephine Baker. Walter Winchell Says: 'A Real Star!' " . . . Her next stop: The Roxy at $20,000 per week plus percentage. She made $26,000 that week . . . The rest is history. Oh, those Red, red faces now. (Faces?)

John Lardner is quoted in a London paper as saying a N. Here's a suggestion for all City Desks: Run a front-page box with this memo from the editor: "This space would ordinarily be wasted on Aly Khan, Tommy Manville (and Other Bores) and their daily doings. Instead, we ignore them and devote this costly newsprint to a worthwhile story." Then fill that space with a worthy cause, a needy case, a call for blood donors, a piece about some hero cop (fireman or cab-driver, etc.), in fact, anything else!

Here's one for Gruen's ad chief, Hank Dorff: They need clocks in the new hospital being built at St. Lo (France) with money donated by veterans of the 1st Division. Constitutional Amendments

MAINTENANCE TAX FOR FOURTH JEFFERSON DRAINAGE DISTRICT

Act No. 125 (House Bill No. 308) of 1952 proposes to amend Section 10 of Article X of the Constitution so as to authorize the Fourth Jefferson Drainage District, in Jefferson Parish to levy an additional tax not to exceed 5 mills on the dollar of assessed valuation, when authorized by a majority of the resident taxpayers in number and amount of assessment, for the purpose of maintaining and operating drainage facilities.

This is one of the amendments that has local effect and one in the Fourth Jefferson Drainage District.

FORM PARTNERS IN EDUCATION

New Method Tried Out In Sherrouse School Past Week

"In the Sherrouse School the home and school are trying a method of working together, thereby forming real partners in education" said Miss Vera Dowling, art supervisor of the Monroe City schools.

In the growth, development, and education of children, the parent, the teacher, and the child each has a part to play that no one else can play for him. People cooperate best when each knows his role and carries it out to the best of his ability.

An opportunity will be given mothers in the Sherrouse Parent-Teacher Association to take over the classes in the first three grades. Much time and thought have been given to the planning of the morning's work by the parents. Mrs. L. N. Harrison, president of Sherrouse Parent - Teacher Association, has secured teachers for each grade. While each teacher is relieved from her duties, Miss Dowling will conduct an art clinic, introducing plans of work for teachers, and each teacher will participate in art activities suited for her grade level.

It is hoped by this way of meeting together and sharing of ideas that the art program will be made more functional and more interesting for boys and girls. Too, teachers will have a clearer view of what is expected of them, and parents will have first - hand information of a child's day at school.

Mr Van Odom, superintendent, is very desirous of the opportunity of working and sharing together and feels certain that it will be most beneficial and productive for teachers and parents.

The following parents will staff the primary grades: Mrs. C. G. Drennan, Mrs. Dodd Brooks, Mrs. B. Wing, Mrs. Van Pratt, Mrs. Thelma Adams, Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. R. W. Rogers, and Mrs. Imogene Levert.

Louis Cosper Pays Visit To Former Home

Louis H. Cosper, who spent his lifetime in Monroe up to five or six years ago, returned from his present home in Ocean Springs, Miss., to visit old time friends here.

He marveled at the changes that have been wrought since he resided here. He and his wife now operate a tourist park in Ocean Springs which is near Biloxi and Keesler Field. He has 18 or more apartments and stated that they are filled all the time.

During his residence here, Mr. Cosper was member of the Rotary Club and active in civic affairs. He owned a considerable amount of real estate while living here.

Alto Man Hurt In Auto Crash

Less than a week after being released from a hospital recovering from injuries incurred in a wreck, a 26-year-old Alto man was back in the hospital, receiving treatment for injuries sustained in another automobile accident last night.

Hospitalized at the Riverside hospital is Louis Gortman, with severe face lacerations, bodily bruises and a possible broken right leg.

State police said he lost control of his car, overturning it about three times near Alto.

Gortman was previously injured in a collision of motorbikes on Jackson street here a few months ago. Last week he was discharged from the Veterans hospital at Alexandria where he had been recuperating from injuries received then.

Starting from scratch, in barely eight years of existence, College Place Baptist Church today will be host to members and friends, when its doors will be thrown open with the sanctuary and educational building in use for the first time. The plant represents fully $200,000 and church membership is nearing the 1,000 mark. All this is to the credit of the ambitious young pastor, Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr.

A formal dedication will take place there at 2 p.m. today and the entire structure will be inspected.

A Hammond organ, donated by Miss Martha Carol Upshaw, will be in use for the first time.

We hope that the silvery-toned chimes will peal forth again today. They have not been used recently and they add greatly to the beauty and solemnity of the Sabbath and through the week, when they are played.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Paul Soignier, 703 Montgomery Street, West Monroe, announce the birth of their first child, Christopher Paul. The charming young man arrived Tuesday morning, October 7, at the St. Francis Sanitarium. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Auerilla Reynolds, Lisbon, La. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Simon Soignier, West Monroe. The mother will be remembered as Miss Grace Reynolds, RN, a graduate of St. Francis School of Nursing, Monroe.

Capt. Roger C. White, Jr., former member of the state legislature, now prisoner of war in Korea, where he has been confined since May 18, 1951, has written to his parents that he is well and in good spirits. In fact he wrote as if it would not be long until he will be released. The letter received was dated last June 23. Its receipt was three months later.

The captain asked his mother to meet him on arrival in San Francisco with his car.

The fact that he is in good health will be greeted with deep interest by his unnumbered friends in Monroe and throughout the state.

SPAHT PLANS TO GREET GENERAL

But Still Undecided How He'll Vote On Nov. 4

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Carlos Spaht, the man Gov. Robert Kennon beat in the race for governor, said today he expected to join the reception committee for Dwight Eisenhower in New Orleans Monday.

But Spaht, a Baton Rouge Attorney, made clear he hasn't made up his mind about which presidential nominee he will vote for, adding:

"Right now, I still like Gov. Adlai Stevenson."

Kennon, lifelong Democrat, announced for Eisenhower and will introduce the Republican nominee in New Orleans.

Spaht was the hand-picked choice of former Gov. Earl Long to succeed him, but Kennon overwhelmed Spaht 482,302 to 302,743 in a Democratic runoff Feb. 19.

Long, meanwhile, is actively campaigning for Stevenson.

Spaht said he was invited to the Stevenson rally in New Orleans last night and had planned to go, but was slightly ill with a cold.

"I have been invited to join the Eisenhower reception committee and expect to join the group, unless other plans interfere," Spaht commented.

He is scheduled to take part in an Armed Forces Institute opening here next week.

troops raided Chinese Communist positions for five hours on T-Bone Hill, west of Chorwon, early Saturday. Results were not announced by the U. S. Eighth Army. It said three other Allied raiding groups fought short engagements west of Yonchon.

In the air the Fifth Air Force reported U. S. Sabre jet pilots had their most successful day of the month, downing six communist MIG fighters near the Manchurian border, far north of the battle zone.

Allied fighter bombers concentrated on front line strikes. They pummelel Red positions round White Horse throughout the day, particularly on another height one mile north where the Reds were grouping.

South Korean-manned tanks maneuvered in the valley separating White Horse from the neighboring height. They poured direct fire into the Red staging area and on the north slopes of White Horse itself.

"The old isolationism was to troops, ignoring casualties , kept relentless pressure on White Horse.

The Reds unleashed a stiff attack by 750 to 1,500 men to drive the South Koreans off the crest at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

REDS PROTEST TRUCE BREAKOFF

MUNSAN, Korea, Sunday, Oct. 12 (AP)—Communist truce negotiators charged in a formal protest Saturday that indefinite recess of the armistice talks by the U. N. Command was a "premeditated action" to pressure the U. N. General Assembly and extend the Korean War.

The Red protest, signed by North Korean Gen. Nam Il, senior Red negotiator warned of "grave responsibility" for the suspension. It said the Allies "must bear full responsibility for all the consequences arising from your action."

Nam leveled his blast in a letter addressed to Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior U. N. truce delegate.

The Reds appeared particularly incensed that the truce talks adjourned last Wednesday without consideration of a "reasonable proposal" they made in answer to three Allied plans for exchanging war prisoners.

The Allied plans did not abandon the principle of refusing to force unwilling prisoners to return to Red rule.

One U. N. proposal did allow prisoners to be brought to a neutral zone, checked and then go to the side of their choice.

Nam's statement said the Communists "adopted the views of your side with respect to the transport of all prisoners to the demilitarized zone."

However, observers pointed out Nam had agreed to transport only, and still insisted that all prisoners be returned.

Thus Nam's proposal fell short of what U. N. negotiators had been demanding.

Peiping 'Peace' Conference Ends

TOKYO, Sunday Oct. 12 (AP)—The Communist Peiping radio today said the Red Saian and Pacific "Peace" Conference ended its general discussions Saturday night.

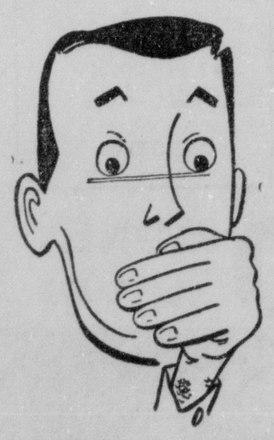

The Red broadcast, heard in Tokyo, did not indicate that the anti-American propaganda festival had adjourned. Committee meetings and resolutions undoubtedly will still engage attention of the delegates.

At Saturday's session, Peiping said, eight representatives of the Federation of Christian Churches of Peiping presented silk red and white banners to the conference.

DISTANCE makes the Heart grow Fonder

You'll discover this about a Buick:

The more you drive it, the more you like it; the longer your trip, the louder your praise.

That's what people tell us. And we'll tell you why.

You can drive a Buick three, four, five hundred miles in a single day, and feel fresh enough to keep right on going.

You can romp up high hills, cruise straightaways, ease through traffic-tangled towns, clock off hour after hour of relaxed and pleasurable driving—and be no more tired than a neighborhood jaunt would make you.

How come this comfort-rich ground-covering ability in a Buick?

There's the ease of deep, soft seats for one thing—and plenty of move-about room for arms, legs, shoulders.

There's Dynaflow Drive* taking all the chore out of driving, and giving your whole ride a satiny smoothness without trace of jerkiness or driving tension.

There's a hoodful of thrilling, tireless power from a high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball 8 Engine that whips out miles like a tarpon reels off line.

There's the soft, steady, solid, swerve-free going of a coil-spring-cushioned ride that's well worth the million-plus dollars it cost to engineer.

There's all this and more—much more—that makes your heart grow fonder of this trim and thrifty traveler.

But words can't do justice to a Buick in motion. Only you can.

When will you come sample this experience yourself?

NORTHEAST LA. OIL WEEK SET

Proclamation Issued By Mayor Fixing Dates As Oct. 12-18

Mayor John Coon of Monroe, La., today proclaimed October 12 to 18, inclusive, as Northeast Louisiana Oil Progress Week.

The proclamation announced that the observance is to be held so that the oil men who live and work in this community may report to their neighbors on the contributions and services which their industry renders to all the public.

During the week designated, the proclamation said, oil men engaged in producing, transporting, refining, and marketing petroleum products will cooperate to inform the public about the ways in which their industry has helped make America "the very symbol of progress, comfort and security."

Mayor Coon described Northeast Louisiana's oil men as "friends, neighbors and good citizens, and called attention to the "initiative, skill and daring" by which America's competing oil companies serve the nation.

A number of special events and speeches to community audiences by local oil men will mark Northeast Louisiana Oil Progress Week, according to James W. Moore, community chairman of the oil industry information committee.

Activities scheduled include the following, he said:

Parade, downtown Monroe, Oct. 16; dance at Frances Roof on Oct. 17.

Whereas we live in an age in which civilization has been transformed through the discovery of petroleum in commercial quantities, and

Whereas we dwell in a land which is the very symbol of the progress, comfort and security which petroleum makes possible, and

Whereas the week of October 12 to 18 has been designated Oil Progress Week, when the oil men of this country will cooperate to inform the public of the contributions of their industry both to our high standard of living and to the preservation of our traditional freedoms, and

Whereas the citizens of Monroe and West Monroe who are engaged in producing, transporting, refining and marketing petroleum products desire to participate in the observance of Oil Progress Week by arranging exhibits and joining in various other activities for the purpose of showing how, through initiative, skill and daring, America's competing oil companies serve and will continue to serve the people of this nation and of this state or community.

Now, therefore, I, John Coon, Mayor of Monroe, La., do hereby proclaim the week of October 12 to 18 inclusive to be Northeast Louisiana Oil Progress Week and do call the attention of all men and women to the many contributions and services rendered to us by the American Petroleum Industry, and most particularly to those rendered by the members of that industry who live and work among us, and who we of Monroe and West Monroe know as friends, neighbors, and good citizens.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Monroe to be affixed.

(Signed) John E. Coon, Mayor.

W. KING SHOW HERE TUESDAY

One of the outstanding features of the Wayne King concert, slated for Neville High School auditorium Tuesday night, will be lovely Gloria Allyn, a sparkling new singing personality who has attracted national attention.

The Wayne King concert is being brought to the Twin Cities under the sponsorship of the Exchange Club. Money derived from the show will be used by the club for youth work in this area.

Although a newcomer to the Wayne King cast, Miss Allyn is a veteran in entertainment circles. She has sung with Johnny Desmond on the "Tin Pan Alley" radio show and was a featured vocalist with the Jan Garber musical aggregation, appearing in the finest hotels and supper clubs in the country. She recently concluded an eight-month stint on a television show which emanated from Chicago.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

Little Theatre, its board of directors and its executive director wish to thank all the nice people for their help and contribution toward the success of this seasons first play, "Room Service."

Thank Yous go to: The Frances Hotel and its accomodating new manager Shelby Meek, for supplying the furniture for the set; to Lawrence Hulin of the Virginia Hotel for the many odd and ends and necessaries that make "Room Service's" hotel room more like a hotel room (by now you must has suspected that "Room Service's" setting is a hotel room); to Durrett's Gift Shop for more necessaries; to Mrs. Elmer Slagle for the use of two props which the director won't let us divulge (Stocker and his big fat secrets); also to Bill McCain for another property that is top secret; to the Rendezvous for room service cutlery; to Louise Klam for the use of her doctor husband's doctor bag; to the Flower Shoppe for a huge floral wreath to be used in the play; to Val Nichols for her skill with a needle; to Joy and Ben Marshall for working on the much talked about lobby bill board display and to Betty Slakter, Martha Edmondson and Sidney Ray Rhodes for assembling the props which will be handled during the run of the play by the property crew.

When we start thinking of all the people who have lent a helping hand, that means it is just about show time. "Room Service" opens next Wednesday evening, October 15. Remember Curtain time is 8:30. Little Theatre boxoffice opens Tuesday with its usual hours of 2 until 7 p. m. The last few nights the Little Theatre telephone has been ringing off the wall with people wanting reservations. That is mighty fine, but it is distracting to the rehearsals — Just wait until Tuesday and then it can ring off the wall.

LITTLE THEATRE SKETCH

ELLEN BROWNE — Attractive brunette who is holding down one of the two feminine roles in "Room Service" (it has a cast of four-teen), was born in New Orleans but moved to Monroe the next year. She is a valedictorian graduate of St. Matthews, where she was active in Sodality and did some acting. She appeared as Jo in "Little Women" for St. Matthews.

Ellen attended Northeastern State college for two years majoring in secretarial science. While at Northeastern, she was a member of the Purple Jackets.

For the past six months Ellen has held down a secretarial job with the Chamber of Commerce. She loves bridge and lists it as one of her hobbies. Among her talents, she sings in the St. Matthews choir and used to write poetry. Friends at one time advised her to study journalism. Her mania is for attractive clothes, so we can look forward to seeing some attractive models for her role of Christine Marlowe, secretary and actress, in "Room Service."

BLISTERS ADMINISTRATION

GOP presidential candidate Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, right, and California Governor Earl Warren wave goodby to well-wisher as they leave San Francisco for Fresno and a brief stop-over before proceeding to Los Angeles for a major address. Eisenhower blistered the Truman administration's foreign policy before an overflow crowd of 23,000 at San Francisco's Cow Palace and said truce talks in Korea were a "Soviet trap." The General claimed the "Soviet trap was perfectly conceived, perfectly timed, and perfectly sprung" and the Communists were half again as strong as when negotiations began. (NEA Telephoto)

INVISIBLE PAINT

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— A 75-year-old inventor in this capital of showmanship has come up with an invisible paint — it takes black light to see it.

John T. (Pop) Shannon, who dabbled in flourescent lighting effects for Flo Ziegfeld as far back as 1907, is the creator of this new effect. He unveiled it for a gas appliance manufacturer (Western Holly) at a recent cooking school. Patrons saw appliances change from their normal white enamel to flowing bright - colored hues when the auditorium lights went off and black lights were turned on.

The general public knows black light best as the method of marking hands of patrons at racetracks, dance halls, fairs and other events

Voluntary donors gave 13,326,242 pints of blood to the American Red Cross during World War I.

LAKE PROVIDENCE

District meeting for the 13th, P.-T.A. district will be held in Bastrop, Wednesday, Oct. 8, advises Mrs. F. M. Terral, Lake Providence, the district director.

The meeting will be held at the Southside school, with registration beginning at 10 a.m., and the session to be continued until 3 p.m., with lunch at noon, served by a church group.

Mrs. J. H. Stringer, Baton Rouge, state president, will be the honor guest.

A timely and interesting round table discussion on "Should schools be in the concession business," will be held, with school authorities of the district presenting the subject.

Mrs. G. G. Lawhon and children, Mack and Mignon, Houston, Tex., are in Lake Providence to spend a few days with Mrs. Lawhon's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Terral.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Noakes and children, Delores, Bert, Jr., Toby and Danny, Scott, Miss., spent the past Sunday in Lake Providence, with Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Eastepp.

Mrs. F. A. Babb and daughter Butchie, with Mrs. C. R. Brown as guest, motored to Memphis the past week.

L. S. U. MAULS KENTUCKY; TECH TRIPS TULANE

Bengals' Running, Passing Attack Highly Effective

BY BILL HUDSON

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 11 (AP)—Louisiana State freed a band of explosive backs to aid Norm Stevens' highly effective passing and routed Kentucky, 34 to 7, in what had figured to be a tossup Southeastern Conference football duel.

The tempo of the devastating L.S.U. offense was evident on its first offensive play as Stevens connected with Al Doggett on a scoring pass that covered 80 yards.

Doggett, Sal Nicolo, Jerry Marchiand and Willard Rachal punched the Kentucky defense to bits with their powerful running, and between their drives Stevens kept the attack balanced with his passing.

Except for an early threat that bogged down on an attempted field goal, Kentucky was in the hole until a fumble recovery set up its touchdown in the third period. Dick Shatto's nine-yard pass to End Steve Meillinger produced the score.

Stevens followed his first touchtoss to Marchand just before the first period ended. Charley Oakley's pass interception at the L. S. U. 12 made this drive possible from the Kentucky 36 as his return and a roughing penalty put it there.

Russ Gautreaux bulled one yard for the final marker after a 46-yard advance.

The home club lost little Harry Jones, its ground ace, by an injury in the first period and never had a full head of offensive steam thereafter.

SPARTANS DRUB AGGIES, 48-6

Texas A And M 18th Straight Win For Michigan State

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP)—Michigan State added a sparkling pass attack to its bruisingly effective running game to overpower Texas A. and M., 48 to 6, today for the 18th straight win by the Spartans.

A stadium crowd of 49,123 and a nationwide television audience saw Michigan State power to a 21-6 lead at the half and add four more touchdowns in the final quarter for the win.

The game did not go as expected in that the only Texas A. and M. score, in the second period came on a running play instead of a pass. Ray Graves, the Texas A. and M. quarterback, was tossing passes all afternoon but scored from 16 yards out by cutting around end when the M. S. C. defenders ganged up on his receivers.

Michigan State quarterback Tom Yevcic carried off the passing honors with his most sensational throw, a pitch to end Ellis Duckett that carried 81 yards for a score.

The 13-7 Princeton setback by Pennsylvania after 24 straight wins gave Michigan State, with its 18 wins in a row without a tie, the longest existing streak in present day big college football.

Score by quarters:

Commissioner Announces Yankee, Dodger Shares

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, said today each full World Series share voted by the champion New York Yankees was worth $6,026.32. Each full share voted by the losing Brooklyn Dodgers was worth $4,200.64.

Frick did not reveal how many shares each of the clubs had voted nor how many non-players, such as batboy, clubhouse attendant, etc., had been voted cash sums.

The commissioner hopes to be able to announce the number of shares voted by each club on Wednesday. At the same time the office will announce the amounts to go to the players on the second, third and fourth places in the American and National Leagues, respectively.

Sulphur Blasts Terrebonne Eleven Out Of Twin-A Football Contention

Ouachita, Holy Cross, Istrouma Score Week-end Wins

By The Associated Press

Sulphur used a whirlwind 90 seconds to gain a 14-0 victory over Terrebonne of Houma, dethroning the defending southwest district football champions and establishing a strong claim to the district double-A title.

Sulphur, the state's second-ranking double-A power, scored both touchdowns a minute and a half before the second quarter ended Friday night. One score came on a drive and the other on a pass interception return.

Terrebonne won the southwest race last year, but opened its 1952 district season with a 20-19 loss to Lake Charles. The second loss virtually eliminates Terrebonne from contention.

Istrouma of Baton Rouge, defending state champions and top-ranked team in this week's Associated Press poll, beat Jesuit of New Orleans 13-7 in an interdistrict thriller.

Third ranked Holy Cross beat Fortier 28-0 in a New Orleans district game. In the southeast, Baton Rouge whipped Bogalusa 35-6. In the north, Fair Park of Shreveport defeated Bastrop 26-6 and Ouachita of Monroe beat Haynesville 27-14.

Catholic high of Baton Rouge beat Jennings 15-14 in an interdistrict game, the only other game of the night matching double-A teams.

In other games, New Iberia won its first game with a 26-6 verdict over class B Franklin and Bossier City lost 26-13 to class B Springhill.

Three games were scheduled Saturday night, when Byrd of Shreveport entertained Marshall, Tex., Nicholls of New Orleans went to Reagan of Houston, Tex., and Lake Charles visited Lafayette in a southwest district contest. Sunday St. Aloysius and Redemptorist square off in a New Orleans game.

Sulphur was able to break through the Terrebonne defense only twice. Once Jerry Wilburn bucked his way over from the one with the first touchdown. A minute later, Edward Burleson intercepted a pass thrown by Terrebonne's Kenneth King and went 40 yards behind outstanding blocking for another touchdown. Wayne Bourgeois converted after each touchdown.

Istrouma won its 16th straight when the clock ran out on a late Jesuit threat. The game ended with Jesuit on the Istrouma two.

Winton Turner set up the first Istrouma touchdown in the opening period. He intercepted a Jesuit pass and ran it 10 yards to midfield. His 20-yard run featured a drive to the two, from where Ronnie Riley scored over center.

The winning touchdown came in the third quarter when Turner ran a Jesuit punt 77 yards for a score, with end James Miller taking out the last Jesuit defender with a vicious block.

Jesuit drove 51 yards for its score, with Don Trahan going the last yard.

The Istrouma and Sulphur victories set the stage for their game next week—a battle between two of the last three unbeaten double-A teams.

Fair Park, the fourth-ranking team, used the powerful running of fullback Tommy Davis to whip Bastrop. Davis scored two touchdowns and got two conversions.

He scored on a two-yard buck and a 30 - yard spring. Johnny Crumpler bucked over from the one and Gene Saur passed 77 yards to A. L. Williams for other touchdowns.

The Bastrop touchdown came on a kickoff return after the last Fair Park score. Jerry Henderson took the ball on the 20 and lateralled to J. W. Brodnax on the 10. Brodnax scampered 90 yards to paydirt.

Holy Cross, playing without injured star Lou Deutschmann, came back after a scoreless first half to roundly trounce Fortier, which had tied in its first three starts.

George Lyles ran 71 yards for the first touchdown. Others came on a 15-yard run by lineman Alfred Reeder with a Fortier fumble, a Ken Schulte to Donald Carrier pass and a 36-yard run by halfback Earl Schneider.

Catholic high scored in the final minute to beat Jennings, with Jimmy Lieux adding the winning conversion. Halfback Justin Fernandez galloped six yards for the tying touchdown. Other Catholic scores were by Fernandez on a 41-yard run for a third quarter touchdown and on a safety when Jennings' Richard Clement was tackled in his end zone.

Jennings scored on Denny Marshall's 13-yard run and Clement's 65-yard dash.

Bill Howell, Billy Cheany, Del Bergeron and Jimmy Renoudet scored touchdowns to lead New Iberia to its victory over Franklin. The longest scoring play was Cheany's 26-yard run. Amar Lancon passed 42 yards to Lionel Uze for the Franklin touchdown.

Baton Rouge had little trouble with Bogalusa. Quarterback Ronnie Quillan scored four of the five Baton Rouge touchdowns on runs of from one to seven yards. J. D. Bookman passed 35 yards to Ernest Kelly for the other touchdown, with Jimmy Taylor booting five conversions.

Don Furnian drove over from the one late in the fourth period for the Bogalusa touchdown.

Springhill used two blocked punts to beat Bossier City in a big upset. John Crowe scored from the eight after one and Charley Johnson recovered one in the end zone for the other. Paul Crowe, John's brother, ran one yard for one touchdown and John lateralled to Virgil Jester, who got the other. Bossier City scored on J. W. Slack's nine-yard run and Don Alleman's 10-yard pass to Corley Jones.

Halfback Frank Mobley powered Ouachita over Haynesville. He scored touchdowns on runs of five and 53 yards and booted three conversions. Other Ouachita touchdowns were by Norman Goza and Jerry Sykes. Haynesville got both touchdowns in the final period on Lacy Lofton's 15-yard end run and D. Nicholls' 20-yard off - tackle jaunt.

ELI'S TRIP LIONS IN IVY THRILLER

Yale Overcomes Columbia 35 To 28 For Upset Win

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 11 (AP)—Fighting Yale overcame a two-touchdown deficit, tallied three touchdowns in the final period, the winning one with eight seconds to play, to upset Columbia 35 to 28 today in an Ivy League football thriller.

The crowds of more than 23,000 fans was on its feet and limp with excitement as the final whistle blew in this battle that will go down among the most exciting in the gridiron histories of both institutions.

The outcome was in doubt until the last moments, even after Jerry Jones, star Yale back, raced three yards for his second score of the game and what turned out to be the clincher in 14:52 of the final session. It was that kind of a fray.

It was Columbia by 21-14 as the final period began and the bowl was in an uproar. But hardly anybody expected the movie thriller ending which was to come.

Yale marched 79 yards with Jones scoring from the 11 to tie the score. Three plays later, Columbia's passing ace, Mitch Price, completed a 66-yard pass and run play to bob Mercier for a touchdown and a 28-21 lead.

Back came Yale with another drive mixing Ed Molloy's passing and running. A three-yarder from Molloy to Bob Poole tied it up once with a minute and 40 seconds to go.

Then Yale got its big break when Mercier fumbled Yale's kickoff on Columbia's 23 where John Phillips recovered. Five plays later, Jones plunged over from the three for the winning score.

Score by quarters:

Columbia	0 14 6 6—28
Yale	0 7 7 21—35

Volunteers Beat Moccasins, 26-6

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 11 (AP)—Tennessee, looking like anything but the nation's defending champions, got its single wing attack rolling in spurts today to grind out a 26-6 win over outmanned Chattanooga.

The bull-like rushes of Fullback Andy Kozar, who scored two touchdowns, and the play of the Tennessee defensive line were about all that Vol partisans found to cheer.

Sticking to straight football, the Vols scored once each in the first and second periods and twice in the third. Chattanooga fought back for a lone six pointer in the final quarter.

Score by quarters:

Chattanooga	0 0 0 6— 6
Tennessee	7 7 12 0—26

Chattanooga scoring: touchdown, Pribulsky.

Tennessee scoring: touchdowns, Davis, Kozar 2, Byrd. Conversions, Kolenik 2.

Gophers Shade Wildcats In Close Battle, 27-26

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 11 (AP)—Minnesota and Northwestern traded touchdowns in a free scoring game today, but the Gophers converted one more point to win 27 to 26 in the Big Ten opener for both teams before 47,410.

Minnesota came from behind three times, and pushed over the winning touchdown with only 17 seconds to play.

The final Gopher score capped a thrilling drive in which the Gophers moved 42 yards in one minute, 29 seconds.

Score by quarters;

Northwestern	6 0 13 7—26
Minnesota	0 14 0 13—27

HARVARD EASY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 11 (AP)—Harvard's football pride, Dick Clasby turned in a 96 - yard scoring run and hurled a 28-yard touchdown pass to winger Paul Crowley today as Harvard rolled for a 42-0 victory against Washington University of St. Louis.

Game Forfeited When Coach Becomes Irked

MT. PLEASANT, Ia., Oct. 11 (AP)—Iowa Wesleyan today was given a 1-0 forfeit when Dubuque football Coach Moco Mercer apparently protested an official's decision too vigorously.

Referee Francis De Reus said he ordered the game forfeited after Mercer "used profane language" in protesting a pass play with 12 minutes to play in the last quarter and Wesleyan leading 7-0.

Mercer contends Wesleyan Halfback Bob Bagdonas was a "sleeper" when he caught a pass and ran to the Dubuque 1-yard line. De Reus said the officials agreed that Bagdonas was a flanker on the play which Wesleyan had been using all afternoon.

After the officials ruled the play legal, Mercer came onto the field to protest, De Reus said. When told to leave, the referee said, Mercer "started to curse me."

'BAMA SWAMPS VPI, 33 TO 0

Crimson Subs Get Experience After Early Lead

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 11. (AP)—Alabama unveiled two new running stars here today in crushing an outmanned Virginia Polytechnic Institute eleven, 33 to 0.

Corky Tharp, sophomore substitute from Birmingham, scored two touchdowns on long runs and had another nullified by a penalty. Tharp was subbing for right half Bobby Marlow. Alabama's top candidate for All - America.

Bill Oliver, a defensive halfback took over offensive honors to count the final 'Bama touchdown on a 14 - yard pass from sub-quarterback Bobby Duke. He had done most of the gaining to get the ball into the scoring zone.

About 15,000 fans watched Alabama jump into an early lead and then let the subs gather game experience.

The losers, hamstrung by Alabama's ferocious line play, did not register a first down until the third period, and had only 90 yards net for their day's efforts.

Their best scoring chance came late in the final period when Tackle Tom Richards recovered an Alabama fumble on the Tide 25, and 'Bama then got a 5-yard penalty for taking too much time. This opportunity ended on the first play, however, then the ball squirted from Doug Cregar's hands and was recovered by Oliver at the Alabama 21.

Ohio State Shatters Wisconsin's Bowl Dreams With 23 To 14 Upset

Stunned Crowd Of 80,345 See Bucks Crush Badgers

COLUMBUS, O., Oct 11 (AP)—Ohio State's once-beaten Bucks hit the heights of gridiron greatness today as they defeated top-ranked Wisconsin, 23-14, and trampled the Badgers' Rose Bowl hopes deep in the cleat-torn sod of Ohio Stadium.

A stunned crowd of 80,345 watched the underdog Buckeyes outplay the Badgers in practically all departments, halting five Wisconsin drives inside the 20-yard line with its stubborn defense.

Ohio was regarded as the biggest stumbling block in Wisconsin's path to Pasadena and the Bucks proved too big for the visitors to hurdle. The Badgers entered the contest heavy favorites, bearing the banner of the nation's No. 1 team, but the unimpressed Ohioans took charge in the opening minutes and maintained control to win going away.

The Buckeyes left little doubt of their superiority. They marched 88 yards in 12 plays for a touchdown in the first period, 64 yards in six plays for a third-period touchdown, an- 55 yards in 11 plays for a fourth-period score. They tacked on a 68-yard drive in eight plays late in the game for a field goal to clinch the verdict.

Wisconsin also went long distances for its scores, moving 39 yards in seven plays in the second period and 70 yards in nine plays in the final quarter for touchdowns.

GREENIES LIMIT RAMBLIN' WRECK TO 14-0 TRIUMPH

Defeat Comes As 'Moral Victory' For Underdog Wave

ATLANTA, Oct. 11 (AP)—Payoff surges by air and ground in the waning seconds of the second and fourth quarters gave Georgia Tech a 14-0 victory over Tulane today. The victory ran Tech's unbeaten streak to 18 games stretching across three seasons.

Tech added lustre to its rating as the nation's fifth best football machine in The Associated Press poll by counting on a pass from Bill Birgman to giant end Buck Martin with 57 seconds remaining in the first half. The precision-polished Yellowjackets then struck for a score via the ground with 41 seconds left in the game when reserve fullback Jimmy Johnson bulled across from the 2.

Pepper Rodgers added both extra points.

Maturing swiftly as a T-master, sophomore quarterback Brigman took to the air brilliantly in the second quarter after a stout Tulane defense stymied tech's heralded running game.

The cool youngster found the lanky Martin alone at the Tulane 5 and hit him with a 39-yard pitch to send Tech ahead just before the half-time signal. In a series of downs just prior to the game's first score he passed successfully to Martin three straight times through a porous Tulane air defense.

In the fourth quarter, after Tulane gambled and lost on a fourth down bid for more time at its 27, Tech pounced on the opportunity and moved quickly to a score in seven plays. A 10-yard pass was the longest gain.

Tech's passing patterns, far more deceptive than those employed by Tulane, proved the difference—with a big assist from a tigerish Tech defensive line, which has done much to keep their legions unbeaten since November 1950.

With Tech leaning slightly to the conservative side during the second half, Tulane's attack stalled time after time in the face of Tech's lighter but infinitely more clever defensive platoon.

Brigman's superb first - half throwing — eight completions in 12 tries for 135 yards — marked the difference between the combatants' versatile offenses.

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdowns — Martin, Johnson, Conversion, Rogers 2.

OLE MISS TIES VANDY, 21-21

Underdog Commodores Led By Freshman Sensation

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 11 (AP)—Freshman Quarterback Bill Krietemeyer picked an underdog Vanderbilt football team up off the turf in the last quarter today and led the Commodores to an upset 21-21 tie with favored Mississippi in a Southeastern Conference contest.

Twice during the final period the sensational Krietemeyer and his mates were on the verge of forging ahead for keeps. Once the drive stalled on the Mississippi two and a few minutes later a field goal attempt from the Mississippi 29 was short.

Entering the game a two touchdown underdog, the Commodores actually held a brief 7-6 lead at one time in the second quarter. They were ahead late in the fourth quarter, 21-19.

The Rebels, presenting a shifty pack of runners and a great passer in little Jimmy Lear tunred an intercepted pass and a Vanderbilt fumble into two touchdowns, but even so, it took a blocked punt and a safety to give the Rebels a tie game.

Score by quarters;

HEADING MONROE'S FIRST professional fight card in many years will be the appearance of Norris Ray, (above), hard-punching Bastrop middleweight, who meets Charlie Brackie of Memphis, Tenn., in the main ten - rounder at Gus Kallio's Arena here tomorrow night.

Professional Boxing Makes Debut Tomorrow Night At Kallio's Arena

Bastrop Bomber, Norris Ray, Featured In Main Event

Monday night Gus Kallio's Arena will inaugurate its every - other-week boxing program, with the Bastrop belter, Norris Ray, making his first Monroe appearance in the feature ten-rounder against Charlie "Bad Boy" Brackie, of Memphis, Tenn.

Much has been said and written about Ray's punching ability; tomorrow night the locals will have the opportunity to judge for themselves when he meets the rough and ready Tennessee boxer.

Three supporting bouts complete the card, and according to promoter Gus Kallio and Matchmakers Ray and Larche Cambell, great pains have been taken to secure only the best boxers and crowd-pleasers for the opening program.

In the semi-final, Earl Pardon, the Oak Grove boxing master faces a real crowd-pleaser in Ray "Jitterbug" Smith of New Orleans. This featherweight bout is scheduled for six rounds.

The first of the four-rounders is between two Negro heavies, Joe Holmes, tough Monroe glassman, and Mickie Meekins, a former Bastrop soldier. The other four-rounder brings together middleweights Joe Sultan of Monroe, and Jackie Nuccio of Memphis, both of whom are highly skilled ring workmen.

The Philadelphia Orchestra, which gave its first program in 1900, is the youngest of the Big Three symphony orchestras of America. The New York Philharmonic-Symphony, originally the New York Philharmonic, celebrated its centenary in 1942, and the Boston Symphony Orcestra gave its first season in 1881-1882.

MUSTANGS RUN OVER MISSOURI

S. M. U. Stampedes Erratic Tigers By 25-7 Margin

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 11 (AP)—Southern Methodist University's Mustangs got their attack rolling for the first time this season and smeared Missouri's erratic Tigers 25 to 7, in a non-conference football game today.

Fullback Al Hansen, who made two of the S. M. U.'s touchdowns, scored first in the second quarter.

Except for the Missouri touchdown, which cut S. M. U.'s lead to 12-7, the Mustangs were on top and well ahead all the way.

PRINCETON WIN STREAK BROKEN

Penn Shatters Longest Collegiate Skein, 13 To 7

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 11 (AP)—The bulldozer rushes of Joe Varaitis and the pass-snatching wizardry of the Penn defense shattered football's longest winning streak today as Pennsylvania defeated Princeton 13 to 7.

Princeton had run up a string of 24 straight victories since losing to Cornell October 22, 1949. But without the men like Dick Kazmaier who made that string possible, the Tiger offense sputtered and stalled when it got within scoring range today.

George Boessler, the No. 1 margin of the amazing Penn defense, snatched three Princeton passes out of the air and two of them were labeled touchdown. Ed Surmiak and Noel Schmidt each grabbed one and once Princeton fumbled away a scoring chance.

Princeton threatened no fewer than a half dozen times after Penn had completed it scoring, and only one threat produced a touchdown.

Score by quarters:

Penn	0 13 0 0—13
Princeton	0 7 0 0— 7

Perkins Sparks Orange Over Big Red, 26 To 6

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP)—Ray Perkins' touchdown dashes of 73 and 78 yards set the pace for a thumping 26-6 Syracuse football triumph over Cornell today.

His running mate at left halfback Bob Leberman, also hit for two—one on a 54-yard romp and another from the six-yard line.

A crowd estimated at 23,000 saw the Orange punch out 340 yards rushing to the Big Red's 196, but fell short on passing, 87 to 120 yards.

TIGERS AWAIT BEARCATS; LIONS VISIT INDIANS

NEVILLE'S TITLE HOPES TO HINGE ON RUSTON TILT

Bengals Host To Strong Lincoln Parish Club Friday

The Ruston High School Bearcats, defending district and state Class A football champions, boasting a string of 21 consecutive victories, move into Monroe Friday night for their annual battle with the Neville High School Tigers. Neville's district championship hopes will no doubt go with the result of the game.

Neville, like Ruston, goes into the game undefeated in conference play this season although Coach Bill Ruple's Bengals have twice lost to higher classification teams.

Neville has defeated Ruston only twice since Coach "Hoss" Garrett took over the Bearcats in 1937, although the Bengals won a thriller that season 33-26. Since then the Tigers won out only 14-13 in 1948 and 6-0 in 1949. Ruston squared the '48 defeat in the same season by beating Neville 19-0 in a district playoff.

Coach Garrett has just about the same outfit back that easily defeated Neville 19-0 last year and went on to the state title.

All-State Tackle "Red" Deloney, a 215-pounder, and All-State Halfback Charlie Barham, son of Lieutenant Governor "Cap" Barham, are back to spark the Bearcats. In Pat Hinton, right guard, and Tommy Hinton, right tackle, Ruston has two of the most aggressive boys ever to wear a Bearcat uniform. The Hinton boys each weigh 195.

Along with Barham, the district's leading scorer, Ruston has big Buck Stewart 170, quarterback; Bill Smith 190, fullback; and Dicky Hinton, speedy right half.

"The way things are shaping up, the Bearcats will keep their victory string intact," opined Coach Ruple. "It may be a long night for Neville unless we can come up with an upset punch."

Middies Trample W. & M., 14 To 0

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 11 (AP)—The ramparts of Navy's defense were unassailable again today while Quarterback Bob Cameron's spectacular passing winged the undefeated Middies to a 14-0 victory over William and Mary.

By racking up three straight victories this year, Navy equalled the most games won by a Middie football team in a season since 1945.

Counting victories in last year's final two games, Coach Eddie Erdelatz's team has a string of five straight for its longest in the post-war era.

TECH OPENS NEW GYM THIS WEEK

Football Homecoming Also To Be Celebrated Saturday

RUSTON, La., Oct. 11 (Special)—Visitations to Louisiana Tech's new gymnasium, now nearing completion, will be among the highlights of homecoming on Saturday, October 25, when a football game with Louisiana College at 2 p. m. will be the featured attraction of the day.

Details of the annual alumni reunion were worked out here by members of the executive council of the Tech Alumni Association, with J. A. Shelby of Arcadia, president, presiding at a meeting in Iva Adams cafeteria, Alumni Secretary Berry Hinton announced.

Others attending the meeting were F. C. Haley, Homer; J. D. Brown, Minden; Fred Preaus, Farmerville; A. T. Givens and A. D. Williams, Monroe; Mrs. Bill Spiers, Rayville; Harper Willis, Winnsboro; W. T. Holloway, Jonesboro; Russell Terry Winnfield; J. Dargan Brooks, Jena; and R. L. Ropp, president of Tech.

The general program for homecoming is as follows:

Coffee in Adams hall lounge and open house by fraternities, sororities and new dormitories, 10 a. m. to 12 a. m.; parade, with the Student Senate in charge, 12:30 p. m.; football game, 2 p. m.; alumni barbecue, with H. C. Pyburn in charge, 5 p. m. in Aswell Gardens; annual business meeting of the alumni, 6:30 p. m.; homecoming dance, sponsored by the T-club in the women's gymnasium, at 8 p. m.

At the business meeting, officers of the alumni group will be elected. Holloway was appointed by President Shelby as chairman of the nominating committee. Other members of the committee are Brooks, Terry and Mrs. Spiers.

R. I. U. Conquers Brown First Time In 17 Years

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 11 (AP)—Bob Dispirito, Rhode Island's brilliant captain, kicked a point after touchdown with three minutes to play and gave the Rams a 7-6 victory over Brown today.

Don Almy dashed over from the eight for the Rams' touchdown and, after Dispirito's kick, he Rams had their first victory in 17 years over the Bruins.

Navy Gets Goat Back In Time For W. & M.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 11 (AP)—The stealthy kidnappers who got Navy's goat gave it back today.

The mascot, a pure Angora named Bill XII, was stolen from the naval academy last Thursday night.

Picking up the scent Navy supporters directed a suspicious stare at the University of Maryland, whose students have exchanged campus-painting raids with midshipmen before several athletic contests between the rival institutions. Navy and Maryland play each other in football next week.

Between the halves of today's homecoming game with William and Mary here, Capt. C. A. Buchanan, commandant of midshipmen, announced:

"The individuals of the University of Maryland who took the goat Thursday night returned same with the explanation they didn't realize it was Navy's homecoming."

Bill XII had trotted onto the sidelines a few minutes earlier. Five minutes after his appearance Navy scored a touchdown to take a 7-0 halftime lead over William and Mary.

Red Hot Uclans Slaughter Owls

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11 (AP)—Ready Teddy Marleski, who connected with two touchdown strikes, combined with a superb defensive U. C. L. A. wrecking crew today to shoot down the Rice Owls in an intersectional football game by a 20 to 0 score.

Tiny Ted, 155-pound tailback, sent the Pacific Coast Conference Uclans into a 13-0 lead at the half with two touchdown throws, one for 12 yards to giant Right End Ernie Stockert, the other for 14 yards to opposite end Ike Jones.

The win was the fourth straight this season for Coach Red Sanders' Bruins, and their second over a Southwest Conference invader. Two weeks ago U. C. L. A. shut out Texas Christian, 14-0.

OUACHITA GOES TO SHREVEPORT FOR FAIR PARK

North District's Top 'AA' Game Billed For Friday

The big game of the year for the Ouachita Parish High School Lions comes up Friday night when Coach Jim Hodgins takes his O.P.H.S. outfit to Shreveport to face the threat of the Fair Park Indians and the running power of All-State Tommy Davis, great Fair Park back.

This is the game the "experts" were pointing for in pre-season doping when the Lions were picked as the club most likely to succeed the Indians as north Louisiana Class AA champions. But Ouachita, although looking something like its old self in racking up 20 points in the first quarter of the Haynesville game here Friday night, is considered as having much hope of stopping the Tribe now.

Fair Park, third ranked in the state the past week after holding Istrouma's defending state champs to a 2-0 win the week before, now rule as a solid favorite as the twice-beaten Lions are given little hope of springing an upset.

Last year the F. P. boys socked Ouachita 21-6. With few exceptions, just about the same lineups will be in action this time.

Ouachita shows a 1-1 record in a conference play. A defeat Friday would end Lion title dreams.

A lot will depend on the Ouachita line of Lytle Matkins, Paul Fleming, Ralph Bailey, Doyle Holstead, Rodney Cannon, Billy Watson, Jimmy Berry and Delbert Wheeler this week. They were working hard for a half in the defeat of Haynesville, 7-14, and it was strong defensive play that jarred Tornado backs loose from balls on two occasions to set up Lion touchdowns. They'll have a major task this trip in trying to stop Davis, and they'll have to keep it up all the way.

Bars of iron more than a foot long once were used as currency in England.

Gus Kallio To Referee 'Fair And Square' Title Match

Lightheavyweight champ Henry Harrell and challenger Rex Mobley will battle Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena for the second time to determine who is the legitimate-untarnished champion.

Last week's tussle between the two left a cloud of doubt over the title, with referee Pat Willis declaring Henry the victor but commissioner David Silverstein and many fans declaring the final fall was accomplished illegally, claiming champ Harrell's feet were braced against the ropes at the time.

Tuesday's match will be "fair and square" says promoter Kallio, and to make sure it is, none other than Gus himself will handle the refereeing duties. Everyone is aware of the fact that Gus, both as lightweight champion of the world and as occasional referee, has always believed in a square deal, so fans can rest assured that Tuesday's Harrell-Mobley bout will decide the undisputed wearer of the light-heavy crown.

The light-heavy belt, held in Monroe by wrestling commissioner David Silverstein after last week's bout, is on display in the window of Silverstein's on DeSiard St.

The semi-final pits a familiar warrior in these parts, the Black Phantom, against "Sockeye" McDonald, winner last week in the best of three falls over "Wild Bill" Steddum. Hostilities commence at 8 o'clock.

Rebuilding Bucs Obtain Catcher And Infielder

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, taking steps to make over their last-place team for next season, today obtained infielder Dick Cole and catcher Mike Sandlock from Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League in exchange for three players.

Quiet Step Takes Roamer Handicap

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—The Apheim stable's Quiet Step defeated the favored Tom Fool from the Greentree stable today in the $47,100 Roamer Handicap for three-year-olds at Jamaica. The King Ranch's Risque Rouge was third.

Ridden by Hedley Woodhouse and carrying only 111 pounds compared with 126 aboard Tom Fool, Quiet Step negotiated the mile and three sixteenths in 1:55 4-5 compared with Lucky Draw's track record of 1:55 1-5 set in 1946.

The winner, a chestnut son of Some Chance, paid $21.90, $6.20 and $3.40. Tom Fool, the 1951 juvenile champion, returned $2.90 and $2.50 and Risque Rouge was $4.80 to show.

Ted Atkinson, riding Tom Fool, was shooting for his fifth in row but Quiet Step, leading most of the way, took the decision by two lengths. The victory netted the winner $32,600.

Rados Passes Nittany Lions Over W. Virginia

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 11 (AP)—Tony Rados' short rapier passes set Penn State off on a 35-21 victory over West Virginia today after a 14-14 halftime deadlock fashioned largely by the losers' defense.

Rados completed two passes of 10 and 11 yards to End Jesse Arnelle, and a heave to Joe Yukica for 12, to spark the Nittany Lions on a 48-yard march for a third-period score which put them ahead to stay.

Score by quarters:

Penn State	7	7	14	7	—35
West Virginia	7	7	0	7	—21

PASSES HELP H. C.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—Charlie Maloy whipped three scoring passes through New York University's porous defense today to lead the powerful Holy Cross eleven to its third straight win by a lopsided 35-0 score.

SOONERS DRUB TEXANS, 49-20

Oklahoma Awes Texas Crowd With Power Display

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP)—Oklahoma shocked fumbling, bumbling Texas with four touchdowns in the first period and went on to win this storied intersectional football game 49-20 today in one of the greatest offensive shows the Cotton Bowl ever saw.

Eddie Crowder leveled the Texas defenses with slingshot passing and Buddy Leake, Billy Vessels and Buck McPhail riddled he Longhorn line as the Sooners slashed and tore in a display for power and finesse that awed the 75,504 fans jammed into the big saucer.

It was the most points ever scored in a Texas-Oklahoma game and the most Oklahoma had scored since 1908 when the Sooners beat Texas 50-0.

M'NEESE OVERPOWERS NORTHEAST, 41 TO 7

REDSKINS CRACK AFTER BATTLING CLOSE 1ST HALF

Cowboys Go Wild Last Half For 6th Straight Over Tribe

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 11 (Special)—After meeting surprising first half resistance, the McNeese State Cowboys finally cracked the Northeast Louisiana State Indians' defense for good in the last half to march to a 41 to 7 triumph over their rivals from Monroe. It was the sixth straight win for the Cowboys over their upstate rivals.

The Indians, appearing to disbelieve odds that had McNeese rated a good three to four touchdowns better, were trailing only 13-7 at the half, but the 'Pokes began to sift through a crippled Northeast defensive unit with more ease as the game wore on.

The Northeast touchdown was counted with three minutes left in the first half when end Robert Gunter broke free on an end-around play and scampered 40 yards to paydirt. Mark Boatright booted the point.

McNeese staged a 73-yard drive for its first touchdown, scored by Jesse Bastete on a buck from three yards out. The Cowboys got another 70-yard march underway before the first half ended, with a pass, Lester Landry to Harold Wood, connecting for 43 yards and a touchdown.

Early in the third quarter McNeese covered a fumble on the Cowboys' 46 and hammered to the Redskins' one to set up a touchdown plunge for Jules Derouen.

A few minutes later "Red" Nix of Northeast was trapped on an attempted punt, and McNeese took over on the Indian 17. It took three plays for Derouen to score on a pitchout from Lester Landry.

The Cowboys tapered off with two last quarter touchdowns. A 68-yard pass play, Landry to Richard Breaux, accounted for one, and the other, a six-yard pass from Val Sweeney to Charles Kuehn, ll-maxed a 59-yard drive.

End Roy Price booted five out of six conversion attempts for McNeese.

The Redskins ept McNeese's passing well bottled in he first half, but Landry began to get in telling pitches in he ast half. Pat Mayo, defensive Indian back, twice spiked his tosses with interceptions that were run back for 55 and 40 yards, the last in the final second of play.

Bears Rally Late To Crush Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11 (AP)—California's Bears lazed through the first half, but when Oregon made it close, the Bears turned loose their power to run up a 41-7 coast conference football victory today.

It was the first conference test of the season for the Bears, ranked No. 3 in the nation, and when they found themselves in a 7 - 7 deadlock at halftime, they burst loose for five touchdowns in the second half.

Their vaunted fullback, John Olszewski, contributed two of them, one on a 70-yard jaunt around end.

Score by quarters:

California	7	0	20	14—41
Oregon	0	7	0	0— 7

California scoring: Touchdowns, Olszewski 2, Powell, Ellis Larson, Brooks. Conversions, Keough 5.

Oregon scoring: Touchdown, Lyman. Conversion, Harvey.

Duke Wins Over South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 11 (AP)—Duke university flashed some smooth passing to capitalize on fumbles recoveries in smashing South Carolina, 33-7, today in a Southern Conference football game.

South Carolina fumbles set up the first two Duke touchdowns. The Blue Devils cashed in with 40 and 49 - yard touchdown drives. After that Duke was able to move the ball pretty much at will.

Score by quarters;

Duke	6	14	6	7—33
South Carolina	0	0	7	0— 7

Millsaps Thumps Ouachita, 13 To 0

The Millsaps Panthers of West Monroe punched over two early touchdowns to defeat Ouachita Grammar, 13 to 0, in a Ouachita Elementary Football League game Friday.

George Ward scored first from eight yards out, and Pat Hyland returned an intercepted pass 60 yards for the next in the second quarter. Hyland also converted once.

Outstanding on defense for Millsaps were Pipes, Black, Whitehead, and Caldwell as they had a big hand in holding Ouachita to two first downs.

Coach Tommy Wilson's Panthers next meet Lenwil at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the West Monroe playground.

Tritium 1st In Big Stake Race

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 11 (AP)—With only one previous race to her record, Brookmeade stable's Tritium vaulted from the ranks of the unknown to account for one of the nation's richest 2-year-old filly races when she won the $55,180 Selima Stakes today by a length and a quarter over Ogden Phipps' His Duchess.

The daughter of Cosmic Bomb earned a $42.330 check and returned a $6.80 mutuel to her backers in the crowd of 14,678.

Long Shot Cops Closing Feature At Hawthorne

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (AP)—Longshot Recline nosed out Unbridled in the $10.000 Illinois Owners' Handicap, feature of today's closing program at Hawthorne Park. Dr. Ole Nelson, the favorite, was third.

The winner paid $35.40, $10.60, and $4.60. Unbridled paid $5.00 and $3.20 and Dr. Ole Nelson $2.60. Time for the mile and one sixteenth was 1:43 1-5.

Recline trailed the pacesetting Unbridled until the stretch when he opened up for a nose victory at the tape. Dr. Ole Nelson was a neck behind Unbridled.

Boss Of Redlegs On Tennessee Honeymoon

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11 (AP)—Powell Crosby, Jr., retired Cincinnati industrialist and the president of the Cincinnati Reds, was honeymooning in Tennessee with his bride today, his daughter reported.

Mrs Stanley Kess said her father was married at Carlisle, Ky., yesterday to Miss Eva Brokaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew I. Brokaw of suburban Indian Hill. Brokaw was identified as a prominent Cincinnati businessman.

Crosley is a widower, his first wife having died about 14 years ago. Mrs. Kess said Miss Brokaw had one previous marriage which ended in divorce.

PURDUE SOARING AFTER IOWA WIN

Boilermakers Now Head Big Ten, Vision Rose Bowl

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 11 (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers overwhelmed the Iowa Hawkeyes today 41-14, to become the only undefeated football team in the Big Ten and the favorite to go to the Rose Bowl.

With Quarterback Dale Samuels passing for long gains and plowboy Max Schmaling churning out the important short ones, Purdue had a 27-0 margin before Iowa scored.

Purdue was so clearly superior after running up a two-touchdown lead in the first quarter that the homecoming crowd of 34,000 set back and beamed quietly.

Samuels threw the 19th and 20th touchdowns on his Purdue career, hitting End John Kerr for 35 yards for the Boilermakers' first touchdown period. He flipped one to End Bernard Flowers on another 35-yard scoring play in the third period.

Schmaling got Purdue's second and third touchdowns on short plunges after they were set up by Samuels' passes to Flowers and Rex Brock.

Samuels scored himself on a three-yard sneak in the last quarter. Sub-fullback Bob Leonard got the last one by intercepting Bob Stearnes' pass and running 70 yards in the last 10 seconds of the game.

Score by quarters:

Iowa	0	0	0	14—14
Purdue	13	7	7	14—41

Purdue scoring: Touchdowns, Kerr, Schmaling 2, Flowers, Samuels, Leonard. Conversions, Samuels 5.

Monroe Bulldogs Blast Grambling

E. Spears and Worthy were the big guns in the Bulldogs offensive power that stunned the Kittens. E. Spears a candidate for Negro All-State galloped for two touchdowns running his points up to 48 for the season.

Quarterback Napoleon tossed a long pass to Left End Love that set up the Bulldogs first touchdown early in the first quarter which was climaxed with a drive by Worthy putting Monroe out in front 6-0.

A blocked punt by Monroe set up the second touchdown and Holman drove the ball over for the extra point making the score, 13-0.

Just before the half ended another blocked punt by J. Spears and Wilson gave the Bulldogs another chance to score on a 45-yard dash by E. Spears.

Fumbles and penalties marred the second half. Late in the third quarter Napoleon heaved a touchdown pass to Right End Reed that was good for 18 yards. When the game ended the Bulldogs were knocking at the goal line again.

Stanford Steams To 41-28 Triumph

PALO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP)—Stanford backs sliced down the field like race horses today to build up a big lead on Oregon State, then went into a fumbling act in the final period that cost three touchdowns and cut their winning football score to 41-28.

The action - packed game was watched by 28,000 fans who thrilled to a 96-yard touchdown dash by Stanford Right Half Bill Rogers in the first period. It was a second record for distance from scrimmage.

Stanford's husky Fullback Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion, went for a 61-yard scoring ramble in the third period. In the same quarter, safety man Joe St. Geme intercepted an Oregon State pass and darted down the sidelines 60 yards for another score.

Score by quarters:

Oregon State	0	0	7	21—28

Detroit's Walt Dropo Married At Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, Oct. 11 (AP)—Walt Dropo, first baseman for the Detroit Tigers, was married here today to Miss Terrill Wise of San Francisco.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, aviation cadet William Wise, presently stationed at Bainbridge, Ga.

Nebraska Loses Reynolds While Socking K-State

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 11 (AP)— All-America Bob Reynolds swirled around Kansas State's end to put the ball in position for Nebraska's second touchdown today, then walked off the field with a shoulder injury that ended his season.

Nebraska won, 27 to 14, but the injury to Reynolds left the crowd of over 39,000 without joy.

It was in 1950 that Reynolds made the Associated Press All-America team as a sophomore. But he was on the bench most of last season with a right shoulder separation suffered just before the season started.

WOLVERINES TAG HOOSIERS, 28-13

Michigan Makes Success Of Western Conference Debut

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Oct. 11 (AP)—Michigan's sputtering football machine finally got into gear in the second half today and rolled over Indiana 28-13 before a crowd of 58,200.

Tony Branoff, Michigan's burly second semester freshman, came alive after the intermission and scored the touchdown that gave momentum to the Wolverines and a 14 - 6 lead.

Lowell Perry, pass - grabbing Michigan end, clinched the victory by picking off two end zone passes from Junior Halfback Ted Kress.

After a first half in which the Indiana team seemed to gain strength every minute, the Wolverines took over and scored three times without letting Indiana inside their 23 yard line.

The victory made michigan's Western Conference debut a success after the non-league losses and handed the Hoosiers their second Big Ten loss in three starts.

Indiana	0	6	0	7—13
Michigan	0	7	14	7—28

Michigan scoring: touchdowns, Topor, Branoff, Perry 2. Conversions: Ruscorla, McDonald 3.

Houston Cougars Trip Tulsa, 33-7

HOUSTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—The University of Houston tonight smashed unbeaten Tulsa, 33-7, and used a defense that matched its offense as a touchdown threat to do it.

Two blocked punts and a fumble after a bone jarring tackle staked Houston to three of its five touchdowns and a dead-eye passer, Bobby Clatterbuck, accounted for the others.

Tulsa stayed in the ball game for the first quarter, but Houston made it a rout after that to jump into the favorite's role in the Missouri Valley Conference championship chase.

Score by quarters:

Tulsa	7	0	0	0— 7
Houston	7	7	12	7—33

Tulsa scoring: Touchdown, Kircher; Conversion: Miner.

Houston scoring: Touchdowns, Carr, Hampel 2, Gilloz, Meeks; Conversions: Howton, 3.

N. C. State In Rebound Against Davidson, 28-6

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 11 (AP)—North Carolina State Wolfpack, banged around by two opponents this season, reversed the tables today and routed Davidson, 28-6, in a Southern Conference football game.

Score by quarters:

Davidson	0	0	6	0— 6
N. C. State	14	7	7	0—28

Davidson scoring: touchdown, Gray.

Bulldogs Of Louisiana Tech March To Fourth Straight Win Of Season

Ruston Eleven Smashes Central Oklahoma, 34 To 6

RUSTON, La., Oct. 11 (AP) —Louisiana Tech walloped Central Oklahoma State 34-6 here tonight after turning loose a Little All-America nominee and two freshmen for four touchdowns in the second half.

Jackie Martin, a junior prospect for the Little All-America team, performed brilliantly, scampering 48 yards in four carries for Tech's first score in the third quarter. Bud McMichael converted.

Russell Rainbolt, a freshman halfback, went 22 yards for the second Tech touchdown in the third quarter and soon repeated with a 14-yard scoring spring. McMichael made one conversion.

Freshman quarterback Milford Andrews passed 12 yards to Billy Ray Wiggins for the Tech touchdown in the fourth period, with McMichael converting.

In the first half the teams battled on fairly even terms, with Tech leading 7-6 at intermission.

Martin climaxed an 85-yard drive in the first quarter with a 26-yard caper around end. He crossed the goal with one tackle on his back.

McMichael attempted to run for the conversion. He fumbled, but guard J e SCtorts recovered in the end zone for the point.

Central Oklahoma punched across its touchdown in the second period after Kenneth Lindsey recovered a Tech fumble on the visitors' 44. The touchdown came on a 34 - yard pass from Dan Hoove to Don Noland. George Miller's conversion atempt was low.

Army Surprises Dartmouth, 37-7

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP) —Pete Vann, a sophomore quarterback in the tradition of Army's great football field generals, led the Cadets to an amazing 37-7 victory today over Dartmouth.

This is the highest score run up by Army since the cribbing dismissals riddled the squad before the 1951 season and it was achieved over a Dartmouth team that last week held Penn 7-0.

The flashing Army offense, looking like Coach Earl Blaik's irresistible teams of a few years ago, was concentrated entirely in the first half and was highlighted by a 66-yard scoring play, Pete Vann's pass to Fred Attaya. Attaya caught the ball on Dartmouth's 25 and ran the rest of the way.

Score by quarters:

Dartmouth	0	0	7	0— 7
Army	16	21	0	0—37

Dartmouth scoring: touchdowns, Donohue. Conversion, Springer.

Illini Soar Over Huskies, 48 To 14

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 11 (AP)—Tommy O'Connell took charge of a spectacular football airlift today by hurling five touchdown passes within 20 minutes to pilot Illinois to a smashing 48-14 intersectional victory over the Washington Huskies.

The Illini, bouncing back from a licking at Wisconsin a week ago, gave 48,248 fans a tremendous thrill by rolling up a 28-0 first quarter margin and ballooning it to 42 to 0 at half-time.

Score by quarters:

Illinois	28	14	6	0—48
Washington	0	0	0	14—14

SALEM GETS NOD

DETROIT, Oct. 11 (AP) — Tommy Salem 127¼, of Cleveland, scored an eight round decision tonight over Dave Rollins, 128½, of Detroit, in the main event at Motor City Arena.

3 Losers Among Nation's Top 10

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Here's how the top ten college football teams, as determined in the Associated Press weekly poll, fared today:

1. Wisconsin, lost to Ohio State, 23 to 14.
2. Michigan State, defeated Texas A. and M., 48 to 6.
3. California, defeated Oregon, 41 to 7.
4. Maryland, defeated Georgia, 37 to 0.
5. Georgia Tech, defeated Tulane, 14 to 0.
6. Duke, defeated South Carolina, 33 to 7.
7. Southern California, defeated San Diego Navy, 20 to 6 Friday night.
8. Notre Dame, lost to Pittsburg, 22 to 19.
9. Kansas, defeated Iowa State, 43 to 0.
10. Princeton, lost to Pennsylvania, 13 to 7.

PORKERS SPRING UPSET ON BEARS

Arkansas Comes To Life To Stun Baylor Machine, 20-17

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 11 (AP)—Arkansas' Razorbacks threw four offensive formations and a host of pile-driving backs at the Baylor Bears tonight to score an upset, 20-17, Southwest Conference football victory.

A crowd of 25,000 watched the fired-up Razorbacks drive the previously unbeaten Bears crazy with the split-T, the tight T, the spread, and the deep split T formation. And, but for some butter-fingered pass receivers and untimely penalties, Arkansas could have had a larger margin.

Ralph Troillett, a third-string quarterback who had spent most of his time on the bench last year and so far this season, herded the Razorbacks to a pair of second-half touchdowns that spelled the difference.

Entering the game when All Southwest Conference Lamar McHan was carried out with an injured leg in the third quarter, Troillett's faking and passing featured a drive to the Baylor one, from where he sneaked over.

Then, in the final period, Arkansas marched 66 yards, mostly on line smashes by Jack Troxell, Murry Elton and Lewis Carpenter. Troillett flipped a 13-yard pass to Elton for the touchdown.

That put Baylor behind, 20-10, but the visitors proceeded to scare the daylights out of Arkansas in the last four minutes as Billy Hooper carried the Bears 75 yards on two plays for one score.

Dallas, Cleveland Agreement Ending

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP)— The Dallas Eagles of the Texas Baseball League and the Cleveland Indians have severed the working agreement which has been in effect two seasons.

R. W. (Dick) Burnett, owner of the Dallas club, announced today the pact has been ended despite the fact it had one more year to run. He said the Eagles may have to operate as an independent club in 1953.

Burnett said, however, that a "limited agreement" may result when the Manager Dutch Meyer of the Eagles and General Manager Hank Greenberg of Cleveland meet later this month at Cleveland.

"If a satisfactory arrangement on players to be optioned to the Dallas club can be worked out, a new pact will possibly be signed," the announcement said.

If there is no new pact the Eagles will again operate as an independent team, Burnett said.

BENGALS CHEW ON ISLANDERS

Waterproof Defeats Sicily Island 40-7 For 4th 'B' Win

WATERPROOF, La., Oct. 11 (Special)—The Waterproof High School gridders rolled over the Sicily Island eleven here Friday night by a 40-7 score.

The Tensas Tigers, chalking up their fourth straight Class B win, were sparked by halfback Louis Preis, who scored four TD's on runs of 11, 48, 35 and 68 yards. End Mervin Wampold scored another Tiger TD on a 39 yard pass play from quarterback J. D. Stockstill. Fullback Joe Cornet dashed off the longest run of the game with a 70 yard jaunt to score the final Waterproof tally. Preis ran over three extra points, and Stockstill one.

Sicily Island struck paydirt in the second period on a 28 yard pass play from halfback Thurmon to end Fairbanks. Thurmon converted from placement.

Outstanding for Waterproof besides Preis were guard Dan Chase, Hollis Wallace, and Cornet and Stockstill on offensive blocking.

For the Tigers from Sicily Island, Wampole, halfback Mears, end McGee, tackle Munsen, center Hays, and guard Higginbottom were the shining lights.

The next game for the Waterproof Tigers is at Lake Providence next Friday night in another B Conference game, the Panthers will, without a doubt, be the toughest eleven the Tigers will face all season.

Two Seamen Arrested On Dope Charge

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 11 (AP) —A package found on a downtown street today caused the arrest of two seamen on charges of possessing marijuana and marijuana cigarettes.

An unidentified man found the package and called police, who after having the contents tested by a toxicologist, sought out and arrested the men near a ship which had just docked from Honduras.

Detectives said the men, whom they identified as Jesse James, 26, of 2824 South Saratoga, New Orleans, and Edward Dixon of Philadelphia (age and street address unavailable), admitted orally they brought the marijuana and cigarettes from Port of Cortex, Honduras. They were jailed pending further investigation.

The officers placed a valuation of "several hundred dollars" on the contraband.

Detective Don Riddle said more of the marijuana and cigarettes were found in baggage belonging to the men and in their clothing.

BRONZE TESTIMONIAL PRESENTED

B. T. Moore, left, is shown above receiving a bronze testimonial from L. A. Mailhes, center, General Manager of the Monroe News-Star—World, in recognition of his excellent work in accident prevention and safety work. Wiley Harrell, right, McCain - Richards official, was also present for the occasion, his company having furnished the equipment. Mr. Mailhes presented Moore the plaque on behalf of local contractors who deemed it almost miraculous that over 50,000 single trip loads, using some 50 dump trucks, could be completed in the widening and resurfacing of Highway 80, east of Monroe to Delhi, without a single accident, without injury to any person and with small property damage. Mr. Mailhes extended his congratulations to Moore for a job well done, adding that the page advertisement which was published in the issue of the Monroe News-Star—World, September 18 and 19, 1952, by the Monroe Sand and Gravel Co., The Forcum-James Construction Co., Tom Hicks contractor, McCain-Richards, Inc., was a tribute to Moore for his outstanding safety record in the operation of his trucks. 'Crony Express Ends Up Phony Express' — G. O. P.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP)—The Republican party's self-named "Truth team" said today that President Truman started his coast-to-coast tour "on the Crony Express but ended up on the Phony Express.

"Mr. Truman traveled fast and talked fast but he simply could not keep ahead of the collapsing house of cards he has built," the team declared in a statement.

The team, now consisting of Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa and Sen. Francis Case of South Dakota, has been trailing the President since he started his tour. Its members have been challenging statements made by the President at many of his stops.

In his speech here, the President said this country was doing everything possible to help the people in "Iron Curtain" countries of Eastern Europe.

The Republican senators declared:

"Poland and other Eastern European countries were betrayed when Roosevelt, inspired by Alger Hiss . . ., agreed to let Soviet Russia take 40 per cent of Eastern Poland."

Truman said he had asked the Congress this year for an immigration law that would permit worthy people to enter this country in greater numbers but that instead, Congress passed a bill reenacting the national origin quota system and overrode his veto. He said the bill carried the name of a Democratic senator (Sen. McCarran of Nevada), but that "he is not my kind of Democrat."

Truman said the Republicans in Congress voted by a 4 to 1 margin for the measure.

The GOP senators said that a majority of Democrats in both houses voted for the bill and to override the veto. They said that the President's quarrel was with his own party.

City-Wide Revival Plans To Be Further Developed

A group of interdenominational ministers and laymen church workers will meet Tuesday night to further oil the machinery of a "Twin City - wide Gospel Crusade."

The interdenominational revival, scheduled to begin about the middle of November, will be conducted by Rev. Jack Shuler, nationally known evangelist. the meeting will run about two weeks.

At the meeting Tuesday night, at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe, the local churchmen will set up various committees and chairmen to map plans for the meeting.

An advance committee, composed of Rev. R. A. McCormick, Rev. C. Roger Johnson and Charles Chisholm, has already been established to spearhead the organization of the gospel crusade.

The revival has been identified as "strictly an interdenominational, evangelistic meeting with the cooperation of all denominations." Many local pastors and lay church leaders have already endorsed the revival and assured their support.

It has been agreed that there will be no Sunday morning nor Sunday night services at the revival in order to prevent intrusion into the regular schedules of local churches. However, services will be held Sunday afternoons at 3 p. m. and nightly through the week.

The first revival service will be held Sunday afternoon, Nov. 16.

An open invitation has been extended to "all protestant faiths" to anticipate in the three-week Gospel Crusade.

Adlai Ends Two-Day Stand To Keep Dixie Democratic

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 11 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson closed a two-day battle to keep Dixie Democratic with a sharp reminder tonight that a Republican victory will cost the South positions of power in Congress.

The Democratic presidential nominee, standing firmly on the Democratic platform, interpreted his difference with the South on civil rights as one of method only.

"I do not believe," Stevenson said, "that Southerners have less regard for human dignity than other Americans."

In an address prepared for delivery here tonight at Berry Field, the Illinois governor took a parting fling at Democratic governors—Byrnes of South Carolina, Shivers of Texas, Kennon of Louisiana—who have abandoned his cause and jumped to the Eisenhower camp.

"Embittered apostates" he called them, without speaking their names—men who "proclaim themselves Democrats while supporting the nominee of the Republican party."

Stevenson put in an 18-hour day on the political firing line, a busy day of campaigning here in Tennessee and at Miami and Tampa along a trail Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had followed in early September.

In Miami, where Republican nominee Eisenhower had made a corruption in government speech, Stevenson promised he would fight corruption "ruthlessly."

Also in Miami, and here tonight in Nashville, the Illinois governor jeered at Eisenhower's claim that the South is a neglected, taken-for-granted, captive of the Democrats.

Eisenhower, he said in the Nashville address, has suggested to Southerners that the road to freedom from political captivity lies in following the "embittered apostates."

"I say," the Democratic nominee declared, "it can only lead to the political emasculation of a region which has played a tremendous role in shaping American policy from the dawning days of this nation.

"The suggestion that the South can obtain a national political influence only by bedding down with the GOP runs squarely counter to the record. I would refer these latter-day Mugwumps to a roster of the United States Congress."

He said, the genius of his party lies in its ability to adjust conflicting viewpoints and arrive finally at programs and policies that meet the highest aspirations of all Americans.

Thus the Democratic nominee apparently was attempting to mollify the South a bit on civil rights without retreating from his support of the Democratic plank on that touchy issue.

He laid emphasis on another subject of vital interest to Dixie in saying his term as Illinois governor taught him "the virtues of states rights as a bulwark against big government."

Southerners have contended that racial and other problems which concern them particularly are pretty much a matter for the states themselves to handle.

In Florida, Stevenson charged the GOP with trying to promote a political panic in the South and pledged to fight corruption ruthlessly.

Mrs. M'Kay Honored By Four Generations

Mrs. R. A. McKay celebrated her 86th birthday last week in the home of her son, R. P. McKay, with 14 sets of the fourth generation of her family present.

Mrs. McKay, a native of Mt. Gilead, N. C., moved to Louisiana with her husband in 1907. Since that date she has resided alternately in Monroe and Archibald.

Her husband died in 1936. He was 81 years old.

Mrs. McKay has been a member of the Archibald Baptist church for many years.

Nine of her children were present to join in the celebration.

They were: Mrs. J. M. Roberts and R. B. McKay, both of Alto; J. M. McKay, W. C. McKay, and T. G. McKay, all of Archibald, D. B. McKay, of Mangham, Mrs. W. T. Roberts, C. A. McKay and R. P. McKay, all of Monroe.

Mrs. John Griffin, Natchez, was unable to attend the birthday party.

TALLULAH

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Wood and children left Friday for a visit with relatives in Cleveland, Miss. They also attended the fair in Memphis over the week end.

The Tallulah Home Gardeners had as hostesses Mrs. Louis Tonore and Mrs. Herbert Massey when fifteen members enjoyed a meeting with Mrs. Ralph Loe as speaker. She discussed "Window Green House, Hints and Swaps". An attractive flower arrangement was presented by Mrs. E. B. Towne.

At the close of the session delicious sandwiches, cookies and punch were served.

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church met in the community room of the church with Miss Ruth Hale presiding. Mrs. Lucy Barber gave a devotional and Miss Cary Breckenridge and Miss Mary Moore Mitchell presented an interesting program on literature and publications of the church and other books of a religious nature.

Attending the regional meeting of the Daughters of American Revolution in Monroe were Mrs. T. P. Kell, Mrs. Flora Bowers, Mrs. R. L. Bailey Jr., and Mrs. George Yerger.

Miss Norma Jean Morris, who graduated at the Tallulah High School last session, is now a freshman at Belhaven College in Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. Jesse Anderson has returned from Gainesville, Ga., where her son, Tommy enrolled in Riverside Military Academy.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Miss Tina Theresa DeBlieux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeBlieux, of Bastrop, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Ivy Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Stephenson, also of Bastrop, is announced today. The wedding will be solemnized October 20th at the St. Joseph Catholic Church.

MISS BONNIE CROOM WEDS JAMES HENDERSON ASHLEY

The First Methodist Church in Monohans, Tex., was the setting for the recent marriage of Miss Bonnie Monteith Croom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lawton Croom, and James Henderson Ashley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy James Ashley of New Orleans. Rev. C. C. Gober of the Wickett Methodist Church and the Rev. W. R. Houston, pastor of Frist Methodist, officiated at the beautiful-double ring ceremony.

The altar cross was accentuated by crosses of huckleberry and emerald on either side. Three candelabra holding white cathedral tapers lighted the center and sides of the altar and baskets in the foreground held lovely arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and asters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite gown of white nylon tulle over satin. The fitted bodice, designed with dropped shoulder, was of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls and at her throat she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. The full overskirt ended in a chapel length train. Her graduated veil of illusion gathered into a cap of lace and pearlized orange blossoms.

She wore lace mitts, and carried a colonial bouquet fashioned of Chantilly lace and white rosebuds with a removable pale pink center corsage. For something old she wore an amethyst ring which belonged to her great-grandmother.

Miss Agnes Jones, cousin of the bride, of this city, was maid of honor and Miss Bennie Breese Grant, also a cousin of West Monroe, was junior bridesmaid. Miss Judy Harris and Miss Martha Holland were brides maides.

All of the bride's attendants wore ballerina length dresses of nylon net over satin styled with fitted strapless bodices and net stoles. Their net caps were edged in tiny ruffles with forget-me-nots. They carried colonial bouquets of white asters centered with rubrum lilies and circled by net frills to match their dresses. The maid of honor and junior bridesmaid were dressed in blue, while the bridesmaids wore champagne. All wore blue shoes.

Ronnie Gibson served as best man and Gilberta A. Eimann of Brenham and Teddy T. Croom, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Thomas P. Westbrook played traditional pre - nuptial music and accompanied Teddy Joe Whitmire as he sang "Because" and "Beautiful Dreamer." During the service, the maid of honor, Miss Jones, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the wedding a reception in the church parlor honored the couple. The room was beautifully decorated with white gladioli, mums, asters.

Three aunts of the bride from Monroe served at the reception, Mrs. E. Bailey Grant, presided at the bride's book, Mrs. Frank C. Breese served the double-ring wedding cake and Mrs. F. L. Jones poured punch from the exquisite china punch bowl which was painted by the paternal grandmother of the bride.

For her wedding trip to Colorado, the bride chose a navy blue suit with matching bag and shoes and teal blue hat and gloves.

The couple will make their home in Denton where Mrs. Ashley will continue her studies at North Texas State College. Mr. Ashley is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone in Fort Worth. He attended L. S. U. and graduated from N. T. S. C.

Attending the wedding and reception from Monroe were Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Breese, Mrs. F. L. Jones and Miss Agnes Jones.

Cindy Jane Kelley Celebrates Fifth Birthday At Party

Miss Cindy Jane Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn N. Kelley, celebrated her fifth birthday September 26 with a gay lawn party at her home in West Monroe.

Miss Kay Ray took the prize and offered much to the excitement in blowing the largest bubble with gum. Other prizes were won by Diane Cash, Barry Odom and Butch Morrison.

The lovely table decorations and refreshments were made especially attractive with festive birthday colors carried throughout and a dainty side arrangement of pink baby asters.

Many nice gifts were received by the honoree which were opened and passed around for all to see.

Those helping Cindy celebrate were Jan Spurlock, Sheila and Sharon Heard, Betty and Janice Hammond, Gail Ann Domingues, Dianne and Hugh Cash, Wanda and DeLinda Bryan, Curtis Rape, Patty and Peggy Bogard, Dennis Foreman, Sue Sawyer, Barry Odom and Butch Morrison.

Camembert cheese should be left out of the refrigerator for several hours before it is served. Its interior should be creamy, almost fluid, and its thin crust is edible.

Business & Professional Girls' Club

At the annual week-end conference for employed girls in the Y. W. C. A. which was held at El Dorado, Ark., October 4th-5th Miss Marion Simmons was elected the conference chairman for the Arkansas - Monroe, Louisiana Clubs for 1953. Monroe B. & P. Club had charge of the breakfast program with the theme: "Never Underestimate the Power of A Woman . . . Just One Woman." Marion Simmons was the narrator for the presentation. The skit was the presentation of what "just one woman" did in certain fields of service: Florence Nightingale, Clara Barton, Madam Curie, Susan B. Anthony, Amelia Earhart, Jane Addams, and "Grandma" Moses. Bobbye Beach, Jenibe Westbrook, Kiki Gatzoulas, Phoebe Miller, Pat Patrick, Ella Pearl Sutton, and Helen Crosby were the girls who presented the skit, which was written by Jenibe Westbrook. At the "chuck wagon party" on Saturday night the Monroe Club also presented a clever and enjoyable skit: "The Supreme Sacrifice" with the following girls taking part: Maude Brownlee, Ella Pearl Sutton, Pat Patrick, Frances McClary, Phoebe Miller, Marion Simmons, and Miss Sharp. The theme for the conference was "It Can't Be Whole Without Us" and was an interpretation of the Y. W. C. A., locally, nationally, and on an international scale with the great part the employed girls play in the Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. G. M. Sparling, a national board member was the main speaker for the meetings and the banquet speaker on Saturday night. Miss Gladys Hampton from Hot Springs served as the conference chairman.

Y-ves' Club

Attractive interpretative are being sent out to young women in the community regarding the program and activities offered at the Y. W. C. A. for young matrons. A nursery is provided for children during the Y-ves' meeting so that mothers can attend the Y-ves' activities. Interesting programs and activities are planned for this group: book reviews, discussions on topics of interest to the members, bridge, making Christmas cards, figurine painting, huck towel weaving, and gift wrappings. The club meets on Wednesday morning at 9:30 a.m. at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Carl Davis is president of the club.

Y-Teens

All Y-Teens have been giving of their time this week for a service project by assisting the TB Association with the folding of the Christmas Seals. Each club during their activity period has had a part in folding the seals.

Lillian Roddy, president of the Honest Injuns' Club, presided at their regular club meeting on Monday afternoon. Sue Wade gave the devotional. This group voted to send a box to the Red Cross to be used at Christmas time for a soldier who will be on the high seas at Christmas. Next week will be Y-Teen Roll Call Week and Lillian gave out the parts for a skit: "I Belong." The group will have a service project in connection with the Y-Teen Roll Call and all Y-Teens over the United States by participating in "Chocolates for Christmas." The Monroe Y-Teens will send chocolate bars to the Y-Teens in Korea. Barbara Curtis and Doris Bacon are new members of the club.

Lora Jean Willis, president of the Jolly Y Janes' Club, called the meeting to order. The devotional was given by Charline Miller. Emma Jean Hall, Cherry Deats, Betty Bandy, and "Tootsie" Henry were appointed to serve on the social committee with Joyce Lanier as the chairman. Plans are being made for a party on October 24th at the Y. W. C. A. Carolyn McKay, chairman of the service committee, announced about the chocolates for Christmas and stressed the girls bring their contributions to the next meeting. The meeting was closed with the motto. Betty Bandy, Margaret Ballard, Penny Foster, Lilah Rabun, Shirley Wilson, Shirley McBroom, Shirley Jones, are new members of the club.

The Be Y's Club of Y-Teens met with Jalna May, president, presiding. Sue Wade, a member of the Honest Injuns' Club, was a guest of the club to assist with their club meeting. Eunice Trew gave the devotional. Joy Goza led the group in prayer. Sue Wade gave out the parts for the skit: "I Belong" which will be given at the meeting on Thursday. The group folded the Christmas seals for the TB association. Joy Goza is serving as the club reporter and historian.

The Blue Triangle Club and the 7th Grade Club met at Lenwil School on Wednesday. Arleen Greer, president of the Blue Triangle Club, presided at the meeting. Annie Holten gave the devotional. The meeting was closed with the Y-Teen motto.

The Selman Club used their club meeting to assist with the folding of the seals for the TB Association.

Billy Sue Knight Has Bridal Luncheon

The Bayou DeSiard Country Club was the setting for the bridal luncheon Mrs. Rupert Scott of Wisner gave last Saturday for Miss Billy Sue Knight of Sicily Island whose wedding will be solemnized later in October. A large bowl of white asters and green fern was placed on the table over looking the beautiful Bayou DeSiard. Those invited to be with Miss Knight were Mrs. Rufus Knight, Mrs. A. Kiper, Miss Sue Kiper, Miss Mignon Yancey, Mrs. Janette Gremillon, Mrs. Martin Evright, Mrs. E. M. Chisum, Jr., Mrs. Sam Holladay, Mrs. B. B. McWhartle, Mrs. James Stringer, Miss Betty Scott, Miss Ione Knight. Mrs. R. H. Scott, Mrs. Don Baxter and Mrs. T. H. Scott.

MAGNOLIA STUDY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. H. O. HARTMAN

Mrs. H. O. Hartman and Mrs. A. T. White, Jr. were hostesses to the Magnolia Study Club Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Fred Tucker, called the meeting to order. After various reports were heard the members voted to cooperate with the request to send Christmas packages to service men overseas.

After the business session Mrs. A. T. White, Jr. gave a short talk on the observance of Safety Week, using as her theme, the basic three E's of traffic safety, education, engineering and enforcement. Mrs. A. R. Butler, used as her topic Benjamin Franklin's epitaph followed by Mrs. Joe F. Smith giving an interesting reading on "The Heritage We Defend" by Hon. Everett M. Derkans, U. S. Senator from Illinois.

Mrs. Smith said in part: "Back in 1940 Senator Derken left Miami, aboard a Pan American plane on a congressional jaunt to South America, to make surveys. As they were flying alone across the Carribean, he looked down upon the shimmering sea and there he saw two Isles like lovely jewels in the water. He said that is where Columbus landed long years ago, with three model sailing vessels, and here I am today in a plane going 300 miles an hour." Mrs. Smith gave a comparison of then and now as written by the congressman.

Members peresent were Mrs. Aline Banister, Mrs. A. R. Butler, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. R. N. Dozier, Mrs. R. L. Fuller, Mrs. Milton Ford, Mrs. H. O. Hartman, Leos, Mrs. C. C. Lucky, Mrs. J. E. Nelson, Mrs. F. R. Rietzell, Mrs. Joe F. Smith, Mrs. Fred Tucker and Mrs. A. T. White.

Now that the World Series is over, maybe we can all settle down to normal living. Our own football teams seem to be winning their share of games so we can enjoy seeing and listening to them for our Friday and Saturday entertainment.

Clothing News

Some of you are wanting to use some of the very large buttons (about 3 or more inches in diameter) that the stylists are featuring on winter coat dresses. I saw one pattern in last Sunday's paper—black with white bound button holes and big white buttons. I've worked out a large bound button hole where ½" of the contrasting material shows. If you're interested, I'll send you the instructions. But — we'll have to get some of the stores to stock a few of these large buttons. I'm needing some now.

The specialists say that white orlon fabrics stay white longer than white nylon. For this reason nurses prefer orlon uniforms.

You can still enroll for the tailoring class to be held the week of January 26.

Garden News

Folks, it's just not time to fertilize anything, now. Feeding plants would cause them to put on new growth that would be killed by the freezes. If you're planning to plant winter grass, you need to fertilize the lawn two weeks in advance of the sowing. Use a complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8. The clerk where you buy the fertilizer will tell you the amount you'll need.

Last year I used dwarf youpon in several plans only to find that the nurseries didn't stock them. I've just found that two places will carry this plant. They're not in yet, because it's too early to plant. In fact — I wouldn't plant anything until we've had rains and frosts. December, January and February are our best planting months. As I said last week—you can plant bulbs but you have from now until Christmas to put those out. It's so very dry, if you do bulb planting you'll have to keep them watered. I got off the subject. Back to the dwarf youpon. They're nice plants for the new low type house, and we don't have too many small plants.

If you want help with your yard, enroll for the landscaping school on November 12 or 13. I wish I could get around to every place where I'm invited to help — but you know that would be impossible. That's the reason I'm working up this landscaping school so we can help forty in two days. Then you can draw your plan with just a little help from me, later.

Don't forget to put your tulip bulbs in the ice box for at least two weeks before planting. This climate is not quite as cold as tulips like so chilling them for a while helps them off to a good start. Don't expect this bulb to come up again next year. Occasionally a few will appear but not often. Every new home owner yearns for a bed of tulips and I don't blame you. They're beautiful even though expensive.

You remember last spring we admired the blue bells blooming in Mrs. J. A. Wyatt's yard, 1017 St. John. Also at Miss Emma Lou Biedenharn's, 2006 Riverside. The other name for these blue bells is Scilla. The bulbs are on sale now and can be planted any time between now and Christmas. They bloom in April.

Food News

If you have any doubts about milk being worth the money glance at these figures: To get the same amount of protein from other foods that you'd get from a quart of milk you'd have to eat 16 slices of bread, or 5 large eggs or 4 slices of cheese, or 2½ slices of liver or ½ cup of cottage cheese or 2 slices of beef or fish. And where else could you get the amount of calcium in a quart of milk except by a eating 3 dozen eggs or 2 dozen oranges or 4 pounds of carrots, or 27 pounds of Irish potatoes.

That's all for today. See you again next Sunday in this same column.

LOVELY OCTOBER BRIDE

Mrs. Louis Goleman Weil, before her marriage Sunday, October 5 at the First Christian Church, was Barbara Jeanne Milner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Manuel. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doniel Weil.

Miss Barbara Jeanne Milner Weds Louis Goleman Weil

First Christian Church Is Setting For Impressive Double-Ring Service

A lovely wedding of October was that of Miss Barbara Jeanne Milner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Manuel, and Louis Goleman Weil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doniel Weil, which was solemnized Sunday, October 5 at four o'clock in the afternoon at the First Christian Church.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive ceremony before the altar which was decorated with wrought iron standards of large white chrysanthemums, pompons and white candlesticks. The Rev. R. T. Watson officiated at the double-ring service.

Mrs. Betty Wroten, at the organ, rendered several prenuptial selections and accompanied Mr. E. M. Wooten as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was lovely in her ballerina length wedding gown of white nylon and Chantilly lace. The tight fitting bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with a nylon yoke. The long Chantilly lace sleeves, coming to points over her hands, were fastened with tiny covered buttons, which also adorned the back of the laced bodice. The full nylon skirt held insertions of lace. Her shoes were of white satin.

Her veil of fingertip length was of nylon illusion and fell from a bonnet of Chantilly lace with pearls entwined along the edge. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, as her only ornament. Her bouquet was of white orchids and tuberoses.

Maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Flora Kitchingham. She was wearing a nile green net with lace bolero. She carried a crescent shape bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums with bronze satin streamers.

John Lacy served the groom as best man and ushers were Joe Milner, brother of the bride, and Raymond Smart, who also served as candle lighters.

Mrs. Manuel, mother of the bride, was wearing a black faille dress with ice blue hat and a corsage of pink roses with lace leaves. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Weil chose a brown dress complemented by a corsage of yellow blooms. She was wearing green accessories.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the Reception Hall of the church.

The bride's table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with crystal lily vases containing garlands of tuberoses, white pompons and aspar fern. At one end was the tiered wedding confection and at the other end the crystal punch bowl with cranberry punch.

Miss Maurine Adams poured punch while Mrs. W. H. Soureal presided at the cake service.

For their wedding trip to New Orleans, Miami, Florida and Havanna, Cuba, the bride was wearing a white tailored suit with navy accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will reside in this city.

Leo Ritter Family Attend Family Reunion In Franklin

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ritter and children, Evy Lee, "Winn" and "Skeeter", of Monroe, Mrs. K. E. McDonald Jr., and little son Kennith Ellis III of Mangham, returned home Tuesday from Franklin, Louisiana, where they attended the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Ritter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gaudin.

Due to the recent serious illness of Mr. Gaudin open house could not be held, so a buffet dinner was held at high noon for the immediate family with a tea from four to six for the relatives only.

The wedding vows were renewed at one-thirty at the residence, 1207 Weber Street, by the Rev. O'Neil Landry, Assistant Pastor of the Church of the Assumption of Franklin, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaudin were the recipients of numerous gifts coming from throughout the state and especially from the Parish of St. Mary, which they have called home since their wedding October 6, 1902.

Their three living children were present with their families, they have six grandchildren and one great grandchild, as follows:

Mrs. Monita G. Frankos of of Franklin, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Irby Gaudin and one daughter, June of Lafayette, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ritter and children, Evy Lee, Edwin Leo, Jr.; James Colbert II, of Monroe and Mrs. K. E. McDonald and son, Kennith Ellis McDonald III, who is the great grandson, of Mangham.

Sixty-five relatives visited the couple during the day, many pleasant memories were recalled. Mrs. Gaudin received in a black model with a Yellow Orchid Corsage, she is 72 years old and Mr. Gaudin is 84 years old.

St. Paschal's Mothers' Club Has Meeting

The Mothers' Club of the St. Paschal's Church of West Monroe met recently in the school cafeteria for their regular meeting. Father Odo opened the meeting with a prayer.

Officers of the club are: Theda Norris, president; Mrs. Thelma Menuet, vice-president; Mrs. Frances Taylor, secretary; Mrs. Ann DeSeamus, treasurer.

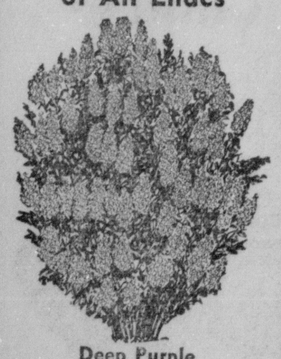

Two new member were welcomed into the club at this meeting. They were Mrs. L. W. Beasley and Mrs. C. E. DeVille.

Plans for a Halloween party to be held October 30 in the school gymnasium were completed.

The club has also opened to the public a Kindergarten with hours 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 4:00 until 6:00 p. m.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Theda Norris, Mrs. Frances Taylor, Mrs. L. W. Beasley, Mrs. R. S. St. Cyr, Mrs. H. W. Jowers, Mrs. Vivian White, Mrs. Thelma Menuet, Mrs. Norman Many, Mrs. Harry Martin and Mrs. C. E. DeVille. Father Odo closed the meeting with prayer.

The next meeting will be held in October.

Miss Jane Hoffman Weds William Edward Whittle

Bridal Couple Exchange Wedding Vows At Memorial Presbyterian Church

The Memorial Presbyterian Church was the scene Sunday, September 21, when Miss Jane Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hoffman, was united in marriage to William Edward Whittle, son of Mrs. Cleo M. Whittle, and the late Mr. J. B. Whittle of Bastrop. The ceremony was performed at 4:30 p. m. with Dr. Hugh E. Bradshaw, officiating.

White gladiolas blooms and candelabras holding lighted tapers decorated the church. The candles were lighted by Miss Mary Ann McCoy, and Layton Stephenson, of Bastrop.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her white Chantilly lace' over satin, with nylon tulle. Her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion, fell from her cap trimmed with tiny clusters of pearls. She carried a white orchid mounted on a white Bible, surrounded with white tuberoses. Her only jewel was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She had a six pence in her shoe. Preceding the bride was Mrs. Ira Cagle, Jr., sister of the bride, who served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a baby blue patio length dress of nylon tulle, with a fitted bodice. She wore a crescent shaped halo of net with matching gloves, and carried her bouquet of asters with rainbow streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Martha Logan, Miss Dorothy Prewitt, and Miss Margaret Wilson, high school friends of the bride. They were gowned in pastel shades of nylon tulle and carried bouquets of asters with rainbow ribbon streamers. They wore crescent shaped halos with matching gloves of net.

The bride's mother was wearing a nile green suit with navy accessories. Her gloves and corsage of carnations were pink. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a purple dress with matching hat, and black assessories. Her corsage was pink asters.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. Leone Parker, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Hugh L. Bradshaw. Mrs. Parker was very becoming in a nile green patio length gown. Her corsage was of yellow and gold chrysanthemums.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. Baskets of white gladiola and green fern were placed at vantage points. The bride's table was covered with lace, and the three tiered wedding cake was white embossed with yellow roses, flanked by silver candelabras holding white tapers trimmed with green leaves. Those serving were Miss Mary Ann McCoy at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Kit Fields, presided at the cake service, assisted by Misses Paula Burford, Doris Storey, Mary Elizabeth Byrd and Mrs. Eva Nell Golson.

The guest book was presided over by the bride's sister, Mrs. W. A. Lee, attired in a bronze net tulle gown over bronze satin with a corsage of yellow roses.

After the reception, the couple left on a motor trip to the picturesque Smoky Mountains of Tennessee. The bride chose for traveling an aqua gabardine suit, with rhinestone trim. With it she wore navy velvet hat, and navy accessories, and the orchard from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittle are at home, at 222 West Hickory St. Bastrop, La.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, where she was a member of the Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority. The groom is a graduate of Bastrop High School, and attended N. L. S. College and a member of the U. S. Navy. He is employed with the Post Office in Bastrop, La.

The out of town guest, besides those already mentioned were:

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Whittle and Jimmy, Chicago, Ill. Mr. Will Donabusch, Vicksburg, Miss. Mrs. Gladys Arlianus, Chicago, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Priest, Bastrop, La. Jack and Ola Mae Liddell, Bastrop, La. Virginia and Chester Ferguson, Bastrop, La. Frances De Rains, Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. Vallery Rains, Bastrop, Mrs. H. C. Lloyd, Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Berry, Bastrop, Mrs. Alphonse Prodhomme, Bermuda, La. Kenneth Prudhomme, Bermuda, La. Mrs. Henry A. Hoffmann, New Orleans, La. Mr. Henry Kerr, New Orleans, La.

Rehearsal Party

Preceding the wedding of Miss Jane Hoffmann and W. E. Whittle a rehearsal party was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cagle, Jr.

Those attending were Miss Martha Logan, Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Dorothy Prewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Parker, Miss Mary Ann McMage, Mr. James Counts, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lee, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Bradshaw, Hugh L. Bradshaw, Jack Whittle, Bobby Lee, Layton Stevenson, Leroy Ellard, Mrs. Cleo Whittle, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hoffmann, Sr., Mr. Henry Kerr, Mrs. H. A. Hoffmann, and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cagle, Jr.

Luncheon

Mrs. C. E. Faulk entertained at a luncheon in honor of Miss Jane Hoffman before her recent marriage.

Guests were Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Barbara Lindsay, Miss Martha Sanderson, Mrs. W. A. Lee, Mrs. Ira Cagle, Jr., Mrs. Cleo Whittle, Mrs. F. A. Hoffmann, Mrs. Ruth Hudley, Mrs. Kate Morrice, and Mrs. Faulk who presented the honoree with 2 platters in her chosen china.

Girl Scout News

October's bright blue weather was made to order for camping, and we're hearing of plans for troop camping every week end. Of course, mama in town thinks maybe daughter is going to get too cold sleeping on a porch and living out of doors a great part of the time.

Ask any of the fifteen girls from troop 11 how snug they were, tucked in their little cots lined up on the long screened porch. And Friday of last week end was a cold night, if you remember. Every meal was an outdoor one; it's easier to keep warm that way. After supper Friday the girls made chocolate drops over the fire and then sang songs and played games by firelight, while a bright, full moon rose in the east. Mrs. Fred Amman, Mrs. Paul Blackmon spent the night with the girls, while Mrs. G. E. Boggs joined them Saturday. Bet they enjoyed it, too!

Toasting bread to a golden brown, making a steaming pot of cocoa, and a pan of scrambled eggs over an open fire warmed everybody up first thing in the morning. After a good night's rest, a good hot breakfast, followed by a minimum of dish washing and bed making, the girls were full of pep and raring to do something active and different. This turned out to be a hike along the river trail, farther than any of the girls had gone before. On the way they saw fishermen pull in a net with five big fish and a turtle which they gave to the girls. Taking a short cut back to camp over paths they had not discovered before, the girls felt practically like Daniel Boone himself.

After such a hike a "flop" on their beds to cool off, rest a bit, and read a magazine was in order until time to make a fire and fix the midday meal. The girls like stick cooking because it calls for no dishwashing. Don't blame them, do you? Using the same green stick they had used for toast at breakfast, they made angels-on-horseback for lunch, with mock angel food cake for dessert.

Never heard of either? Well, for mock angel food cake use unsliced bread which you cut into cubes, dip in condensed milk, roll in coconut, and toast over coals. Try it; it's delicious, doesn't taste like bread at all.

Of course, everyone leaves camp spic and span for the next group, so there was much sweeping and putting things in place before going home Saturday afternoon. The girls who enjoyed the troop camp experience to the fullest were: Evelyn Amman, Ruth Ann Boggs, Joanne Campbell, Betsy Blackmon, Sylvia Campbell, Landrea Ducote, Suzonne Kellogg, Gwen Gerhard, Bunny Girault, Susanne Smith, Connie Wheeler, Clair Solomon, Sandra Thompson, Carol Thompson, Sandy Dean.

Troop 33 is the first of the new troops to comply with requirements for membership and to be registered. At their meeting Tuesday the following girls received their Brownie pins and membership cards: Laura Allen, Sally Barham, Linda Crow, Jean Foster, Nancy Gimler, Minta Goyne, Anne Hemphill, Nancy Johnson, Mary Lea Milstead, Lea Skains, Helen Touchstone.

Next Saturday, October 18th, is the day for the Girl Planning Board to meet at the office with Mrs. A. E. Bishop as adviser. Ten o'clock is the time for the meeting, which lasts but an hour. Every intermediate troop should be represented by one or two girls. Has your troop elected its representative?

CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Evans, of Baskin, who celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary recentiy in the home of their youngest son, Willis B. and Nina Evans.

MR. AND MRS. JOE EVANS CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Open house was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Evans, 2715 Lee Ave., Saturday evening, September 27th, from 6 to 8 o'clock, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Evans of Baskin who were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

Receiving the guests with Mr. and Mrs. Evans were their two youngest children Willis Evans and Minnie Richardo. Mrs. Evans was becomingly dressed in navy blue with a corsage of gold flowers. Beautiful flowers were placed in all rooms, as several bouquets were received by the honored guests.

The dining table was beautifully covered with a lace cloth. In the center was a huge centerpiece of golden chrysanthemums artistically arranged and surrounded by green candles in crystal holders. On one end was the tiered cake in gold and mounted by golden slippers. The crystal punch bowl was at the other end of the table. Napkins inscribed 'Annie and Joe 1902-1952" were placed in fan shape on either side of the cake.

Mrs. Charles King, granddaughter, presided at the punch bowl while Miss Patsy Mathis and Jane Diamond served cake and saw that every one registered in the guest book. Miniature golden wedding bells were pinned on each lady present. They received many beautiful gifts.

Those calling during the evening were: Mrs. Dora Word Bostwick, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilder, Mrs. James Newburn, Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Mathis, Miss Patsy Mathis, Miss June Diamond, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Dewees, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Evans, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Ricardo, Port Arthur, Texas, Mrs. Charles King and Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. John Zufall, Mr. and Mrs. Louie E. Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. LADIES ATTEND HANDCRAFT CLASSES

Ladies Of Twin Cities Invited To Attend Classes Taught By Mrs. Peggy Garnett

Ladies of the Twin Cities interested in the art of making earrings out of sea shells, corsages out of cotton bolls, belts out of felt, and many other unique items, may find the handcraft classes each Friday at the Monroe Recreation Center worthwhile.

These classes are held each Friday from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m. and Mrs. Peggy Garnett is the capable instructor.

Many of the ladies now attending the classes are busy preparing items which may be used as gifts at Christmas time and a gift anyone would appreciate receiving. Some of the items one might learn at the handcraft classes are earrings made of sequins, buttons or sea shells, belts of felt, hand painted trays and water glasses, book markers, eye glass cases made of felt, embroidered handkerchiefs, or any one of a dozen other articles. The art of making corsages is also taught at the center and these corsages may either be made out of cotton bolls, nylon stockings, or Christmas corsages fashioned out of pine cones.

Interesting to note at the Monroe Recreation Center is that one is not confined to one article nor are you limited by what you make. Should you desire to learn something that is not being used at the handcraft classes or see earrings that you would like to learn to make, Mrs. Garnett will be only too happy to teach you.

Mrs. Garnett has been with the Recreation Center for the past five years, teaching the adult classes during the winter months and instructing the youngsters at the playgrounds during the summer months. Playground instruction is similar to the adult handcraft classes only here the children are taught bead work, making bead belts, necklaces, bracelets and lanyard. The girls are taught bead work as well as the art of making shell jewelry.

For as long as she can remember Mrs. Garnett has been interested in handcraft. For many years she was Campfire Executive in Monroe teaching bead work and other handcrafts to the youngsters and more recently the adult classes.

But Mrs. Garnett's talents do not stop with handcraft as she is interested in the study of birds. She has written and had published her book of poetry, "Audubon Trail" and has had several articles on handcraft published in leading magazines. Mrs. Garnett has also written juvenile articles which have been published in children's magazines. Besides her bird study, lectures, handcraft classes, and and her poetry writing, Mrs. Garnett finds time to judge flower shows. She is an amateur flower show judge under the National Garden Clubs and has had five courses and six examinations. She lists her hobbies as birds and antique collecting.

Mrs. Garnett is a member of the North Louisiana Branch of American Pen Women, Welcome Garden Club, and is president of the Welcome Branch Book Club. She also finds time to instruct members of the Ouachita Gardenettes on flower arrangements once a month.

So should any of you ladies be interested in learning these handcrafts, you are welcome to attend any Friday afternoon class at the Monroe Recreation Center. The hours are from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m. I'll assure you the time you spend there will be worthwhile.

Canned apple sauce is handy to keep on your kitchen emergency shelf to use for dessert quickies or to accompany a meat or fowl course. It's good, too, in cookies, cakes, quick loaves.

Delta Rho Delta Members Are Hosts At Lovely Tea

Mrs. James Riddle Entertains In Her Lovely Home Honoring Mrs. Winnie Thornton

The lovely home of Mrs. James A. Riddle on North Third Street was the scene of a tea on Sunday afternoon given by Mrs. Riddle honoring Mrs. Winnie Thornton of Fort Worth, Texas, National Membership Director of Delta Rho Delta National Sorority.

All the beauty of fall was reflected in the flower decorations in the Riddle home where the guests were welcomed between the hours of four and six o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Thornton was lovely in a grey crepe with black bead trim. Her corsage was of bronze hibiscus.

Lovely arrangements of red roses were placed in the entrance hall where the guests were greeted by Miss Lillie Glenn, Louisiana State President of Delta Rho Delta and Mrs. Riddle local membership director.

Mrs. Glenn was striking in a navy crepe and velveteen, rhinestone studded with corsage of yellow roses, and Mrs. Riddle was lovely in a rust crepe with a corsage of bronze hibiscus.

Beautiful floral decorations were placed at vantage points throughout the spacious receiving rooms. The mantle in the living room was particularly attractive with an unusual arrangement of red lilies placed in the center. Another artistic design of red roses was placed on a small table in the receiving room.

The tea table was overlaid with an imported lace cloth, the centerpiece, placed at one corner of the table, was striking in beauty and originality. A large oblong polished basket held clusters of green and purple grapes, pears, bananas, apples, peaches, squash, egg plant and oranges with autumn brown and gold leaves. Tall green tapers in gold candelabras were placed in pairs on either side of the basket. The sterling silver tea and coffee service was placed at the other end of the table.

On the buffet was a mass arrangement of fruits in a milk glass container, similar to the table decoration, consisting of egg plant, oranges, apples, pears, grapes and bananas with autumn brown and rust leaves flanked by burning green tapers in milk glass candelabra.

Presiding at the silver coffee and tea service was Mrs. Bertha Patterson in black crepe with pearls.

Tea sandwiches, assorted cookies, mints and nuts, in silver trays, were passed among the guests. Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. Catherine Lumbley in a blue lace and Miss Frances Parker in brown taffeta.

Delightful conversation during the course of the afternoon revolved around the National Convention of Delta Rho Delta sorority to be held in Dallas, Texas in November.

Among those calling during the appointed hours to meet Mrs. Thornton were Miss Mary Ann Ashford, Miss Hermoine Driskell, Miss Wilma Smith, Miss Bernice McCrary, Miss Ruth Kennedy, Mrs. L. F. Taylor, Mrs. L. Wilhite, Mrs. Jean Boyce, Miss Lillie Glenn, Mrs. W. Fields, Mrs. Bertha Patterson, Mrs. Catherine Lumbley, Miss Mary Louise Farr, Miss Mary Elizabeth Stringer, Miss Marna Hynum, Miss Frances Parker, Mrs. T. Mickel, Miss Sara Kennon, Miss D. L. O. Puckett, Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Miss Sue Hunt, Miss Billie Blazier, Miss Mildred White, Miss Drucella Motley and Mrs. D. C. Metcalf.

Up to 1930, far more males than females immigrated to the United States, but in that year the proportions were reversed and each year since that time there have been more female than male immigrants.

Fifth District Federated Garden Clubs To Sponsor School

Three-Day Flower Show School To Be Held At Northeast College Auditorium

The Fifth District Federated Garden Clubs will sponsor Flower Show School No. IV on October 20, 21, 22, 1952. The school will be held in Northeast College Auditorium.

Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr., is general chairman of this school and has been instrumental in securing excellent instructors. These instructors are Mr. Ira Nelson of Southwestern Louisiana Institute for the horticulture part of the program and Mrs. H. Fulton Murphy of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, for Flower Show Practice and Flower Arrangement.

Any federated garden club member may take and receive credit for this school even though she may have had no previous school.

Since many gardeners will not be able to take the full course, one program will be presented by each instructor for their benefit and pleasure. One will be Mr. Nelson's discussion of camellias, iris, and other bulbous plants to be presented from 10:00 to 12:00 a. m. Monday, October 20th, in the auditorium of Northeast College. The other will be Mrs. Murphy's demonstration of Flower Arrangements to begin at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, October 21st, in the same auditorium. The fee for each of these lectures will be $1.50.

Mrs. Zollie Meadows, fifth district Director from Ruston, urges all garden club members who possibly can to take advantage of this wonderful course and for all gardeners to attend one or both of the special programs.

Schedule

Monday, October 20

9:30—10:00 Registration (Fees: Full course $5.50; individual lectures $1.50).

10:00—12:00 Horticulture lecture on camellias, iris and other bulbous plants, 2 hours by Mr. Ira Nelson.

MRS. DEWITT HENRY GUEST SPEAKER AT MEETING OF CURRENT LITERATURE CLUB

The Current Literature Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., with Mrs. H. W. Tolson serving as co - hostess.

The guest speaker, Mrs. DeWitt Henry, was introduced by Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, program chairman.

Mrs. Henry's subject was "What is an American?"—She gave several foreign definitions of an American, such as: always in a hurry, impetuous, no time for reflection, attending church on Sunday, but acting no different on Monday, and professing equality in brotherhood, but exhibiting intolerance of other races. The real American examines each of these evaluations and determines to make America a better place. To quote Robert Burns—"O would the power the gifty give us, To see ourselves as others see us."

Voting is a primary step in being a good American. You are the sleeping Goliath who could be awakened to change the picture locally and nationally. It takes both study and prayer to make your decisions as to how you will cast your vote.

The most important thing in our lives is the studying of the issues and praying to establish right attitudes. Individuals giving in to the feeling of hopelessness is the very thing that will ruin America. A spiritual awakening, would in itself, solve all our problems. "Have I sought a closer walk with God?" "Men must be governed by God or else they will be ruled by tyrants. Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide, Then it is the wise man chooses while the coward stands aside."

On the business side the club is making plans for their annual rummage sale, the proceeds of which will be used for their student educational loan fund.

Members enjoying Mrs. Henry's inspiring talk and the hospitality of the hostesses were: Mesdames Z. C. Ambrose, R. B. Bailey, S. R. Biossat, W. A. Cotten, Dan Dennett, Leon Dennis, L. M. Frey, G. M. Heindenreich, D. A. Jackson, E. A. Porter, Jr., T. E. Regan, George Rietze, and L. M. Riley. Guests were: Mesdames, L. A. Fluesmeier, Ben R. Simpson and W. A. Whitfield III.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.,

Miss Ruth Brooks Becomes Bride Of T. C. Bloxom Jr.

First Baptist Church Setting For Ceremony

The First Baptist Church of Minden was the setting of the impressive double-ring ceremony performed on Tuesday, September 16, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, when Ruth Avis Brooks daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Brooks was united in marriage to Thomas Cameron Bloxom.

Reverend Truman Aldredge heard their vows before an altar lighted by a myriad of tapers and decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and specimen chrysanthemums.

Mrs. R. O. Martin at the organ rendered a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Conrad Adkins who sang The Lords Prayer. Prior to the entrance of the bridal party the tapers were lighted by Miss Lydia David and Miss Mary Alice Jones. Miss Trudy Brooks, sister of the bride served as maid of honor. She wore a burnished gold nylon net over satin ballerina length. Her flowers were pompon chrysanthemums tied with long streamers of gold satin ribbons to match her dress.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlors. The brides table was covered with a handsome linen cloth and centered with a large arrangement of pink carnations and fever few in a crystal bowl. On either side was placed crystal candelabras holding eight tall white tapers. A beautifully decorated tiered cake was placed at one end of the table while the silver punch bowl was at the other. Presiding over the punch bowl was Wilda Wardlow, Mrs. Grady Gray, Mrs. Aubrey Craton, Mrs. Janice David, Mrs. Robert Tatum, Mrs. Charles Davis.

Mrs. Bloxom is the granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Moore and the late Mr. Moore of Bernice. Mr. Bloxom's parental grandparents are Mrs. Prestidge Bloxom and the late Mr. Bloxom of Shreveport. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Williams of Mansfield.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Joe Moore of Bernice, Mrs. Dean Selig and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Christian of Monroe, Mrs. Clyde Williams of Mansfield, Mrs. Seneca Bloxom, Mrs. Frank Patterson, Mrs. Glen Thompson, Mrs. L. C. Bloxom, Mrs. H. C. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson of Shreveport.

Fresh pineapple salad is a fine accompaniment to fried chicken or baked ham. Peel, slice, and dice the pineapple and arrange on water cress. Serve with a dressing of mayonnaise blended with sour cream and a little paprika.

If you overknead baking powder biscuits they are likely to have a tough texture and be a lopsided shape. Knead the dough only about a dozen times when you use a standard two-cup flour recipe.

MRS. W. E. CUBBERLY HONORED WITH TEA AND SURPRISE SHOWER

Mrs. W. E. Cubberly was honored by Mrs. Albert Cooke who entertained with a tea in the home of her mother Mrs. C. E. Parker, Mrs. Lynn Higman of Jackson, Miss. welcomed the guests who signed the guest book which was later given to the honoree by the hostess.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Cubberly are now living at Chemin a Haut the occasion gave her friends an opportunity to express their love and interest by surprising her with many useful and lovely gifts.

Fall flowers were placed at vantage points, climaxed by an unusual arrangement for autumn which centered an exquisitely appointed tea table in the dining room.

During the afternoon Mrs. Barker and her daughters played as solos and ensembles Mrs. Cubberly's favorite piano selections. Mrs. Paul Cooke, Mrs. C. H. Ables, Mrs. W. W. Storment, Mrs. C. E. Parker and Mrs. William Montgomery assisted the hostess in serving coffee and passing trays of Hors d'oeuvres, pettit fours and mints.

Twin City Concerts To Open Sold Out Season

William Kapell, Pianist, To Be Presented In Concert Monday, October 20

William Kapell, internationally known American born pianist, is scheduled to open this season's bill of fare for Twin City Concerts. Known to many music lovers for his energetic performances on recordings, he is making his first personal appearance in the Twin Cities in a concert for all members of the organization.

The pianist, who will be heard here Monday, October 20 at 8:15 p. m. at Neville Auditorium under the auspices of Twin City Concerts was born in New York City on September 20, 1922. As a child he studied with Dorothea Anderson LaFollette; later his teacher was Olga Samaroff Stokowski who, until her death, was one of the great musical and personal influences of his life.

Before he was twenty Kapell had won three major awards, the Youth Contest of the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Naumburg Foundation Award, and the town hall Endowment Award. His career officially began in July, 1942, when he made his first appearance in New York with orchestra—at the Stadium Concerts with the Philharmonic-Symphony under Efrem Kurtz, playing the new and exciting Concerto of Aram Khatchaturian. He did the work so many times after that—including a recording with the Boston Symphony under Serge Koussevitzky—that he was nicknamed "Khatchaturian Kapell."

Since then Kapell has toured the continent regularly, playing with every top orchestra and on important radio programs. He is often chosen for festival appearances, in Worcester, Ann Arbon, Ravinia, and other festival centers.

MONROE LITERARY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. C. E. COE

The October meeting of the Monroe Literary Club was held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. E. Coe. Following the Club Collect, a business meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. E. Baugh, president.

The Budget committee submitted to the club, the purchasing of a wheel chair to be donated to the Red Cross.

Mrs. J. W. Womack introduced Mrs. Earl Stovall, guest speaker, who so graciously reviewed the book "The Forest Cavalier" by Roy Flanagan. In this rich and dramatic novel of Virginia, in the late seventeenth century, Roy Flanagan deals in an entirely fresh way with a basic national theme the making of an American. He describes in terms of a driving narrative, the moment of division between the Old World and the New, the instant of first advance to the American future. This is the story of Lance Clayborne, who stands between two worlds and makes a choice.

The story of Bacon's Rebellions, in regards of Lance Clayborne's service to Bacon, and the details of his own final possession of liberty and happiness, the leader sees the emergence of a new kind of man, for Lance and all who took up arms with Bacon appear in this, a gallant company of first Americans. Book ends "We are Americans".

Refreshments were served to: Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. D. A. Altick, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mrs. J. H. Drake, Mrs. F. L. Ferrell, Mrs. W. L. Howard, Mrs. J. D. Kelley, Mrs. A. M. Kite, Mrs. C. E. McAdams, Mrs. E. J. Shannon, Mrs. J. W. Womack and Mrs. J. S. Worley.

When you are buying fresh apricots, choose ones that are of a rich gold color; pale greenish apricots are hard and tasteless. A pound of apricots usually contains eight to ten. They may be served for dessert as is, used in combination with other fruits, or they may be sliced and served with sugar and cream.

Why does the "old man" go hatless at night?

He comes home from the office looking like the successful business man he is. He changes to slacks, eases into "loafers", puts on a really swank sport jacket.

But—that town hat, that Knox "Twenty" of his, just doesn't fit the picture. So, when he takes out the little woman, drives over for dinner or canasta, he goes unfinished, hatless—and the whole effect is marred.

Of course he can't wear the Custom Edge hat that's so important in his business life. But, if he'll just drop in on us, we'll fit him with a new Knox "Belgrave" that's as casual and informal as his leisure dress, as easy on his head as his "loafers" are on his feet, and as smart as his sport jacket.

Artists Of City Lend Talents To Fine Arts Exhibit October 17Th

Beautification Committee Invites Public

Each day some new feature is added to the Fine Arts Exhibit which takes place in the spacious home of Mrs. E. N. Jackson, 209 Roselawn, on Friday, October 17, from 3 until 6 in the afternoon. These hours have been selected so that the business and professional women can also enjoy the pleasure afforded them, and ladies from surrounding towns can drive in. Members of garden clubs, art clubs, home beautification lovers, and committees on arrangements in local churches will benefit by the displays and arrangements. And of course the social fellowship will be a pleasure to all.

Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. C. P. Andrews, Mrs. Kent Breard and Miss Leita May King have their various committees planning displays apropos to the large and small homes. On the sun porch the Art Exhibit will display paintings by local artists including Mrs. Ray Magruder, Mrs. Ivery Oliver, Mr. Charles Copeland, Mrs. Eddie Dalton, Mr. Joe Washburn, Allen Trousdale and Miss Leita May King. A portrait loaned by Mrs. William Wood will also be shown.

In flower and fruit arrangements throughout the home, displays of flowers, fruits and vegetables will be shown in artistic arrangement and original design. Mrs. Jewel McQuiller will emphasize arrangements of dried flowers. Children's flower arrangements will be featured in the nursery corner of the master bedroom. The upstairs hall way will feature interior decorating ideas by the Delta Decorating Studio. Especially interesting will be the dining table arrangements in the dining room, breakfast room and snack bar.

While participating in the afternoon of enjoyment, those present will have an opportunity to contribute a free - will offering to the parsonage beautification fund.

Ware and the hostesses.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

This week the Ouachita Parish Public Library added to its collection seven copies of a book which we expect to be exceedingly popular. This is Harnett T. Kane's new title "Dear Dorothy Dix." Mr. Kane has been working on this biography of one of the outstanding women of our day for a long time. He was assisted by Ella Bentley Arthur, who served for many years as Miss Dix's secretary. The story begins with Elizabeth Meriwether, born in the Kentucky horse-racing country in the last year of the Civil War. In this society noted for its beautiful women, she was a complete misfit, for she was short, fat and unattractive. When very young, she married the only beau she had ever had, George Gilmer, a relative of her stepmother's. Her life with George was anything but pleasant, yet with all these disadvantages, she made a place for herself in the American newspaper world that no other woman has ever held. Her success did not begin until almost middle age, and she remained at the top for 50 years. Even her closest friends did not realize that she was 90 years old when she died. This is the story of a remarkable woman. It is filled with warmth and humor and the activities of a woman who loved life and loved people and did much to make them happy.

Also this week a biography of another woman was added to the library collection. This is "Woman with the Whip" by Baria Flores. This is the story of Eva Peron, powerful wife of the dictator of Argentina. No two lives could be more in contrast than hers and the life of Miss Dix, yet it will be interesting to know whose name lasts longer in the anals of history.

If you read "The Elegant Witch" by Robert Neill, which appeared last year, you will welcome another book by the same author. This one is called "Traitor's Moon" and is concerned with the Popish plots of late 17th century England. It is a story of contemporary problems and an interesting love affair.

"The Fragile Years" by Rose Franken is a continuation of the Claudia series and will appeal expecially to women readers. "The Other Elizabeth" by Jess Gregg is a story of a young newspaper - woman who projects herself into the past in order to write a comprehensive biography of an aging aristocrat. Here she finds herself in love with a man who has been dead for many years. This is a story which will appeal to certain women readers.

After a ten year delay in publication for security reasons "The Frontiers" by John Strachey has just been released. It is a fascinating adventure story of R. A. F. Pilot officer James Cranley who was forced down in occupied France and met all sorts of adventure and romance in attempting to escape. There is a great deal of conversation in this book, which to some readers will make it seem slow, but it has a great deal of merit.

A new story for the readers of mysteries is "Valse Macabre" by Kathleen Moore Knight and all who have read her stories, know just how well she writes. This is a thrilling and exciting story.

All those who have a position decorating windows should read the new book "The Art of Window Display" by Lester Gaba. This is a complete exposition of the theory and principles of window display and contains some valuable information.

If any of these titles appeal to you, call your branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library and request them.

MISS BETTY JO ROBERTS IS BRIDE OF ERNEST FOSTER, JR.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roberts on Bon Air Drive was the setting for the marriage of their oldest daughter, Betty Jo, and Ernest T. Foster, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest T. Foster of Swartz.

The vows were exchanged before an improvised altar beautifully decorated with fall flowers. Baskets of fall flowers were placed throughout the house adding autumn to the occasion. The Rev. Reed officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a navy blue faille suit with black accessories. She carried a bouquet of roses and pink carnations.

Miss Peggy Dale Roberts, sister of the bride, and only attendant, was wearing an ice blue suit with a corsage of pink carnations.

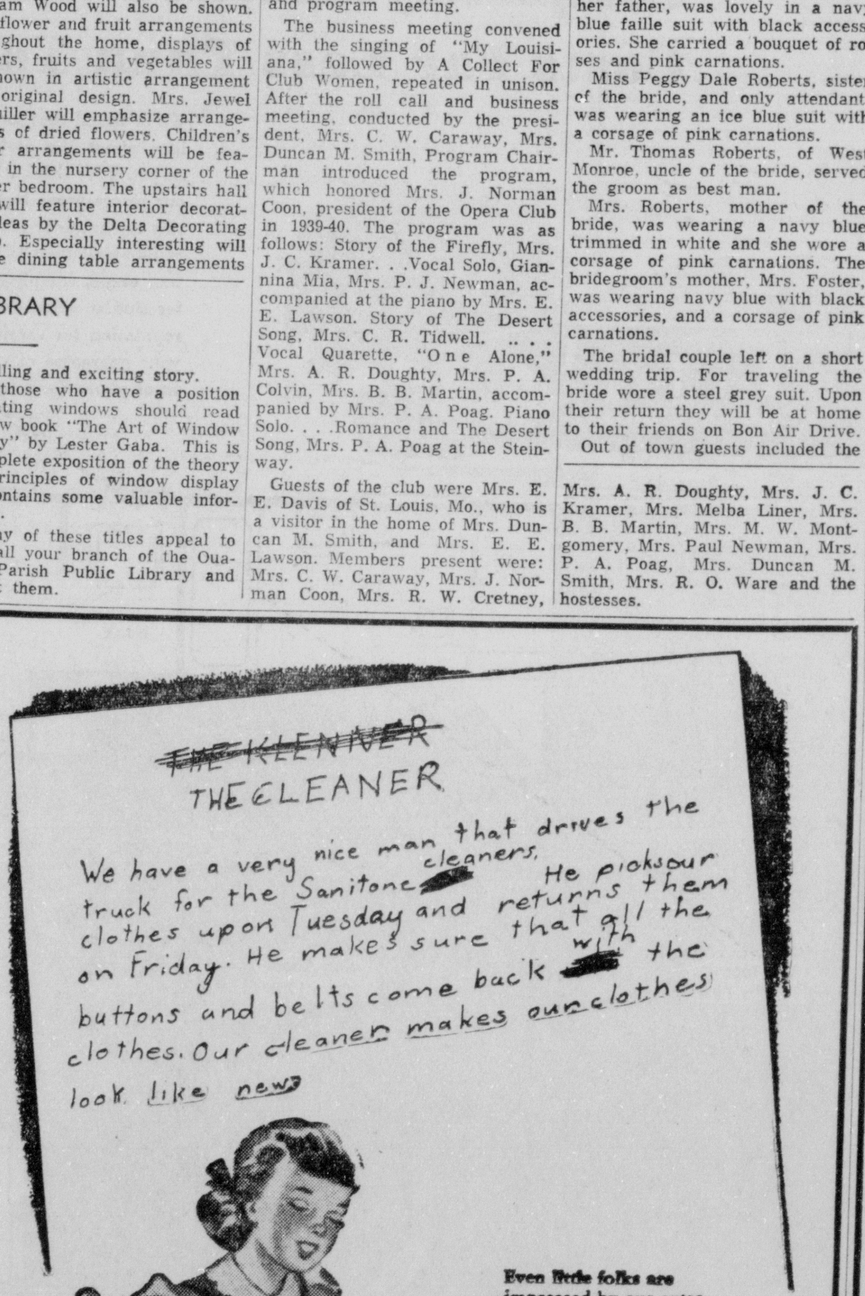

Mr. Thomas Roberts, of West Monroe, uncle of the bride, served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Roberts, mother of the bride, was wearing a navy blue trimmed in white and she wore a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Foster, was wearing navy blue with black accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bridal couple left on a short wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a steel grey suit. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends on Bon Air Drive.

Out of town guests included the great grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Dora Horne of West Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of West Monroe, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parker of Magnolia, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Ford Sinquefield, Mr. and Mrs. George Whitehead, all of Alexandria, Miss Leoman Arrington, of Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Graves, all of Delhi.

CLAIBORNE METHODIST CHURCH
Calhoun Road
F. L. Hearne, pastor
J. O. Fleming, church school superintendent.
Our air castles are the children of our youth. They should be no less, however, the heritage of manhood, middle and old age. No life can keep alive that does not have newborn visions. When the fires of enthusiasm cease to burn, the mind ceases to dream and the hands to create. I have seen many who begin life and its pursuits with zest and promise. But because such people are not able to keep alive their dreams and sustain their ideals, life is impoverished and becomes a drudgery.
Services at our church are:
Sunday: Church school, 9:45 a. m.
Morning worship service, 10:50 a. m.
Youth fellowship 6:00 p. m.
Children's hour, 6:30 p. m.
Evening worship service, 7:30 p. m.
Monday: Woman's Society of Christian Service, 2:00 p. m.
Tuesday: Methodist Men, 7:30 p. m.
Wednesday: Mid - week services 7:30 p. m.
"You are always welcome at Claiborne"

Angelo Patri

Our Children

"We have a son, a big handsome, healthy boy of fifteen in the second year in high school. He does well in school, gets good marks and is well liked by his teachers. He is on the ball teams and spends all his free time playing—practicing, he calls it.
"His mother is not very well. The housework is difficult for her and she can't get him to do anything about the house. If he is asked to take out the ashes, or tie up the newspapers, he makes a terrible fuss. He never hangs anything up nor puts anything he uses back in its place. Nothing we say helps."
When a child reaches the age of fifteen or so, without learning that he is part of an organization in which he is vitally concerned as a partner, there is little hope of his understanding his share in the maintenance of home. For fifteen or sixteen years he has been waited on, has had everything done for him, while all he did was accept what came and ask for more. It is unreasonable, then, to expect that, on the day he reaches a certain age, weight and height, he takes on an altogether different view of his position in the family. Only about ten years later will he see that the whole idea was wrong from start to finish.
It is the start that we should attend to if we want the end to be cooperation and friendliness and not individualism and antagonism. It is so easy to fall into the habit of serving children. Their helplessness is so winning, so flattering to ourselves. Their smile of gratification is so endearing that we enjoy seeing it day after day. So, day after day, we weave the habit that is going to make life miserable for both parents and children.
It is not easy to stand by and watch a child struggle to do what we could do with a gesture. It is downright hard to watch a child mess up a task that we could finish in a quarter of the time, without waste of material. It is very hard on the temper and patience and the affections, until we stop to think, to look ahead ten years and see the helpless, ignorant, adolescent we shall have reared. That thought will give any parent pause, strengthen his will and his patience. It will enable him to take the time and to spend the energy necessary to teach the child to help himself and to help the other members of the family. What one creates by his own effort, one loves. When a child creates a place for himself in his home, when he gives of himself to maintain the home, he lives it and those in it. Otherwise, how can he?
Adolescence is rather late to recondition a child. Start early and work late to accustom him to cooperation.

An obedient child is liked by everyone and requires little training on the parent's part if training is started in babyhood. Dr. Patri tells how to guide children in obedience in booklet no. 301, "Obedience." To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The Gospel by St. Matthew, the first in our New Testament, is distinctive in that it offers much that is lacking in the other three Gospels and in the consolidated and well-arranged way in which it has presented the teaching of Jesus.
It is doubtful, for instance, that the passage that we call "The Sermon on the Mount," which takes three solid chapters, 5th, 6th, and 7th, in Matthew, was all delivered at one sitting, though St. Matthew opens it with Jesus going up to the mountain and closes it with Him coming down. The same teachings in Luke's Gospel are in a different setting and are not all in one passage. The Lord's Prayer, for instance, which is in Matthew 6, is in Luke 11, and in Luke's Gospel is apart from much that corresponds to the Sermon on the Mount, as in Luke 6:20-38.
As presented by Matthew, the collected sayings of Jesus become a charter of Christian faith and practice, the constitution of the Kingdom which Jesus proclaimed. It is here that Matthew's Gospel excells, as Luke's excells in the Christmas story and in the wonderful recording of the Parables of Jesus, particularly the Parables of The Good Samaritan and The Prodigal Son.
Another distinctive and important contribution of the Gospel by Matthew is the chapter of "Woes," Matthew 23. How distinctive this is, and how much Matthew records, unmentioned by other writers, may be seen by comparing Matthew 23 with similar passages in Luke 11.
This is important, for it emphasizes an aspect of Jesus and His ministry that is widely disregarded or neglected. We think of Jesus as the gentle Christ walking in the fields and byways, conversing with His disciples, blessing the little children, a nature-lover with the lilies of the field, the birds the winds, and skies in His discourse, illustrating His truth concerning God's grace and the love of man to man with the simple, wonderful tales that we call the Parables.
Jesus was not a social reformer in the common, present-day conception. He was not concerned with the passage of laws and regulations. How could He be in that setting of Jewish and Roman authority? But it is a profound mistake to believe that Jesus was only a teacher, preacher, and Savior, with a Gospel only for individuals. His whole Gospel was social. It struck at the deepest motives in social conduct and social welfare.
The Christian life demands something more than just gentleness and personal integrity. It demands Christian responsibility and aggressiveness.

CHURCH LEADERS WILL BE TRAINED

Methodist Churches In Franklin Parish To Have United School

WINNSBORO, Oct. 11. (Special) — Franklin Parish Methodist churches are uniting in a leadership training school, November 10, 11 and 12. Classes will meet each evening at the Winnsboro church for two 50 - minute class periods with a 10 - minute intermission for refreshments, Rev. W. H. Bengtson, pastor of the Winnsboro First Methodist Church, stated today.
The subject matter to be taught will be in three fields of work in the Sunday school. There will be a class for eachers and associate teachers in the children's division are invited. Mrs. Daisey Bergeron of Monroe will be the instructor.
Officers of the Sunday schools will attend a class designed to aid them in efficient nd effective church school management. The Rev. W. D. Boddie of Springhill is being sent by the Louisiana conference board of religious education to teach the course, "the Church at the Crossroads."
The Rev. Ralph Cain of Monroe comes by special request to teach a course on "The Work of Young Adults." Reverend Cain has made this field his specialty and has had much success in his own churches working with young adults. The Rev. Cain is known to many young adults of Winnsboro as he was a high school student here while his father served First Methodist Church as minister.
The following officers will guide the school: the board of managers, the Rev. Ira A. Love, Wisner; the Rev. D. R. Deen, Crowville; Reverend Bengston, Winnsboro; W. B. Scriber, Winnsboro; Miss Helen Hair is secretary, W. B. Scriber, treasurer, and Reverend Bengston, dean.

REV. GEDWILLE GUEST SPEAKER

Will Address Lutheran Church At Morning Service Today

The Christian's obligation of spreading the Gospel of Salvation through faith alone in Jesus Christ throughout the world will be stressed in the regular service at Trinity Lutheran Church this Sunday.
Speaking from Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians 2, 10, the guest speaker Rev. A. S. Gedwillo, of Our Savior Lutheran Church of El Dorado, Ark., will have as his topic, "Faith and Works."

Each year Trinity congregation sets aside one Sunday in the fall in which the service is devoted to the emphasis of mission work. Though regular offerings are received for this cause, a special effort is made at this time to remember the lost souls of the world through an offering devoted especially to the cause of telling the world beyond our immediate vicinity, that the Son of God, Jesus Christ, is also their only Savior from sin and that in Him is their only hope of heaven.
Rev. Gedwillo, basing his remarks on the exhortation of Paul to the congregation at Ephesus, will speak on the soul saving importance of a firm faith in Jesus for ourselves and our obligation to perform especially the work of love — that of making this gospel known to those who are still without such knowledge.
The service will begin at 10:45, this Sunday morning and the public is cordially invited to join the congregation in their worship. Trinity Lutheran Church is located at 300 D'Arbonne Ave., just two blocks south of Northeast State College.

Chile Supper For Men Of Baptist Brotherhood

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church, Sterlington, will have its regular monthly meeting Monday night, October 20, 1952 at 7:30 p. m., in the form of an Austex Chili and Tamale supper.
All men of our community are cordially invited to attend this meeting and supper and become a member of our Brotherhood.
Rev. Harold Reinhardt .. ..
Sunday, Oct. 12, the Rev. Harold Reinhardt, of Trinity Lutheran Church will be the guest speaker at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Shreveport.
The Shreveport congregation, as is their custom each year, has designated this Sunday as their annual Mission Festival Sunday. Both morning and evening services will be devoted to emphasizing the responsibilities of each Christian to do his part by example, by word and by gift, to help spread the truths of eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ throughout the world.
In the morning service Rev. Reinhardt will speak on "Three Requisites for Soul Winning" and in the evening the topic will be "Words", telling of the power for good or for evil that is exerted through the words that we use.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

By J. Paul Hewitt

I was browsing through the new Theater Dictionary the other day and ran across some jargon that's unique. Suppose you should hear for instance, "The slinger threw the lines across the stage to a slick ham who knew his business. It was just before the rag went down. The punks did not know what it was all about, but any Pros. or P. A. could have told them. However, they waited to give the next act the o-o. The nut was too high to insure success. The rag ascended and all the pushers started to mussitate. The manager advised the author to kill-a-baby. A hoofer came out and tried some hokum but the ghost did not walk that night."
All of which translated might read: "The prompter shouted the lines across the stage to a smart actor who knew his business. It was just before the curtain went down. The bucolic audience did not know what it was all about, but any professional or publicity agent could have told them. However, they waited to give the next act the once over. The operating expense was too high to insure success. The curtain went up and all the men who pushed scenery around, began to move their lips without making a sound. The manager advised the author to cut out a baby footlight. A dancer came out and tried some comic business, but no salaries were paid that night."
As you can see from the above, the new Theater Dictionary throws a most curious and interesting spot-light upon the life behind the asbestos curtain. Music also has a unique language, and how beautifully it can be expressed with a piano. Remember when you select a piano, concentrate upon fine tone, and you get everything. Rita Hayworth And Ford In 'Affair In Trinidad'

Rita Hayworth, more beautiful and more exciting than ever, is back on the screen in Columbia Pictures' "Affair in Trinidad," now at the Paramount Theatre. Glenn Ford, the man Rita loved in the memorable "Gilda," also is starred in "Affair in Trinidad."

Set on the tropical island of Trinidad, the new film reportedly is an absorbing romantic drama which gives Miss Hayworth an opportunity for some pretty uninhibited dancing and a torchy tune or two to sing. There is said to be the same fervid romancing between Rita and Ford that distinguished their roles in "Gilda."

Miss Hayworth plays an entertainer in a Trinidad night club who sings that she does what she loves, and loves what she does. Murder and international intrigue enter her life when police link the death of her artist-husband to the conspiracy they suspect Alexander Scourby, man of mystery and trader in international secrets, is hatching on Trinidad. Into Rita's life, also, comes Glenn Ford, brother of the murder victim, who is suspicious of the girl and unaware that she is playing up to the suave Scourby only to learn for the police the secret of his mission on the island. Against this backdrop of brooding violence, the love affair between Rita and Glenn proceeds, as moody and as sultry as Trinidad's Calypso drums.

Easily the most glamorous star on the screen today, Miss Hayworth reportedly is as beautiful as ever while her abilities as an actress have, if anything, been deepened and improved by her absence. Ford, whose impassioned performances opposite Miss Hayworth in both "Gilda" and "The Loves of Carmen" helped make him one of the top stars of Hollywood, is said to be even more romantic in "Affair in Trinidad."

"Affair in Trinidad" bring three comparative newcomers to the screen: Alexander Scourby as the international figure responsible for murder; Valeria Bettis, the Broadway choreographer and dancer who appears in a dramatic role; and Torin Thatcher as the Trinidad crimehunter. Miss Bettis, in addition to acting in the film, created the exciting, exotic Calypso dance routines performed by Miss Hayworth.

Penned for the screen by Oscar Saul and James Gunn, "Affair in Trinidad" is a Beckworth Corporation Production, produced and directed by Vincent Sherman.

2 Ex-Monroyans Narrowly Escape

A recent near tragedy in New Orleans came close to snuffing out the lives of two former Monroe residents, who are now residing in the Crescent City.

Mrs. Ilda Lee Lambert, daughter of Mrs. Gertie Kelly, 714 Grammont, and her daughter, Joy, were given emergency oxygen treatment by members of the New Orleans police crash truck crew after chlorine gas backed into the building in which the two were living. The gas had been used earlier to clean out the sewer pipes. The two persons were forced to flee to the street with a number of other residents of the 4100 block of Canal Street when the gas began escaping. No serious injuries were sustained by any of the people.

Here's a good spread to serve with crackers and tomato juice for a first course. Mix finely chopped cooked shrimp with finely chopped cucumber and enough mayonnaise to moisten; season with salt and freshly - ground pepper.

It is estimated that between 1940 and 1950 U. S. population increased 15 per cent and church membership 34 per cent.

'The Crimson Pirate' 'Shot' In Mediterranean

Film players do not have an audience to stimulate them as do stage players, but they sometimes have a pretty good substitute.

This is the "audience" that screen players face when making a picture in a public place where spectators are free to gather and watch the emoting of the celluloid famous.

According to Burt Lancaster, this kind of audience is as critical as the theatre patrons and they can't be "played" to as acting is necessarily projected only to the camera.

"But you're conscious of the audience being there," said Lancaster, "and any actor is bound to get a lift out of that.

"When they laugh after I do a comedy scene or react the right way to a dramatic scene I am playing, that is as satisfying as if I had earned it in a theater.

"Remember they don't know the whole plot. They have seen only one little segment. Their approval means you have done the bit well enough to help them fill in the rest of the story from their imaginations."

Lancaster faced such an audience recently during filming of "The Crimson Pirate," Technicolor picture produced by Norma Productions for Warner Bros.

During four months of work in the ancient narrow streets and waterfront area of Ischia, a picturesque Mediterranean island near Italy, the star was almost constantly surrounded by eager and curious natives.

Eva Bartok, the leading lady, Nick Cravat, Margot Grahame and the other players rehearsed and then performed before hundreds, and sometimes a thousand or more spectators.

"Although I sometimes wished I were shooting inside a studio with no spectators to be concerned about," said Lancaster, "I really think those groups of interested faces behind the camera and along the sidelines at Ischia did have an encouraging effect on the actors and improved our performances."

"The Crimson Pirate," directed by Robert Siodmak, debuts locally at the Tem Theatre on Tuesday.

LETTER WRITING WEEK NOW HERE

Post Office Department Urges Public To Write To Loved Ones, Friends

The slogan this year for National Letter - Writing Week is, "Write Today to Those Away." We all have to be reminded. We shouldn't but we do. A million things seem more important at the moment. Yet, we know that in the long run there is nothing more important than keeping a warm, friendly, unbroken contact with those we love and are interested in. The greater the distance that separates us, the greater this necessity. National Letter - Writing Week is as good a time as we'll ever have to catch up on our correspondence. We may be ashamed of our neglect, but we can let this be an end of it. We can give many a stimulus to friendship, bring a smile to many a face, give ourselves that wonderful lift which comes from knowing we've at last licked a pesky procrastination. The responses we get will undoubtedly make us more than ever eager to stay active, to keep in touch, to make sure that we do not again cheat ourselves of the happiness that comes through letter-writing contacts.

A few words, spoken from the heart, can mean more to the recipient than the most expensive gift. Actually, the really priceless gift is the sharing of oneself. This sharing is a basic characteristic, a natural accompaniment, of letter-writing. Often it is possible to say easily in writing the sincere word of compliment or regard that comes hard in oral expression. But, on the other hand, if it doesn't "come easy"; if our written word is as clumsy and haltered as stammered speech, it can be even more important to those who care. Our willingness to do the hard thing, our proving that we think enough of them to spend time and effort in letting them know it, this can be a very precious knowledge to our friends and relatives.

October 12 through 18 is the special week for facing up to one duty which is, at the same time, a source of deep-rooted satisfaction. How about it! Let's "Write Today to Those Away."

UNITED STATES POLL

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 11.—In every section of the country—North, East, South, West — more than nine out of every 10 persons have heard of "flying saucers" and have opinions about them.

Princeton Research Service has completed the first nationwide poll on the subject of the phenomena, with interesting results. Its United States Poll staff reporters first asked a representative cross-section of the American public, "Have you heard or read anything about the so-called 'flying saucers'?" Ninety-four per cent responded in the affirmative.

Those who had heard or read of the phenomena were then asked, "What do you think the 'flying saucers' really are?" The response shows that six per cent of the people believe them to be space ships, Columbuses from other worlds, which is an explanation of them suggested by the authors of two popular books on "flying saucers." The breakdown of the poll responses:

Some kind of government experiment: Army, Navy, or Air Corps research; government testing of secret weapon, plane or guided missile. 13 per cent.

People's imagination: just seeing things; hallucinations; optical illusions. 11 per cent.

There aren't any: don't believe in them; they're a lot of foolishness. 7 per cent.

Something from another planet: they must be from another world; men from another planet, probably Mars; definitely space ships; interplanetary space ships. 6 per cent.

They're real: definitely something; they must be real if all those people saw them. 5 per cent.

They're light reflections. 4 per cent.

They're due to atmospheric conditions: weather changes cause them; something in the atmosphere. 4 per cent.

Something from Russia: sent over by Russians; Russians spying on us; Russian plane of some sort. 3 per cent.

Weather balloons: some kind of balloon. 2 per cent.

Other things. 6 per cent.

Don't know. 37 per cent.

Total 98 per cent.

Finally, all those who heard or read about the "flying saucers," were asked a third question, "What do you think the U. S. government should do about these so-called 'flying saucers'?"

Investigate them more thoroughly. 38 per cent.

Do nothing: let 'em fly; ignore them; forget about them; let 'em alone. 16 per cent.

Continue its present policy: what it's doing is all right. 9 per cent.

Tell us what they are doing: bring out the facts; government should explain to people what they really are. 8 per cent.

What can they do?: can't do anything; nothing they can do right now. 6 per cent.

Keep them secret: keep the present secret if they're ours; keep it secret if it's an experiment. 3 per cent.

They know what they are: the government is probably responsible for them. 2 per cent.

Other suggestions. 10 per cent.

Don't know. 10 per cent.

Total 102 per cent.

Percentages add to more than 94 because some people mentioned more than one idea.

Following are some typical verbatim comments:

"Something the air force is trying out. They should tell the people about it instead of scaring them." Fairfield, Conn., housewife.

"I think it is some experiment of the government's. If they know, they should enlighten the American people about it." Crawfordsville, Ind., die-polisher.

"I think it's something the government got, and I think they ought to let people know what they are." Dayton, Ohio, bartender.

"It's probably some kind of experimental device from this country. They might just as well let the people know what we are doing." New York City, electronics engineer.

"It's just people seeing things. I believe the government knows what they are." Zanesville, Ohio, mould-maker.

"They're ships from another planet. The government should continue doing what they're doing." Haines City, Fla., cannery worker.

"It's a figment of the imagination, and I don't believe the government should do anything." Bristol, Tenn., schoolteacher.

"It's a lot of foolishness. The government should do nothing." Richmond, Ky., waitress.

"It's a government experiment." Richmond, Va., factory foreman.

"They're ships from another planet. The government should take necessary precautions." Green Island, Neb., housewife.

"They're atmospheric disturbances. They should investigate more thoroughly." San Francisco, college professor.

"This may sound fantastic, but I think they must be from some other world. Their investigations should be continued." Lafayette, La., businessman.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 11—Results of a United States Poll by Princeton Research Service show that neither major party has a majority of voters believing it will win the presidency in November.

Princeton Research Service staff reporters asked a representative cross - section of the nation's voters, "Regardless of your own personal preference, who do you think will win the presidential election this year — the Democrats or the Repubicans?", with the following result:

NATIONWIDE

Think Republicans will win, 43.2 per cent

Think Democrats will win, 39.8 per cent

No opinion, 17.0 per cent

A comparison of today's findings with those reported by the United States Poll on July 13 —(The survey was completed three days before the Republican convention in Chicago, and before either the Republican or Democratic presidential candidate was named) — showed the following: Think Democrats will win, 32 per cent; think Republicans will win, 54 per cent; no opinion, 14 per cent.

One highlight of today's survey findings is that three out of every 10 persons who say they would vote for Eisenhower if an election were held today, either lack confidence in his victory or won't express an opinion about the outcome of the election. Similarly, the same ratio of voters who say they'd vote for Stevenson in an election today, either do not foresee themselves on the winning side or do not express an opinion about it.

Here's how those who say they would vote for Eisenhower divided on the question of the winner this November:

Eisenhower Voters Only, Nation Wide

Think Republicans will win, 70 per cent

Think Democrats will win, 14 per cent

No opinion, 16 per cent.

A United States Poll report on Oct. 1, indicated Eisenhower supporters constituted 52 per cent of the nation's voters as of that date.

Stevenson Voters Only, Nationwide

Think Democrats will win, 71 per cent

Think Republicans will win, 14 per cent

No opinion, 15 per cent.

The Oct. 1 United States Poll report indicated these constituted 45 per cent of the nation's voters as of that date, wih 3 per cent in the "No opinion" category.

Perhaps the most interesting finding in today's survey is that in the 13 southern and border states, 73 per cent of all those who say they would vote for Eisenhower today look for an Eisenhower victory. Here's the result of the poll in those states:

South

(Va., Ga., N. C., S. C., Fla., Miss., Ala., La., Tenn., Ark., Ky., Tex., Okla.)

Eisenhower Voters Only

Think Republicans will win, 73 per cent

Think Democrats will win, 12 per cent

No opinion, 15 per cent

42.5 per cent of the southern vote, it was indicated by the Sept. 28 U. S. Poll report.

In Stevenson's case also, 73 per cent of those who say they would vote for him in an election today, foresee his victory. Here's the way it looks to southerners who favor the Democratic presidential candidate:

South

(Va., Ga., N. C., S. C., Fla., Miss., Ala., La., Tenn., Ark., Ky., Tex., Okla.)

Stevenson Voters Only

Think Democrats will win, 73 per cent

Think Republicans will win, 17 per cent

No opinion, 10 per cent.

55.5 per cent of the southern vote, it was indicated by the Sept. 28 U. S. Poll report.

Following are the results of the poll in other sections:

East and West Central States

(Ohio, Ill., Ind., Mich., Wis., Minn., Iowa, Mo., N. D., S. D., Neb., Kan.)

Eisenhower Voters Only

Think Republicans will win, 72 per cent

Think Democrats will win, 15 per cent

No opinion, 13 per cent

Stevenson Voters Only

Think Democrats will win, 65 per cent

Think Republicans will, 15 per cent

No opinion, 20 per cent

New England and Middle Atlantic States

(Me., N. H., Vt., Mass., R. I., Conn., N. Y., N. J., Penna., Del., Md., W. Va)

Eisenhower Voters Only

Think Republicans will win, 67 per cent

Think Democrats will win, 14 per cent

No opinion, 19 per cent

Stevenson Voters Only

Think Democrats will win, 76 per cent

Think Republicans will win, 11 per cent

No opinion, 13 per cent

Rocky Mountain-Pacific States

(Mont, Idaho., Colo., Utah, N. Mex., Nev., ariz., Wyo., Calif., Ore., Wash.)

Eisenhower Voters Only

Think Republicans will win, 64 per cent

Think Democrats will win, 17 per cent

No opinion, 19 per cent.

Stevenson Voters Only

Think Democrats will win, 76 per cent

Thinks Republicans will win, 10 per cent

No opinion, 14 per cent.

A new United States Poll report will appear in this newspaper on Wednesday.

PHI LAMBDA TAU SORORITY OPENS RUSH SEASON ACTIVITIES

The formal rush season at Northeast Louisiana State College begins Monday, Oct. 13 with a tea sponsored by Phi Lambda Tau sorority. This tea will be given at the Student Center of Northeast from the hours of 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. All coeds of Northeast have been given the opportunity to sign for registration if they so desire to take part in the rushing activities on the campus.

This year the sorority has adopted many plans in order to help the freshmen girls become better acquainted with the campus, teachers, and former students of the college. Some of these plans include social affairs such as dances, wiener roasts, hayride and coke parties.

Officers for this year are Mary Elizabeth Taylor, president; Dolores Stewart, first vice-president; Ann Thompson, second vice-president; Marjorie Rachal, secretary; and Margaret Pounds, treasurer. Sponsors are Miss Gertrude Sandrock and Miss Hazel Mitchell.

Plan All Your Hands Before Starting Play

When you begin to play a hand, you make some sort of plan; and, when the hand is not a laydown, you probably have to hope that a certain opponent holds a key card or that a certain suit breaks in a particular way.

The plan and your hopes may change as you continue to play the hand, and if your plan is a good one you don't have to hope for very much.

The point is illustrated in the hand shown today, played by Larry Hirsch, who would be a famous bridge expert if he didn't waste so much time attending to his business as a dress manufacturer.

Larry began by hoping that East held the king of clubs and that the suit would break 3-2. After a few plays he didn't care about the break of the clubs, but just hoped that East held the king. And after a few more plays he didn't care how the suit broke nor who held the king.

West opened the three of diamonds, and declarer ruffed. It was at this moment that he wanted East to have two or three clubs headed by the king.

Instead of barging ahead blindly on this assumption, Hirsch drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the top spades, and ruffed a spade in the dummy. This set up the ten of spades, so that declarer no longer needed a club break; he just needed two club tricks.

Declarer returned to his hand by ruffing dummy's remaining diamond and cashed the ten of spades, discarding a low club from dummy. And now it didn't matter who held the king of clubs, since declarer could be sure that East held a singleton club at most.

West had opened the three of diamonds, Hirsch remembered, which meant that West might have started with either four or five diamonds. (The lead was obviously fourth-best, and West might or might not have the deuce of diamonds as a fifth card in the suit.) Hence East had started with the rest of the diamond suit, either six or seven of them.

East had already followed to four spades and two trumps. Hence there was room in his hand for one club if he had only six diamonds; and for no clubs at all if he held seven diamonds.

After working this out, Hirsch led a low club from his hand, prepared to play low from the dummy. If East won the trick, he would have to give declarer a ruff and a discard. If West won the trick, he would then have to lead away from his king of clubs and give declarer a free finesse for the rest of the tricks.

A—Bid two spades. You are willing, and eager, to bid game opposite the sort of strength needed for a takeout double. This jump bid is forcing, assuming that your partner has not seriously overstated his strength with his double.

ST. MATTHEW'S WILL LEND COLOR

Pep Squad Prepared To Participate In Progress Week Events

St. Matthew's pep squad, the Matthuettes, are all ready to lend color, enthusiasm, and community spirit to the celebration of Progress Week in Monroe, on next Thursday, Oct. 16. Mrs. Raymond Sweet, girls' athletic director at the school, has the girls in full trim and form for their part in the civic parade on next Thursday. The The Matthuettes include Mona Lee Ticheli, Barbara Shroeder, Sylvia Danna, Patsy Boone, Connie Ticheli, Marietta Spatafora, Virginia Bee, Evelyn Ann Jernigan, Debbie Ann Hill, Pat Lynn, Irene Peptone, Miriam Biggar, Pat N. Danna, Evy Lee Ritter, Carol Ann Tonore, Boty Eberts, Rita Snider, Sue Turner, Betty Britt, Dorothy Chaplin, Anna Marie Danna, Carmen Gonzales, Mary Louise Varino, Veronica Danna, Rose Marie Maxey, Mary Ann Embanato, Betty Eberts, Mary Lewis, and Gay Tonore. Cheer leaders are Jo Ann Miller, Joan Norman, Beatrice Varino.

Classes in St. Matthew's High School were given time out this week to attend the movie of the Vatican shown at the Tem. This moving drama of the organization and the work of the church in its precincts of the seat of Christendom proved most instructive and inspirational to the students of both the high school and the elementary departments. The teachers of the various classes also attended the picture.

The Reverend Father Thomas of the Franciscan Order of Friars associated with St. Paschal's, West Monroe, addressed the St. Matthew's student body in the church on Friday last. His topic was the first in a series of vocation talks arranged for the high school students.

TECH MOURNING OVER TRAGEDY

Death Of Archie Ferguson Causes Despair; Cancel Football Frolics

RUSTON, Oct. 11 (Special)—Mourning pervaded Louisiana Tech Friday, with the campus flag flying at half-staff in tribute to the memory of Archie Gerald Ferguson of Hodge, a freshman at the college here, who was killed in a car wreck near Natchitoches early Thursday morning.

A large number of students and faculty members of Tech attended young Ferguson's funeral, which was held Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Hodge, with the Rev. J. E. Calloway and the Rev. John S. Hurt officiating. Interment was at the Antioch Cemetery. Survivors include the student's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ferguson, and a sister Bobbie Jeannette Ferguson.

Ferguson's death occurred when the car in which he was riding overturned on a sharp curve near Natchitoches. Ferguson and other Tech freshmen had been to Northwestern State College on a campus-painting escapade and were being chased by Natchitoches city police when the accident took place, it was reported to Tech officials here.

"We have done everything possible to stop the practice of campus painting by students prior to the annual Tech-Northwestern football game," the Tech president, R. L. Ropp, said in a statement here Friday.

"Dormitory rooms were checked at 10:25 p. m. Wednesday and the Tech freshmen went to Natchitoches without the knowledge of authorities," President Ropp declared.

"Although it is a terrific price to pay, it is my firm belief that this tragedy resulting in the death of one of our students will put an end to the painting and dummy stealing, once and for all.

"Following the death, we held a convocation of freshman boys at Robinson hall court," President Ropp continued. "Each freshman boy present made a solemn pledge, in memory of the Ferguson boy, that they would exert every effort to prevent others from making such painting trips to Northwestern.

"If a similar situation ever occurs again, it is likely to lead to cancellation of the traditional football game between Tech and Northwestern. I have explicit faith in the freshmen and believe they will carry out their pledge."

In connection with the fatal accident, President Ropp today called attention to a notice issued by his office on Sept. 27, 1951, reading as follows:

"Because of the grave danger involved, which could result in the serious injury to or death of an individual or individuals, officials of Louisiana Tech hereby announce that no pre-game visits to the campuses of other colleges are either condoned or authorized. Any Tech student making such a visit for the purpose of defacing property or creating other disturbances will do so at his own risk and will be subject to dismissal from the institution."

Tech officials and the Student Senate have decided to curtail all pre-game festivities connected with the game to be played at the State Fair in Shreveport on Oct. 18.

Reporter Says Eisenhower Leading Presidential Race

By CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—(Special)—General Eisenhower has taken a lead in the presidential race which, barring a shift in the present trend, will result in his election on November 4.

That is the opinion of this reporter, after a careful study and analysis of all available information, and it is supported by a consensus of opinion of a half dozen experienced political experts, several of whom hope that Gov. Stevenson will win.

The Republican nominee's progress has been steady since he announced back in March that he was available, according to a week by week check. It shows that the only marked dip in his climb occurred in June, after his Abilene, Kansas, speech, and that was erased by the last minute drive which brought about his nomination.

After his nomination, the Eisenhower cause seemed to lack momentum for a time, until even some of his earliest newspaper supporters began to chide him, but after his campaign got away to a rather lame start in the far west he picked up impetus, which could spark his previously lethargic party to victory.

Gov. Stevenson, in the meantime, has chosen to campaign on a high level and to pace his progress at a rate which would gradually gather momentum, like a snowball. In recent weeks that strategy seems to have been successful, but not to a degree sufficient to bring him abreast of Eisenhower, according to checks by impartial polls the country over.

The Republican nominee has overcome several handicaps which were apparent at the beginning of his campaign, chief of which was his restricted background. With a persuasiveness which evidently has swayed a large percentage of the electorate, a genial smile and an attractive personality, "Ike" appears to have diverted the minds of millions of voters in many states from the pressing question of how he would handle the nation's highest office in a type of operation with which he is totally unfamiliar. He seems to have convinced enough voters that he can do what he promises to assure him, at this writing, of enough electoral votes to win.

That does not seem to be true in all sections of the country. His chances to carry two or three southern states are not as bright as they seemed three weeks ago, reports from many sources seem to indicate. His tour of the far northwest did not seem to create the enthusiasm anticipated, chiefly because he apparently failed to grasp the importance of the public power issue in that section. The states of Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Montana have only 23 electoral votes between them, but Washington and Montana have vital senate seats at stake, which might spell the difference between Democratic and Republican senate control. Nevertheless the general seems to be ahead in Oregon and Idaho.

An increase in registration in most districts, varying from 25 to 10 per cent, should be in the general's favor, on the theory that a big registration usually bodes ill for the party in power. This year it is encouraging to Eisenhower because up till now, the majority of the country's registered vote has been Democratic, 28,000,000 to 23,000,000 Republican, and politicians have been saying that he must get a majority of the independent votes to win. A big registration ordinarily means many fresh votes of independent record, likely to be a factor in Eisenhower's favor.

Widely heralded has been a test vote in Vanderburgh, county, Ind. which for 50 years has been a bellwether, with vote totals off only 3 per cent, on the average, from national percentages for each party. The local Evansville, Ind. Press conducted a postcard poll which gave Eisenhower 68.5 per cent and Stevenson 31.5 per cent. This is cited as an example from many polls which give the Republican nominee an advantage startling at this stage of the game.

For what it's worth, be prepared for a change in party control of the United States government.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. I receive thousands of letters from confused young people. Dr. Clifford Adams, Director of the Marriage Clinic of Pennsylvania State College, has found that about two out of five college girls are not sure whether it is love or infatuation. Fortunately our new booklet, "How To Pick A Mate" (condensed from Dr. Adams' book of that name) has many tests for you and your prospective mate. One test tells whether it is infatuation or love. Booklet sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, according to Raymond Mulligan, partly due to the enormous increase in the number of college graduates and the resulting competition. Since 1870, our population has trebled but the number of college students has increased 30 times! Some studies indicate a college education is not considered of much value in the "upper classes" either for knowledge or social advancement! Where are we going?

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Probably, on the average. Psychologist Charles Lehman compared the IQs and bodily traits of teen-age pupils who scored above and below average on Music Tests. The "talented" pupils averaged slightly higher IQs, greater finger and wrist motility, better hearing, higher metabolism, higher blood pressure. The differences were not very great and were only you doubtless must have a pretty high IQ.

How to Pick A Mate

This booklet, a condensation of the famous book of the same name by Dr. Clifford Adams, noted psychologist and marriage counselor, includes many practical tests for you and your prospective husband or wife—tests of personality, emotional maturity, and love as distinguished from infatuation.

To increase your chance of marriage success and happiness, write to Dr A. E. Wiggam in care of this newspaper, requesting a copy of How to Pick a Mate. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents (in coin only).

NOTEBOOK

NEW YORK (AP)—The world will no longer beat a path to the door of the man who makes a better mousetrap.

The world is too busy. The man wants to peddle a better mousetrap now has to give it an alluring shape, an attractive color a catchy name. He has to make it so irresistible that a housewife, on seeing it, says to herself:

"I have to have that very mousetrap or die. My life won't be complete without it."

For in this supermarket era in which clerks act merely as change makers a product has to be its own silent salesman — it has to sell itself to the customers by the way it feels or the eye appeal of its package.

This has given rise to a little-known but highly important figure in modern sales engineering — the industrial designer. One of the most successful is a young army veteran who supervised the modification of the B-29 airplane that dropped the atom bomb on Hiroshima.

At 32 Gerald Stahl is head of one of the nation's top industrial designing firms, and all but two women on his staff of 13 are war veterans.

"We are a new breed in a new field," he said. "Industrial designing as a specialized profession is only about 30 years old. But already it is turning from an art into a science.

"We are trained now not only to think in terms of styling, but how a product should look and feel, how it can be made more cheaply and how it can steadily be improved. That requires a knowledge of psychology, color dynamics, market research and sales promotion techniques."

This fight for the housewife's dollar has become so competitive, Stahl said, that "There isn't a major manufacturing firm today that doesn't use an industrial designer either on its staff or on a retainer basis.

"There has been a real revolution in this respect in the last quarter century."

A housewife shopping in a supermarket usually doesn't know why she selects one package of rice from a shelf containing a half dozen brands. The reason is usually subconscious, and it is up to the industrial designer to know her own mind better than she does herself.

"A large percentage of sales now are impulse sales," Stahl said. "The product that catches their eye is the one they buy. The package that is the greatest attention-getter is the one she puts in her market basket."

Red, Orange, and yellow have been found to be the best eye-grabbing colors. Greens and blues are fine for feminine cosmetics products. They convey a feeling of coolness. But purple, black and muddy reds repel, because they are associated with death.

"You'd never put a hand soap in a black or purple package if you wanted mass appeal," said Stahl. "And the industrial designer aims at Main Street not Fifth Avenue."

Stahl started dreaming of his own firm in war days as engineering officer in charge of the project to refit the B-29 so it could bandle the first huge A-bombs.

"I didn't want to work for anyone else," he said. "I wanted to sink or swim on my own."

His firm, one of only about two dozen in the country, has always had more business than he could handle. He has designed dozens of new products, ranging from safety razors and ice cream dispensers to automatic washing machines and portable refrigerators.

His wartime knowledge helped in turning out a new line of futuristic toys of tomorrow — including jet cars, interplanetary rockets, ray guns and space ships.

"It was a lot of fun," he said. "Our job was to forecast in terms of toys what the world of the year 2,000 would be like.

"It was purely blue sky stuff—out of our own heads, as ordinarily we are strictly feet-on-the-ground designers. But it looks like the world is already catching up with our toys."

RILEY REST HOME PROVES REFUGE

Many Aged Persons Find Care And Attention At This Place

By OTIS HASSELL

WINNSBORO, Oct. 12. — (Special)— On the Lone Cedar road two miles Northwest of Winnsboro is the Riley Rest Home. At first glance this gleaming white building, located on top of a knoll on the spacious grounds of the Riley farm, would seem to be just like any other well kept Rest Home for the aged and infirm. But there is a difference here, and the important element that sets this home up above others in its class is Mrs. W. C. Riley, owner and supervisor. Mrs. Riley is a smiling woman with a natural smile and a sunny disposition. She not only provides her beloved "old people" with the shelter, good beds, wholesome food and general nursing care they have a right to expect in a home of this sort; she takes a personal interest in their welfare and is always doing the thousand-and-one extra little things to keep them happy, contented and comfortable.

Twice during a life time, we are forced to depend upon others for our care and well-being; when we are very young and when we are very old. Elderly people who are spending the evening of their lives at the Riley Rest Home, are fortunate indeed. No one who has lived at the Riley home wants to leave, and people are there from Monroe, Lake Providence, Newellton, St. Joseph, Plain Dealing, and other points from all over the state of Louisiana.

The home adjoins the Riley residence and is a two-story frame building with room on the ground floor to care for 65 people. There is a large reception room in the center in which the people may read, write, or just sit and talk. Religious services are held in the reception room each Sunday afternoon, with different churches in the locality taking turns being in charge of the services. The nurses dormitory is located on the second floor. The building has been approved by Mr. Clarence Johnson, fire chief for the state of Louisiana, and the Home has been licensed by the state.

The state of Louisiana has an old age pension plan and a welfare department which helps people in need. Persons eligible for aid from the state welfare department and with no relatives or friends to look after them may enter the Riley Rest Home or a simular home and the welfare department mails them a check each month. They in turn pay Mrs. Riley a certain stipulated amount for their room, board and general nursing. The rest of the money is their own to spend as they wish. Out of this amount they buy their clothes, medicine, pay doctor bils, etc.

There are 45 persons being cared for at the Riley Rest Home now. Their ages range from 33 to 98, and 25 of them are either bed or wheel chair patients.

Individuals who are able to pay their own way may, and do enter the home. Their method of payment is the same as the welfare clients; the only difference being that they use their own money instead of using money given to them by the state.

The home is operated on a hospital plan, with visiting hours being 2 to 4, Wednesday and Sunday afternoons. Assisting Mrs. Riley in the care of these lovable "old people" are her husband, Mr. W. C. Riley, seven practical nurses, and two registered nurses. The registered nurses are Miss Gladys Pearson and Mrs. Liza Hamilton. The practical nurses are: Miss Betty Hawsey, Mrs. Velta Brodes, Mrs. Maggie Searcy, Mrs. Mary Dixon, Mrs. Cindy Carter, Mrs. Adell Wilson and Mrs. Alma McVey. In charge of preparation of the wholesome nourishing food for the big 45 member family is Mrs. Bertha Thomas and Mrs. Bobby Hawthorne.

Mrs. Riley said she would never be able to thank the local doctors, friends and neighbors enough for the many things they are doing to help make her rest home a success. Gifts and clothing have been presented to people who were in destitute condition when they entered the home. Refreshments have been served the entire group on Sunday afternoons by organizations and individuals.

Not long ago an 87 year-old-man, ill, and with no money, friends or relatives, applied for entrance to the home. Mrs. Riley took him in and the welfare department was to start his check at the end of the month. But he passed away in only nine days and Mrs. Riley said the other people in the home offered to pay what they could toward his funeral expenses. This was not necessary however; Mulhearn Funeral Home of Winnsboro took charge of all arrangements and furnished a casket and flowers free of charge. Services were held at the Mulhearn Funeral Chapel, with Rev. W. H. Bengtson, pastor of Winnsboro First Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in a Winnsboro cemetary. Besides nursing the aged man through his last illness without receiving any pay, Mrs. Riley also paid his medicine and doctor bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley have two children, a boy and a girl. Larry is 11 and says he is going to be a doctor. Darline is 9 and plans to be a nurse. The children and the people in the home are great pals. Mrs. Riley explained, "it is just like my children having a whole bunch of grandparents."

In regard to her work Mrs. Riley said, "I love this work. I have always loved old people. I wanted to be a nurse, but I never thought I would ever operate a home like this." She gradually grew into the career of operating a rest home because of her love for old people. It was on October, 15, 1943, that Mrs. Nancy "Aunt Nan" McCurley —age unknown and with no relatives—came to live with Mrs. Riley. Aunt Nan was getting a welfare check and used this to pay her way. The welfare department later sent five other people for Mrs. Riley to keep in her home. Then Mrs. Riley added more rooms to her home and kept ten people. She then received so many calls from people wanting her to keep them, that she and Mr. Riley built a new home to live in, and used the old home exclusively for the old people. Later on it became evident that this building was not large enough for the people who needed and wanted care. So a new addition to the old home was constructed and Mrs. Riley now has room to care for 65 people at one time. Aunt Nan McCurley is still with Mrs. Riley, and a few days ago when she had to stay in bed a day and take some medicine, was the first time Aunt Nan had been ill during her nine year stay at the Riley home.

We often hear of the milk of human kindness but I did not know before, that a person, even a nice friendly person like Mrs. W. C. Riley, could by her acts and deeds of thoughtfulness and kindness, spread so much happiness among so many people who are, all too often, forgotten or put aside in this swift moving world of ours.

HARRY HALL TO BE WITH KING

Exchange Club Presenting Waltz King To Aid Youth Activities

One of the stars of the Wayne King concert that is certain to receive warm and cordial welcome, will be young Harry Hall, featured singer with the Waltz King for more than four years. Harry Hall will be remembered as the lad with a voice as handsome and appealing as his personality!

Born in Milwaukee, Harry has been singing in public since he was 12 years old, when he won the Morris B. Sachs Amateur Hour in Chicago. Harry also took the leading role in his high school's annual plays and musicals.

Following graduation from high school, Harry attended the University of Wisconsin, where he studied to be a pharmacist, and sang in the leading nightclubs around Milwaukee. Shortly after his release from the United States Navy, Harry won an Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout contest in New York City. This first prize gave Harry an opportunity to appear three more times on the regular Arthur Godfrey morning broadcast. On the third day, the ovation was so great, Arthur Godfrey was forced to assure his audiences that he would hold young Harry over for a fourth day!

From this appearance came an invitation to appear regularly on the Don McNeill Breakfast Club in Chicago and also on an ABC radio-television show with disc jockey Eddie Hubbard in Chicago.

While appearing on these shows he received an offer to take a leading role with the Sherman Marks famous "Salute to Cole Porter" that was playing nightly to crowds that were jamming the famous College Inn in Chicago's Hotel Sherman.

It was here that Wayne King heard and saw Harry Hall, and immediately began negotiations for the handsome, but shy lad, to sing with his orchestra on a personal appearance tour of "pop" concerts that took them into 42 major cities in the midwest.

Wayne King and his orchestra will appear in Monroe Tuesday night, under the sponsorship of the Exchange Club. While in Monroe the orchestra leader and members of his band will be guests of the Virginia Hotel.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Cud T. Baird, manager of the Monroe State Employment Service Office, furnished me the page ad of your October 5 copy, promoting employment of the physically handicapped. Having been associated with this movement for quite a number of years has presented me with the opportunity of observing many fine news stories, human interest stories and newspaper ads. However, the Monroe Morning World is to be commended as having presented the most concise, enlightening and attractive ad that has come to my attention. Consequently, you are to be commended for this community service and congratulated for the ability exhibited in the set-up.

Sincerely,

Editors—
Monroe Morning World and News-Star,
Monroe, La.
Dear Sirs:

I was gratified to read in the Washington, D. C. Sunday Star, October 5th that your papers would support General Eisenhower for president. I am so glad that the Red, White and Blue Democrats of the south are still vocal.

I can understand your principles and speak your language, for I am a daughter of the south. And so I am sending you my battle cry for the 1952 presidential election.

We know "If a trumpet giveth an uncertain sound who can prepare himself to battle." (1st Corinthians.)

Battle Cry!

Patriotism above party, principle above politics, protective preparedness promotes peace, prosperity, and progress.

Away with —

Collusion, corruption, and communism. Be courageous, be confident, work and win! !

Slogan —

"Get the Reds out of America, and get America out of the Red!"

I hope your papers will be a channel for The Battle Cry.

Cordially and Sincerely,
Mrs. Lucia Ramsey Maxwell.

FASHION LIKES ANGORA FUZZES

Pastel Pinks, Blues, Yellows And Beige Are Featured Here

Angora has caused a fuzz in the fall fashion field. Your favorite shop will feature angora boleros and sweaters, sleeveless or with full length sleeves; scarfs and triangular kerchiefs to give a soft flattering warmth to the neckline; 100 per cent angora stoles, and wool stoles trimmed with angora for that luxurious feel; jersey blouses and matching flannel skirts with angora added for interest wool chenille dresses decorated with bands of angora; matching glove and scarf sets trimmed in angora; suede gloves and antelope gloves topped with angora cuffs. And it will even crown your hair—you may choose from many styles: the cloche, the pillbox or the new profile hats.

No longer is angora confined to pure white. Along with pastel blues, pinks, yellows and beige, there will be strong reds and blues.

The National Institute of Cleaning and Dyeing tells us that angora accessories, or garments trimmed with angora must definitely be placed in the luxury class. They need special handling in drycleaning — in fact, they must be cleaned by hand to retain that soft feel. And do you know why?

Angora comes from the Angora rabbit. It is the longest and softest of the fur fibers. It is an expensive fiber. Because of the physical structure of the guard hair and the fur fiber, it will felt — that is, become harsh and hard — with the slightest mechanical action in cleaning. That is why it must be cleaned by hand. For this reason you may find that the cleaning charge is slightly higher than for a regular garment.

To get the best satisfaction from your angora garments or accessories, entrust them to your cleaner for cleaning.

It's Your Deal

Try To Spice Up Poker Game

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service

"Would you please settle a poker argument for me?" writes a New Jersey correspondent.

"The following hand of seven-card stud produced several arguments.

"The first two cards were dealt down, and the third up as usual. After the first round of betting, one of the players turned up one of his down cards, which was a deuce, and asked for his next card to be dealt down, instead of face up.

"As this was a friendly game among neighbors, no objections were raised at the time. The dealer, though, turned his fourth card up, which made his cards high on the board with a pair of tens. He now had three face cards to the other players' two and one down card to two for the rest of the players.

"The fifth card was also turned face up for him as for the others, giving him three tens showing, keeping his hand high on the board. The sixth card was finally dealt down for him and the hand was completed.

"The following questions arose during and after the deal:

"1. We realize that there are hundreds of variations used by different groups of players. In this game, no rule was made at the start, allowing a player to expose a deuce in order to get a better card to replace it. Is there such a rule in official poker, allowing a player to do this?

"2. Having the high hand on the board, with one more faced up card than the other players, is he entitled to open the betting, or must he pass to the man on his left?

"3. The betting was five chips and ten chips. If he is allowed to open the betting, can he bet the ten chips if there are no other open pairs?

"4. If he is compelled to pass, can he raise on his turn to bet, or must he just call, if some other player opens the betting?"

In ordinary seven-card stud a player is not permitted to turn up a hole card in order to get a different hole card. There are, however, some variations of poker in which a player is allowed to do this.

Since nobody objected at the time, the only fair course was to proceed as though you were playing one of the variations in which a player is permitted to turn up a hole card and get a different down card.

It was very careless of the dealer to turn up the fifth card and the sixth card instead of giving the player a down card at the first possible opportunity. The dealer cannot be severely criticized, however, since it is evident that he was not used to the idea of dealing one card down and all the other cards up.

The player who had the extra card face up was entitled to all of the advantages and the disadvantages resulting from the cards that were exposed. Since his hand was actually high, he was required to open the betting. Since he had an open pair he was entitled to bet ten chips.

Incidentally, we recommend this type of game to those poker players who are looking for a variation to spice up the game. After each round of betting any player may expose a hole card and request that the next card be dealt down instead of up. Some very intersting betting and psychological situations develop when this is permitted.

VOTERS' GUIDE OFFERED PUBLIC

Booklet Is Prepared By Louisiana Public Affairs Research Council

"Voter's Guide to the Amendments," a Public Affairs Research Council guidebook, came off the press this week-end with more than 4,000 advance orders for the booklet already waiting at PAR's Baton Rouge offices.

The booklet, which gives an impartial, 48-page analysis of the 34 proposed amendments to Louisiana's constitution, also will be sent to council members, editors, teachers, librarians, radio news directors and public officials. PAR's regular mailing added to individual orders which are coming in at the rate of about 800 a day indicates that the first printing of 10,000 copies of the booklet will be exhausted by tomorrow.

Orders have come from chambers of commerce, labor organizations, and labor industries, as well as from individuals in cities ranging in sizes from Shreveport, Baton Rouge and New Orleans to Reserve, Waterproof and Marion. One Louisiana citizen, Mrs. H. R. Rose, who is casting an absentee ballot this year, had ordered a copy of the booklet from San Francisco.

The third of PAR's citizen handbooks, "Voter's Guide to the Amendments", is pocket-sized and designed to be read and understood in one hour. The booklet contains an introduction discussing general problems of the amending process in Louisiana, a section on basic policy amendments and a section on the other amendments which do not concern the basic governmental policy of the state.

Copies, which are available to the public at below the cost of printing and mailing, may be ordered from Box 927 in Baton Rouge. One to 49 copies are ten cents each; 50 to 99, nine cents each, and 100 or more, eight cents each.

The first heavyweight championship fight to be broadcast, the Dempsey-Carpentier battle on July 2, 1921, was carried by one station operating on 1,600 meters.

LOBLOLLY PINE CONES SOUGHT

One Family Makes $40 In Few Hours Gathering Tree Seeds

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 11.—(Special)—There is a need for special assistance from landowners and other interested parties in gathering large supplies of loblolly pine cones, James H. Kitchens, Jr., executive secretary of the Louisiana Forestry Association said today.

"More than 40,000 bushels of pine cones are needed by the forest commission to extract seeds for the state nurseries," Kitchens said. "This great supply is needed in order to fill the increasing orders resulting from our efforts to bring complete reforestation to Louisiana in 15 years. We cannot have reforestation unless we can provide seedlings. And we cannot provide seedlings to landowners over the state unless we first get a sufficient quantity of cones which contain pine seeds."

John Carroll, Eunice, is under contract with the state forest commission to gather cones to supply the state nurseries. Carroll points out that the most urgent need is for loblolly pine cones and appeals to citizens of north Louisiana to assist him in gathering these cones.

"This is the season to gather cones," said Carroll. "The best procedure is to follow behind logging crews, for most of the cones are on the tops left by the men. If the cones are gathered soon enough after logging, they will provide seed for the nurseries. Anyone interested in gathering cones may contact their nearest contractors, most of whom pay spot cash for cone harvests."

Contractors for cone harvests in north Louisiana are Carl Bohn, Box 110, Tel. 1381, Mansfield, La.; John White, Rt. 3, Bernice, La.; Jim Ed Dean, Rt. 1, Marion, La.; W. W. Ellis, Rt. 3, Marion, La.; E. R. Andrulot, Rt. 3, Bastrop, La.; J. G. Flowers, Rt. 2, Dubach, La.

"One family in Springhill earned more than $40 in a few hours," said Carroll. "This is a good way to make quick money and at the same time help your state forestry program."

The period for collecting cones extends into the second week of November. Cones are ripe now, and should be gathered as soon as possible, Carroll said.

"Land owners who are members of the Louisiana Forestry Association are cooperating in this emergency by allowing atherers on their property," said Kitchens.

The Louisiana Forestry Association is a non-political, non-profit organization composed of men fighting the cause of forestry on the principle of free enterprise.

TECH CONCERT DRIVE EXTENDED

Because of conflicts with other drives, the annual membership drive of the Louisiana Tech Concert Association has been extended through October 14. Among unusual numbers scheduled on the L. T. C. A. series are the French virtuoso of the Cello, Marcel Hubert in joint concert with the vivacious American soprano, Suzanne der Derian; Claire Coci, popular American organist; the "mental wizard," Dr. Franz Polgar; the celebrated St. Louis Symphony Orchestra of 92 pieces; the 50 member group "American Savoyards", presenting Gilbert & Sullivan at its best; the British actor, Emlyn Williams in his Broadway success "Charles Dickens," and the much-talked-about "John Brown's Body" done by a Hollywood company of 22 featuring Tyrone Power, Raymond Massey and Judith Anderson and directed by Charles Laughton.

As in the past, the L. T. C. A. will add another number or two if its budget permits. Since "John Brown's Body," as scheduled at present, will appear at no other place in Louisiana than in the Tech series, those interested in an opportunity to enjoy this and all other numbers on the L. T. C. A. series may write directly to Louisiana Tech Concert Association, music department, Ruston, unless a local solicitor is known and available. Membership for the entire season is only $6.10, or $9.15 for those who wish reserved seat membership.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Develop a graceful walk.

Do You Jump, Waddle? Learn To Walk Correctly

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Smooth, flowing motion is always attractive while choppy movement is awkward. This is true whether you are dancing or walking, going upstairs or coming down, sitting down in a chair or getting up out of one, or just fanning yourself.

The way we move has such a great impact of the impression we give that stars of the stage and screen are trained carefully in this matter. Women in every day life often fail to realize how important their carriage and walk are in the picture of charm they wish to create.

It is impossible to move about gracefully unless you have good muscle tone and coordination and well oiled joints. Exercise will do all three for you. The woman who indulges in regular exercise is always recognizable by the aliveness, control and grace of her movements.

The Jumpy Type

If you will observe the manner in which different people walk you will see certain types over and over again. There is the individual who walks in a jumjy manner as though on springs. These persons usually hyperextend their knees at the end of each step. Keep the knees relaxed.

Then there is the one who waddles from side to side. This one transfers her weight from side to side as she moves forward, without experiencing the feeling of reaching forward from the hips. She does not place one foot in front of the other.

Then we see the individual who looks as though he is all unstrung. His arms and legs seem to fly in every direction. I call this the "frantic walk" and wouldn't be surprised to see an arm or leg fly off into space. Poor posture usually accompanies this walk. The body is out of control and the feet are not placed in a straight line, one in front of the other.

How To Walk Gracefully

Here you have rules for developing a graceful walk:

1. Reach forward from the hips. When practicing, take longer steps than normal in order to get that feeling of smoothness and glide in your walk. Practice this over and over again. Then gradually shorten your steps but keep the flow.

2. Place one foot directly in front of the other as though you were walking a chalk line.

3. Keep the knees relaxed.

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: Would you tell me how I may be able to help my brother right a wrong he committed? Two months ago he wrote his steady girl and told her he no longer cared and felt they were not suited to each other. She accepted his decision and answered cordially, wishing him success in whatever he might undertake.

A week ago he went to see her and found she had married. It made him realize that he did love her and that they could not throw away the four years of steady company. My brother is willing to do anything to make it up to her, but fears he no longer has the right. However, I feel that it is wrong for her to stay with her husband, knowing she cannot love two, and she is doing him an injustice. She only married because she was hurt. If she gave my brother another chance, I am sure they would have a beautiful marriage.

L. D.

ANSWER: While appreciating and admiring your determination to help your brother find happiness, I most earnestly deplore your methods of doing so. First of all, you are taking a lot for granted in assuming that the girl, whom I shall call Lois, is still in love with your brother. He treated her most shabbily and there is no reason for you to suspect that she married only from pique.

WHAT ABOUT HER HUSBAND?

However, even assuming that such is the case, your brother has no right now to change his mind about the girl and try to break up her marriage. There is a husband involved, too, don't forget! His role is somewhat more important than that of an innocent bystander. He married Lois in good faith, and is certainly entitled to something more than a quick dismissal because an errant suitor returns to the scene.

Your brother cannot right one wrong by committing another. He treated Lois shabbily once, and there is certainly no guarantee that he wouldn't do it again if he had the chance.

The best way brother can right this situation is to stay away from Lois entirely. He should give the girl a chance to find her own happiness and he, in turn, should go about rebuilding his life, with a little more consideration for others.

DEAR MISS DIX: Six years ago, at the age of 34, I fell deeply in love with a man my own age. We were very good friends until a year ago, when he met another lady and fell in love with her. He has been seeing both of us during the past year. I am still true to him. He claims he doesn't know which of us he loves. Do you think he might get tired of this other woman if I'm patient?

WORRIED

ANSWER: It seems to me you have wasted several years in futile waiting; why prolong your misery? If the man was seriously interested in you, he wouldn't take up six years of your life without even mentioning marriage. That's proof enough that his tactics are those of a man who will not be pinned down to responsibility. The new lady-love will go through the same experience you are suffering unless she has sufficient strength of character to overcome his weaknesses in that department. Patience is not the answer in your case. Straighten your backbone and get away from him.

DEAR MISS DIX: At 16, I have a crush on a boy 18, who, however, looks and acts more like 17 or 18. My parents won't let me go with him just because of this age difference. Otherwise they like him a lot and both families are on very good terms.

M. A. R.

ANSWER: Since, in all respects, the boy is so nice, age shouldn't make much difference. You have a very sensible outlook on the situation, anyway, and I think your parents can trust your judgment.

DOROTHY DIX answers a question that comes up in every girl's home in leaflet D-15, "What Age for Dating?" To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper.

A SWEET WASH IS A CLEAN WASH

sweeter than any soap, any other detergent ... clean clear through!

New! Improved All-Purpose Detergent

for a cleaner-sweeter-smelling wash

Try a wash with Surf

Surf washes everything cleaner-sweeter-smelling. That's because Surf does more for you—not only gets out all the dirt you can see in clothes, but gets out the hidden dirt, soap scum and odors, too, that other products leave in.

Smell the sweet, clean difference

Because new Surf's improved sweet-cleaning action gets out that deep-down dirt, too, you can smell how clean your clothes are. Your sparkling white, bright wash has that wonderful sweet-clean smell you get only with Surf.

Compare the results

Yes, compare the sweet-clean smell of your Surf wash with anything in your linen closet that was washed with the product you used before. The look, the feel, the sweet-clean smell of your Surf-washed clothes is your proof your clothes are clean clear through.

Banishes dishwashing odors

In your dishpan, too, new All-Purpose Surf's sweet-cleaning action cuts grease as no soap can—banishes dishpan odors. Dishes, glassware, stickiest pots and pans come sparkling clean in a jiffy. No scouring, no wiping needed. No greasy dishpan ring. And All-Purpose Surf's new formula is kinder than ever to hands.

Unconditional guarantee!

The makers of All-Purpose Surf—Lever Brothers Company—guarantee you the sweetest wash you've ever had—regardless of the product you now use—or your money refunded.

®FLASH GORDON by Mac Raboy and Don Moore

TRAPPED WHEN THE SEALED SPACE SPHERE CRASHES INTO THE SEA ON THE PLANET VENUS, DALE HAS A MOMENT'S PANIC AS SHE REALIZES THEIR SHIP IS SINKING IN THE STRANGE, OILY MORASS THAT SURROUNDS THEM.

USING THE FLAME-GUN AS A TORCH, FLASH HASTILY CARVES A SECTION OUT OF THE SHIP'S HULL. "WE'LL MAKE SOME PADDLES TOO," HE SAYS, "AND IF THIS SECTION WILL FLOAT WE'LL USE IT AS A LIFE RAFT AND ROW ASHORE."

THEY BARELY LAUNCH THEIR MAKESHIFT BOAT BEFORE THE SPACE-SHIP SINKS, BUT THEIR PADDLING MAKES LITTLE HEADWAY IN THE QUEER, CLINGING LIQUID. "IT ISN'T WATER -- MORE LIKE MELTED RUBBER OR SOME SILICON OIL," ZARKOV SAYS. "DON'T FALL OVERBOARD. WE COULDN'T SWIM IN THIS STICKY STUFF."

SUDDENLY THEY DISCOVER WHAT KIND OF CREATURES CAN SWIM IN A VENUSIAN SEA. SURFACING NEAR-BY, A SWARM OF OF FISH-MEN HEAD FOR THE CASTAWAYS IN AN OBVIOUS ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE THEM. "DON'T LET THEM GET US, FLASH!" DALE GASPS IN SPITE OF HERSELF.

HOPING TO FRIGHTEN OFF THE PLANET'S STRANGE, HOSTILE NATIVES, FLASH FIRES A WARNING SHOT WITH HIS FLAME-GUN. WHEN THE FIREBOLT HITS THE SILICON SEA, THE EXPLOSION ROCKS HIS LITTLE SHIP, NEARLY DUMPING HIM OVERBOARD.

"HANG ON, EVERYBODY!" FLASH WARNS AS HE BRACES THE FLAME-GUN AGAINST THE STERN OF THE BOAT AND THEN TURNS ON THE HEAT. THE CHEMICAL SEA BOILS BEHIND THEM AS THE JET-PROPELLED CRAFT LEAPS OVER THE SURFACE LIKE A SKIPPING STONE!

FAB
WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP
FAB

IT'S AMAZING — BUT TRUE! New Fab washes whiter without bleaching! Whiter than any soap or any other washing product known with bleach in the wash water. Yes, with Fab you can actually stop bleaching—except for stubborn stains. And, remember, freshly-rinsed Fab clothes are cleaner than you can get them with any soap because Fab washes out dirt and leaves no dulling soap scum!

IF YOU PREFER NOT TO RINSE, Fab gives you the cleanest possible, sweetest-smelling no-rinse wash!

SAVE CLOTHES! New Fab alone washes so dazzling white you don't need to bleach! Clothes last longer with no bleach to harm fabrics or fade pretty washable colors.

SAVE WORK! Fab immediately loosens dirt; keeps it floating in the wash water. No soaking needed! No dulling soap scum to rinse out — even in hardest water.

SAVE HANDS! New Fab is wonderfully mild to hands ...safe for baby's clothes. And Fab is kind to your own pretty washables! Get the economical GIANT SIZE.

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF! Fab soaks dishes, glasses, pans shiny clean! If a food speck clings, the dishcloth whisks it off. Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean. No hard scouring! No wiping!
